she is in speech and drama and had a part in a recent play. Having a lifelong interest in art, she has helped with play and concert backdrops, program covers, signs of all kinds and designed the cover for last year's "Ionian", the school yearbook.

Boardman Hosts County Invitational

The 5th annual Morrow County Invitational Track and Field Meet will be held at Boardman Saturday starting at 12 noon. The Meet is sponsored by the three high schools of the County, Heppner, Lone and Riverside for AA and A competition. About 20 schools are expected.

Double A
Double A schools coming are Grant Union, Wahtonka, Madras, Crook County, Mac Hi, Stephenson, Wash. and White Salmon, Wa.

Single A
Single A schools are Heppner, Riverside, Lone, Umatilla, Echo, Arlington, McEwen, Enterprise, Sherman, Pilot Rock, Helix and Condon.

There is a possibility that John F. Kennedy from Mt. Angel will also participate.

The Heppner Gazette-Times presents the cup to the winning A team and the Bank of Eastern Oregon the AA team trophy. Last year Enterprise won the Gazette-Times cup and Stephenson, Wa. won the Bank of Eastern Oregon cup.

Dean Naffziger, athletic director of Heppner High School and originator of the meet, says that it is a good meet to watch and only one year in the last five years has the weather been bad.

GALLEY WEST

The Crucible

The Heppner Community Drama Club presented "The Crucible" on three evenings last week at the High School. The drama is by Arthur Miller. Pat Patton of the Shakespearean Festival Assn. in Ashland said of the play, "This play is based on research of actual incidents in the 1692 Salem Witch hunts. Since its 19 curtain calls at its opening in 1953, this powerful and historic drama has been produced by thousands of European and American groups, making it one of America's major works on stage.

Or shall he stand aloof from the hysteria, and in so doing bring fear and suspicion upon himself? In so doing, he remains a man of conscience, but the man loses his life. Caught in the dilemma, John Proctor at first chooses life above conscience, yet he ultimately cannot bear to have his confession made public. "How may I live without my name?" he cries. "I have given you my soul, leave me my name!"

The play was directed by Mrs. Lynda Slusher.

Stage crew and helping in various capacities: Mrs. Ann Toney, Mrs. Linda DeSpain, Cheryl Turner, Kelly Harrison, Barbara Sherman, Jim Slusher, Rob Eckman, Mike Orwick, Mary Abrams, Randy Morris, Neil Poulsen, John Rawlins, Joyce Marquardt, Jaunita Wilson, Teresa Hughes, Cindy Rogers, Marjie Roberts, Greg Davidson, Heppner Auto Parts, Lyle Schwarz of E.O.C., and the Rev. and Mrs. David Blackaller.

The Sophomore Class will show a movie April 27 at 7 p.m. at the Heppner High School cafeteria. The movie "In the Summer" is a surfing movie showing the adventures of a group of boys have as they search around the world for the perfect waves for surfing.

Anita Davidson, class president says, "The proceeds will go into the class treasury for the Junior prom we'll have to put on next year."

Today, many who attend performances of THE CRUCIBLE do not remember the trials of the McCarthy era. Arthur Miller's play was inspired by the social and political climate of this period. In the face of the turmoil and fear engendered by misguided popular judgment and mass action, how shall a man behave? Shall he submerge himself in the ideology that he finds repugnant? If so, he becomes an instrument of the growth of the terror. He is stripped of his personal identity, or as John Proctor puts it, of his 'name'.
