EARTHQUAKE Red Cross Relief In Nicaragua

At the beginning of the New Year in Nicaragua, Red Cross was feeding hundreds of thousands of persons in the wake of the earthquake which destroyed the city of Managua December 23. Food and other supplies came into the stricken area from nations around the world, many of them through 23 national societies, members of the League of Red Cross Societies.

On December 28, the Nicaraguan Red Cross fed more than 110,000 earthquake victims at 19 stations and planned an expanded supplemental feeding program for hundreds of thousands for at least three months. ARC team leader Ralph Mitchell said the emergency program was providing a daily ration of one pound of food per person, and that additional feeding stations were to open as rapidly as supplies and facilities could be developed for them.

Mitchell reported that all seriously injured earthquake victims had been removed to other communities or taken out of the country. No requests were made for whole blood or blood products.

Refugees streamed out of the city and the roads were jammed within a thirty-mile radius of Managua with the homeless carrying their few pitiful belongings, at the time of Mitchell's report.

Transportation is a major problem. Relief workers fought for means to distribute food and supplies. Material coming into the country through governments, businesses and Red Cross Societies of other nations included in addition to food, donations of such items as cots, trucks, medical supplies, lighting equipment, water containers, chemicals, diapers, ice chests, water purifiers and clothing. Airlines and shipping firms cooperated in moving supplies to the stricken city.

The American Red Cross allocated $100,000 for Nicaraguan relief efforts. Americans desiring to help earthquake victims were urged to send fund contributions to local ARC chapters for transmission to national headquarters.

American dependents and relatives evacuated from Managua were met at the U.S. Air Bases by ARC volunteers and staff members who provided emergency services. Approximately 200 families were given help including transportation from air bases to their homes.

Anyone wishing to make contributions to Managua may leave their check with Judy Laughlin, Morrow County Red Cross treasurer, at Heppner TV.

NASHES IN YANKTON

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nash of Heppner spent a week visiting in their hometown of Yankton, S.D. with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Klasi and Mrs. Robert Nash. Judy also has two brothers and Bob has two sisters living in Yankton, so they really had a family holiday. There were also many friends to visit and enjoy.

As they were ready to return home, they phoned the highway department and were advised not to drive through Montana because of closed roads, but to go south through Nebraska, Wyoming and Utah. In Cheyenne, Wyo. they were confronted with roads that had been closed for two days. They then ended up going back north through Montana on roads that had never been closed.

FROM NORTH BEND

Perry McGill and his son, Damon accompanied by Tom McGill came from North Bend to have Christmas here with family. They enjoyed Christmas dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Morris.

Perry is building contractor for a new hospital at Coos Bay. He fell into a hole recently at the construction site and broke his leg. His brother Tom went down to give him his assistance.

Robert Nashes

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nash, Shelley and Kimberly are living on the Earl McKinney place up Rhea Creek. Her folks, Mr. and Mrs. George Roberts and brother Ted of Eugene were their guests over the holidays. Mr. Roberts flew down from Juneau to be with his family.

They had been over in October and enjoyed Eastern Oregon at that time as well as they did in December.

Mr. Nash is employed at Kinzua.

HAROLD HILLS HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hill of Coos Bay were up to spend the holidays with her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harris. Mr. Hill retired 1 1/2 years ago after working 23 years with the State Apprenticeship program.

After about a year of retirement he is doing electrical work. He did the electrical work at the Otter Crest Condominium. Mr. and Mrs. Hill tripped to New Mexico and in Mexico during his "retirement". He says, "That retirement can get kinda old".

The nicest part about telling your troubles to a bartender - when has a psychiatrist ever given you one on the house?

CHAPINS VISIT IN CAMAS

Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Chapin were in Camas, Wash. for the Christmas and New Year's holidays visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Slyter. Also there were two of the Slyter's sons and a daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Slyter and Doug who was home from college. A third son, Jeff, is stationed with the Military Police in Germany and is due home about Feb. 1. The family is waiting for that event with great anticipation.

Mr. and Mrs. Neils Anderson of Dallas were up for New Year's weekend. They spent New Year's eve visiting Mr. and Mrs. Les Marks in Hermiston. He was a former County Extension Agent in Fossil. They came on over to Heppner the next day to visit their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Anderson, Greg and Christy. Neils Anderson, a former County agent for Morrow County is now County Agent for Polk County.

FROM YAKIMA

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Borman were down from Yakima to spend Christmas with their daughter, Lynda Dunlap, Dyrk and Lori.

They were all Christmas dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cox. Other guests were Mrs. Cox's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Flemming, Mr. Cox's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gray, Susan, Arlene and Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Forrie Burkenbine, Alan, Lisa and Connie and Ben Cox.

The truth about Bronate, the "educated" herbicide. From a weed that lived just long enough to tell about it.

"Oh, it was terrible. A tragic day for weeds indeed. There we were happily robbing the wheat of their precious moisture and nutrients when the Bronate hit. First the growmwell, tarweed, henbit and dogfennel keeled over and died. Then the mustard family collapsed simultaneously. And finally my own family of crowfoot went before my very eyes. I'd heard about Bronate but I never imagined it could wipe us out like that. I mean, we crowfoot are a hardy lot. Old Uncle Slimleaf, rest his soul, told us this Bronate wasn't like any other herbicide. It was educated. It knew the difference between weeds and wheat. It even says on the label it will kill 26 kinds of us. He said farmers use it because when it killed us, it wouldn't hurt a grain of the wheat. Even the new herbicide sensitive varieties like luke wheat. And they'd get up to 12 to 20 bushels more yield per acre.

That's why it's the first choice of farmers out here in the Northwest. Well, Uncle Slimleaf was right, dead right. Anyway, by the time we realized Bronate was coming it was too late. We were goners. It's just a matter of time for me now. I don't know how much longer I can hang on. My last words to my fellow weeds are: stay away from Bronate. It r-e-a-l-l-y w-o-r-r-r-ks."
