

Animal Slides by John Rawlins

John Rawlins presented slides on animals that could be found in the garden at the Monday night meeting of the Heppner Garden Club. He started with the protozoa and other single cell creatures. Then through the worms of various kinds where he showed each one's life cycle which may lead into the digestive tract of host animals. Then there were salamanders, frogs, toads, snakes, birds regularly seen, squirrels, mice, porcupines and the last one a bear. This is John's field and hobby. His pictures were taken from Mexico to Alaska but were slides of animals similar to ones found in this area. The meeting was held at the Neighborhood Center with Mrs. Ida Farra as hostess. The Feb. 12 meeting will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Wallace Wolff with Dr. Wolff giving the program on Green-house Culture.

Wranglers Potluck Sunday

Morrow County Wranglers will have a Potluck supper Sunday evening at 5:30 o'clock at the Annex at the Fair Grounds. Anyone interested in joining is cordially invited to attend. There will be an election of officers.

Sheriff to Speak at Soroptimists

Sheriff John Mollahan will speak on the Past and Future of the jail at the County Court House this Thursday at the Soroptimists Club luncheon meeting at the Wagon Wheel. On the following Thursday, members will take a sack lunch to the Court House and have a tour of the jail.

Dinner Honors Mrs. Privett

On Dec. 29 a dinner was held at the Wagon Wheel Cafe in the honor of Mrs. C.H. Privett, a long time employee of Central Market. After almost 20 years Mrs. Privett is retiring, at least temporarily. She hopes to find some part-time work, but says that after all those years of working she might find staying home a bit boring. Mr. and Mrs. Clint McQuarry, owners of Central Market, presented her with a corsage and a watch. The other employees of the store gave her a gift certificate. About 17 employees and members of their families attended.

GIFT

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crismon of Pendleton were in Heppner on Jan. 7 to visit his mother, Mrs. Sara Adkins, and bring her a wonderful late Christmas. It had to be delayed because she was unable to be in Portland for the holiday and they had to bring it back to her.

Ashland Summer Plays to be Studied Here

A Shakespeare study group is planning to start Jan. 18. Those interested will meet at 7:30 at the W.W. Weatherford home in Lexington. Both men and women are invited. The first play to be studied is the Merry Wives of Windsor. The group will study the six plays to be shown at Ashland this summer. Anyone planning to attend this first session is asked to read the play. Meetings will be held the 1st and 3rd Thursdays from 7:30 to 9:30. Jane Rawlins will be the guiding chairman. The study group is sponsored by the AAUW.

RHEA CREEK GRANGE

Rhea Creek Grange will meet Friday, Jan. 12 with a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m.

Summers Move to Salem

John Sumner and a college friend came up from Oregon State this weekend to help Dirk Schlichting move the Summers to Salem. The Summers have rented a home in the Kaiser area north of Salem where they will live until school is out while Jack is in the House of Representatives.

Elsie Fox of Lexington had as her guests for New Years dinner, her daughter Ruth McNeill and her friend Bob Najarian of Pendleton and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Allyn of Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kroll of Corvallis were up to spend the holidays with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kroll and their grand daughter and grand son.

Social Security Rep. at Neighborhood Center

There will be a social security representative at the Heppner Neighborhood Center on Fri. Jan. 12 from 10:00-12:00 a.m. and 1:00-2:00 p.m. He will be glad to answer your questions, apply for benefits for you, or help in any way possible.

The senior citizen's socials which are held at the Center on Thursdays at 2:30 p.m. could use some more sponsors. There are only three months of this year spoken for at this point, so if your church group or club would be interested in providing refreshments for these get-togethers, please call the Center.

Adult GED classes are on Wednesdays, 9:00 - 11:00 a.m. and Thursdays, 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. TOPS meetings are at the Center on Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. The senior citizen's dinners will be at the Heppner Grade School on Wednesday at 4:30.

There will be a Revenue Sharing meeting on Jan. 16 at 9 a.m. at BMCC in Pendleton. This is an open meeting and any city officials or interested persons are invited to attend.

DOTS JOTS

We've accomplished one of my New Year's Resolution. For three years the prize for the winners of the Morrow County Fair 4-H Favorite Foods Contest were to be taken out to dinner by the Heppner Gazette-Times. In 1970, we took them out to eat at Dodge City because all but one was from the north end of the county.

Don't ask me what happened to 1971 but somehow we never did get the winners out to dinner. The same ones were among the 1972 winners so we gave them a chain necklace for the 1971 dinner they never had out when we took them out to dinner Thursday evening.

2nd Resolution
A year or so ago when we had a larger window put in the south wall of our living room, we had book shelves built down one side and across the bottom of the window.

Resolution No. 2 GET THOSE FINISHED so we can unpack boxes and boxes of books. I have the shelves sanded ready for the next coat.

Feed The Birds
Are you feeding the birds? This kind of weather they need to be remembered with grain (your favorite mix) suet, peanut butter, apples along with a sprinkling of rolled oats and what ever else. They really aren't fussy.

The Ted Smiths must have received a new bird feeder for Christmas. They keep it well filled and the birdies are delighted. Birds are birdies at our house because of our No. 2 grandson.

98, Healthy and Happy

BIRTHDAY FUN for Clara E. Kincaid on her 98th birthday, her grandson Lindsay Kincaid and his daughters Margaret and Mary. Margaret and Mary are 5th generation of Kincaids to live on the 8-Mile ranch. John Lindsay Kincaid homesteaded the ranch, then John Oliver, Harold Oliver, Lindsay J. and his daughters.

Ninety eight and looking forward to her birthday was Clara E. Kincaid who lives at Pioneer Memorial Hospital. On January 6 she had a birthday. Her grandson Lindsay Kincaid accompanied by Mrs. Kincaid and their two daughters brought a beautiful white and red birthday cake to the hospital. Grandma Kincaid was delighted and after having their own little party, the rest of the cake was shared with the other patients and nurses.

Another grandson Ralph Kincaid and his five children brought her a blossom-covered azalea.

The Lindsay Kincaids live on the Kincaid ranch in the 8-Mile country where Grandma used to live. Lindsay can remember watching his grandmother work in her big garden. She planted her potatoes by dropping them in the furrow as they plowed the garden.

She liked to cook for her four grandsons. Their favorite dessert was lemon pie. She baked her own bread and the bread board at the ranch is worn in a shallow circular shape where she kneaded the dough. Since 1964 Mrs. Kincaid has spent the winters at the hospital but when spring came she went back to the ranch. In 1969 she stayed permanently to make her home in the hospital. This remarkable woman was cooking for the harvest crews up until 1961 when she was 86 years old.

Mrs. Kincaid was a Mason before she married and grew up on Rhea Creek on the ranch where Jimmy Pettyjohn now lives. Some of the home made bricks are still there on the place.

When she was first married to John Oliver Kincaid in 1900, they lived in Ione. She was an excellent seamstress and made many a wedding gown by hand. One of those she made was Edith Matthews' mother's wedding gown.

Besides a big garden and lots of chickens, Grandma Kincaid churned and made lots of butter. Her grandsons remember how delicious the buttermilk was with its flecks of real butter.

Grandma Kincaid has a sister, Mabel Cotter, at Hermiston; a brother, Joe Mason, at Portland and another brother Harold Mason at Sacramento; four grandsons and four great grandsons and six great grand daughters.

Tom Heimbigner Takes Bride to Mississippi for First Home

Lt. and Mrs. Tom Heimbigner

Central United Protestant Church of Richland was the setting for the afternoon wedding Dec. 23 of Miss Vickie Hinkle and Lt. Tom Robert Heimbigner. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Hinkle of Richland, Wash. and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Heimbigner of Ione. The Rev. Donald McVicker performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose to wear her mother's wedding gown of white taffeta foilie. It was fashioned in a floor length princess style with chapel train with scallops around the shoulder and down the front of the skirt. Her three tiered bridal chapel length veil of silk illusion, was designed and made especially for her and was held in place by a camelot cap of pearls and lace. She carried a bridal bouquet of white rose buds with accents of green leaves.

Sister is Maid of Honor Beverly Hinkle of Richland, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was dressed in a floor length gown with empire waist and bishop long sleeves, in avacado green satin covered with bronze luminaire.

Paula Saucier and Sharon Popp both of Richland were Bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to the Maid of Honors.

The girls all carried cascades of bronze and gold mums with touches of brown. Their head pieces consisted of ribbon bows and ribbon roses with net.

Tiffany Hadley was flower girl wearing a short beige and brown dress with matching leotards. She carried a miniature bouquet of bronze and gold mums.

Tom asked John Hadley of Richland to be his best man, Fred Hinkle, Seattle, brother of the bride and Joe Halvorsen, Ione, to be his attendants. They were attired in Prince Edward Tuxedos with ruffled shirts and rose bud boutonnières.

Lyle Fatz of Carter, Montana, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer and dressed like the men of the wedding party.

Wedding Music
Mrs. George Steach was church organist and played the traditional wedding music.

A trio consisting of Mary Beth Nichola, Lee Ann Nichola and Mary Gustavson sang "The Wedding Song". The girls accompanied themselves on guitars.

For her daughters wedding Mrs. Hinkle wore a street length dress of gold knit, with matching accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds.

Mrs. Heimbigner wore a street length dress of pink knit with matching accessories and a yellow rose bud corsage.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception honoring the newly married couple was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Highlighting the tea table was the beautiful four tiered wedding cake the bottom layer consisting of four small cakes on a revolving stand. It was trimmed in white with touches of gold and green and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Cutting and serving the cake were Margaret Congelton and Mrs. Gerald Saucier. Serving punch and coffee were Mrs. Faye Perkins and Mrs. Richard Watson.

Mrs. David Dudley and Mrs. Marvin Fowler had charge of the gift table. In charge of the guest book was Miss Patricia Saucier. Sandra Dudley distributed bags of wheat and beans to the guests as well as presenting them gold bookmatches monogrammed with Vickie and Tom.

Going Away
Vickie chose a brown knit pantsuit with matching accessories as her going away outfit. She wore a white rose bud corsage from her bridal bouquet. Their honeymoon will take them by car to Las Vegas, Utah, Texas and on to Columbus Mississippi.

The bride is a graduate of Columbia High School (Richland) and was employed as a secretary at Battelle Northwest.

The groom is a graduate of Ione High School. He attended the University of Oregon and is a graduate of Portland State. He is a Lt. with the United States Air Force.

Their first home will be Columbus Air Force Base, Columbus, Mississippi where Lt. Heimbigner will be a jet instructor pilot.

Host Rehearsal Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. Ray Heimbigner hosted the rehearsal dinner the evening before the wedding of their son Tom to Vickie Hinkle in Richland. There were 16 gathered for the evening at the Black Angus in Pasco.
