Lexington Tops Party Set

The weight-losing TOPS of Lexington are having a Christmas tree ornament contest. Each member has contributed several tree ornaments—and for the next several meetings at the Lexington City Building those who lose poundage will get to select ornaments to put on their family trees.

Methodists Welcome New Bishop Tuell

Eight members of the Heppner United Methodist Church were in Pendleton to meet with and to welcome Bishop and Mrs. Jack Tuell who made their initial visit to this area last week.

Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Cutting had met with Bishop and Mrs. Tuell and other area clergy men at Hermiston for luncheon. Dinner at the Pendleton church was attended by church officials from Milton-Freewater, Weston, Pendleton, Hermiston, Echo and Heppner. A speaker from each congregation told of the state of that church. Mrs. Bill Weatherford reported for Heppner.

After dinner Herman Green, Pearl Wright, Sylvia McDaniel, Ida Farra and Craig Cutting joined the church members who welcomed the bishop in a worship service upstairs in the sanctuary. Rev. Cutting read the evening's scripture. The bishop reported on the Western Jurisdictional Conference held Klein, who is the State president of the W.M.C.S., spoke of her recent trip to Arizona, where she visited the Indian villages and churches. Many handwork items were on display, showing what can be done in the way of gifts for "adopted missionaries". Mrs. Klein also showed how to make attractive Christmas decorations.

A food and gift shower was received and distributed to pastors of home mission churches of the area.

Women attended the meeting from Pendleton, Pilot Rock, Weston, Milton-Freewater, Heppner, Irrigon, Umatilla and Hermiston. A salad luncheon was served by the local W.M.C.S.

Pastor and Mrs. Wesley Cronk and 23 young people from the Irrigon Assembly of God Church attended the Heppner Assembly of God Church, where the "Good News Singers", presented gospel music at the youth rally, Thursday night. On Friday night the group traveled to Pendleton to attend a revival meeting at the Assembly of God, there. They traveled to both meetings in the Sunday School bus.

A Christmas party featuring low-calorie salads and a gift exchange will be held on Monday, December 18 at the Weatherford parsonage. This day-time club is happy to have Mrs. R. B. Cogburn as a new member and Mrs. Eva Griffith as a return member.

T.V. Star Joins Bookworm Club

"As The World Turns" personality Nancy Hughes told other members of the TV drama cast that she was planning to join a book club that meets twice monthly. Mrs. Lucy Peterson reported the announcement to members of the Heppner Bookworms, and Mrs. Harold Erwin wrote to Nancy Hughes (Helen Wagner) at CBS in New York City extending an honorary membership in the club.

Mrs. Erwin received a handwritten note from Helen Wagner which she shared with the Bookworms at their second November meeting at her home.

Dear Mrs. Erwin:
Your letter about honorary membership in your book club is an amusing compliment which I should be delighted to accept. So far as it's having merit, I don't see that it can have much more than that at this distance and with my schedule...but perhaps just this friendliness is merit enough. Thank you.

The Bookworms are sending Nancy Hughes a Christmas Greeting from her new club, and will enclose the story from the Heppner Gazette-Times, several bookreviews from the paper, and their meeting schedule for the year along with the Christmas card.

WCS Meets, Plans

At its meeting last night the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service completed plans for its month's activities. The group will cooperate in Christmas charity giving and remembrances. The society officers for the coming year will be installed along with other church officials at the morning worship service on Dec. 10th.

Doris Cutting and Justine Weatherford talked over the events of the society's annual Oregon-Idaho conference which they attended in Portland this fall. They played a tape recording of parts of the lectures given by the principal speaker at the conference, Thressa Hoover.

Hostesses for the evening were Sylvia McDaniel and Elsie Leathers who arranged a Christmas refreshment table.

At a party, there are two kinds of people: those who want to go home early, and those who want to stay late. Trouble is, they're usually married to each other.

County High Schools To Be Represented In Governor's Campaign Against VD

Teenagers and parents from a five-county area will gather in Pendleton December 9 to launch a campaign against venereal disease among Oregon youth.

The students from area high schools and junior high schools have been invited to the conference by the District No. 12 Committee of the Governor's Commission on Youth.

"Gonorrhea has reached epidemic proportions in Oregon," Governor McCall stated, "and public attention must be brought to bear on this health problem."

More than 10,000 cases of venereal disease were reported in Oregon last year with conservative estimates indicating five additional unreported cases for each one reported.

More than two-thirds of the reported cases of venereal disease occurred among persons less than age 25 years. The 15-19 year old group accounts for the most rapidly rising rate while the 19-25 year old group accounts for the greatest number of cases.

Students attending the conference will be given expert information by a panel of state health division officials and local physicians and health department staff. Each "school team" will be asked to develop a plan of action to implement in their own community bringing information and awareness to their friends.

Attendance at the conference is by invitation only, with each school in the five-county area sending representatives.

WORLD SERVICE APPEAL

Seventh-day Adventists are now launching their 69th World Service Appeal, announces pastor Michael Brownfield.

Members of the Heppner church will join in distributing copies of a special issue of These Times magazine, which reports on the humanitarian aspects of their worldwide program, and at the same time give people an opportunity to contribute to the work. In harmony with its philosophy of viewing man as a spiritual, physical, and social being, and ministering to his needs in all three areas, the members will encourage Bible study by offering a free Bible study guide, also.

"This will not be an effort to get people to join the Adventist Church," the pastor emphasized, "but we want to help the people of Heppner realize that the Bible offers real answers to the problems which we face in this critical age."

The 2.1 million-member denomination operates the largest foreign mission program of any Protestant church, as well as the largest worldwide Protestant school system. They help educate more than 388,000 students in 4,425 schools. Some of these are in areas where no public schools are available.

Funds from this year's campaign will not only help maintain the regular services provided by the church's hospitals, schools, camps for the underprivileged children, and similar projects, but they will help purchase relief supplies for large-scale disasters. Flood relief, both in foreign countries and the U.S. have required heavy expenditures this year.

"A portion of the funds are kept on the local level to be used in community welfare services," said Brownfield, "and last summer three young people from the Heppner-Condor area benefited from a regional camp for the under privileged held in northern Idaho."

Prescott Beals Returns To Heppner Nazarene

Everyone is welcome and cordially invited to hear the Rev. Prescott Beals who will speak at the Church of the Nazarene on Dec. 8, 9, 10. Friday and Saturday nights he will speak at 7:30 p.m. and on Sunday at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Rev. Prescott L. Beals has been a missionary for the Church of the Nazarene for 43 years. He has just completed an eleven months' round-the-world missionary tour during which he visited thirteen countries, holding services in each: England, Germany, Switzerland, the Holy Land, India, New Zealand, Australia, New Guinea, the Philippines, Taiwan, Japan, Korea, and finally Hawaii, U.S.A. His 16 mm movie color films taken in these countries will be featured. For some months he will be giving his entire time telling about his tour and showing his pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. Beals served for 34 years in India, in evangelistic and educational work, part of the time as field superintendent. Following this they served in Trinidad and Guyana, where Mr. Beals was superintendent in both of these fields. After Mrs. Beals' death he spent four years as superintendent in British Honduras, Central America. After retiring because of age limits, he served as assistant minister in his home church, First Church of the Nazarene, Walla Walla, Washington, for three years. And now for the last six years he has been in "full time evangelism."

Mr. Beals is the author of two books, "India's Open Door" and "India Reborn". He was the first resident missionary professor at the Nazarene Theological Seminary in Kansas City, Missouri. He was honored as the alumnus of the year in 1963 by his Alma Mater, Northwest Nazarene College in Nampa, Idaho. He knew the late Mr. Gandhi. He also knows other leaders, including the Honorable George Price, the present premier of British Honduras.
