American Field Student Speaks

The Lexington Grange meeting on April 16 began with a potluck at 6:30 p.m. The program was presented by Isabelle Rognin, an American Field student from the suburbs of Paris, France, who is living with the Al Lagenwalter family in Hermiston on August 7 and is attending high school there.

The 18-year-old girl gave some geographical background of her country and also told of the vineyards and dairies there. It was interesting to note that no fruit is grown in France; they import all their fruit. Also, there are no zoning ordinances in France. Anyone may build any type of establishment in any location.

Masons Honor Senior Boys

The Heppner Masonic Lodge held their annual scholarship dinner Thursday night here. Tables were gaily decorated with golden tasseled blue mortarboards.

Cecil Rill, Master of the Lodge, was master of ceremonies for the event.

Bob Kelly, educational chairman, explained requirements and methods of evaluating those applying for the scholarship. This is a $100 scholarship that is awarded a senior boy at graduation. The scholarship is open to all senior boys. Evaluation is 30 percent on scholarship, 40 percent on need and 30 percent on activities.

Previous winners in recent years are Barney Marshall, John Hall, Bob Peck, Jerry Healy, David Hall and Bob Harris.

He said that Mrs. Vi Lanham has the application forms which are available to the seniors. Mr. Kelly also explained that the annual dinner was also a means of appreciation to the instructors as well as the senior boys. John Wood, Shrine game chairman, introduced Bill Jensen who is on this year's Shrine game team. The annual football game will be played this year in Baker. Mr. Wood explained that team members are chosen from a list from ballots voted by the coaches. Since the games started in 1952, $215,000 in cash has been turned over to the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital in Portland.

Mr. Rill thanked the ladies and the girls who prepared and served the delicious ham dinner to the seniors, the instructors and Masons who were present.

Tom Lampkin of North Powder, a Past Grand Master of Masons in Oregon, told why

Masons are interested in presenting a scholarship to the senior boys here and in a number of other places. The lodge is a benevolent and charitable organization and it is a way of life.

He explained that Masonry goes away back in the history of the world. He named many notable American presidents and other famous figures who were Masons.

He said that Masonry teaches the Golden Rule, and seeks to make men better.

Legion & Auxiliary Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary was held Monday evening April 16 at the Legion Hall.

The evening started with a delicious family potluck dinner. During the dinner, Clayton Sweek, Post Commander, honored Frank Hamlin with two awards from Department. One is for having 100 percent membership for this season and the other is for having signed up 25 or more members himself.

Delegates to Department Convention June 27 - 30 are Rita Hedman, Hazel Hamlin and Evelyn Sweek. Girls State was discussed and the girls must be chosen in the near future. Final plans were made for the Baked Food Sale to be held April 19, at 10:30, in front of Coast to Coast.

Flowers were made for the wheel chair parade for the Rose Festival. Poppy stamps were sold. Meeting adjourned with the announcement that the meeting on May 21 will be the last meeting of the current season.

8 hours during one sale. It takes training to be able to do this without suffering ill effects. Don says he doesn't have trouble with hoarseness but that he is always careful not to hurt his voice either. He states the loud speaker systems available now do much to make the auctioneer's job easier.

According to Don there is something amusing or unusual that happens at every sale. He cited as examples a horse, that had just been advertised as a kid's horse, suddenly threw his rider and a milk cow, supposedly gentle, lowered her head and put the arena workers on the fence.

Hobbies and recreational pursuits are all one for Don Wink and that is his work. He says there isn't time for a hobby with a schedule like his. His two sales rings keep him busy six days a week. It requires three days for a sale, one day to prepare, one to work the sale, and one day to deliver. The sale in Hermiston is on Tuesday and the one in The Dalles on Friday. Don also works the sales for seven County Fairs and for these he donates his services. He states he does this for the good of the 4-H and FFA programs and the boys and girls.

The Lone Church Auction, for which he also donates his services, is worked just a little differently than that of a sales ring. He recognizes that not everyone at the Church sale is familiar with bidding. Therefore, he adjusts to the crowd and tries to proceed at a pace so that everyone can have an enjoyable time. Even the youngsters get an opportunity to place bids on the merchandise that appeals to them. He remarked "I look forward to going to lone. Everyone is so friendly and they have such a good spirit. They really seem to enjoy themselves. It is certainly a pleasure to work the sale".

There is a certain protocol observed in working a sale. The auctioneer is always ready and alert to receive a higher bid but he never asks it. Mr. Wink says he doesn't even like to use the term "give me". The chant he uses is merely a repetition of the highest bid he has received. He uses a change of pace, a different pitch of voice, and a variety of tactics to keep the crowd interested and the sale from becoming humdrum.

An auctioneer may use his voice steady as much as 7 to interrupting every program constantly with commercials. Isabelle was a delightful girl and everyone there enjoyed the opportunity to meet her and hear her speak.

There was also a report from Gene Majeske on the last meeting of Rodeo Board concerning the choosing of rodeo princesses.
