

Morrow County Youth Employment Service

The Morrow County Extension Office in Heppner will again this year have a youth employment service in addition to its usual employment activities, according to George Johnston, County Extension Agent. Young people interested in all kinds of work have filled out youth employment cards through Heppner and Lone High Schools. Other students interested should stop by the Extension office and sign up. Area employers are encouraged to contact the Extension office 676-9642, for temporary, part-time, summer, or odd jobs. Young people have indicated on a card their interest in different kinds of farm work, yard work, house work, business chores, and other specialized jobs. Some specific jobs listed include babysitting, mowing lawns, and stocking shelves.

The service seemed quite successful last summer with the placement of young people in many jobs, both on and off the farm. We hope we will have the cooperation of all those involved, both employers and young people to make the youth employment service successful again this year.

If, at any time through the summer, employers need young workers for any kind of jobs, the names of those available will be listed at the Extension Office. This youth employment service is just a simple and uncomplicated method of putting the employer in contact with young people who are ready and willing to work.

Should there be any further questions, please feel free to contact the Extension office.

At Soroptimist Regional Conference

Three members of the Heppner Soroptimist Club attended the Northwestern Regional Conference at Sea-Tac Thunderbird Inn the last weekend in April. Attending were Elaine George, Mrs. Randall Peterson and Mrs. Charles Heard.

Heppners 25th anniversary was recognized.

THE 1-11 has been donated several refrigerators. Some parts are missing and it will take a little work to put them in running condition. They are still interested in accepting a good used refrigerator.

Army Offers Bonus Enlistment Options

Beginning May 1, the United States Army will offer two new enlistment options for service in the Regular Army which pay cash bonuses of $2,500 for a four-year enlistment. Titled the U. S. Army Cash Bonus Enlistment Option and the U. S. Army Training and Cash Enlistment Option, both are available to young men who qualify. Prospective enlistees must

Lone Lone Church Hosts the New Mind Choir

Last weekend the United Church of Christ was privileged to be host to The New Mind Choir, from the Hillsdale Community Church of Portland. This is the 2nd visit of the choir, and the people really enjoy their presentation of contemporary Christian music.

On Saturday evening the choir presented an informal concert, which included group singing and testimonies, as well as numerous numbers by the choir. After the concert the Bill Rietmanns opened their home for a social time, and several of The New Mind visited the square dance at the Grange hall which they thoroughly enjoyed.

The highlight of the weekend was on Sunday when The New Mind under the direction of Kenneth Mudder presented "Come Together". This was a worship and love centered musical, which really presented the love of God, in a beautiful and inspiring way.

The members and friends of the United Church of Christ enjoyed this group and looking forward to their return next spring.

AT ESA STATE MEETING

Attending the Epsilon Sigma Alpha 27th annual State Convention in Medford were Mrs. Del LaRue, Mrs. Charles Dougherty, Mrs. Roy Lindstrom of Lone and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Harris of Heppner. Mrs. Dougherty was on the Balloting Committee and Mrs. Harris was chairman of the Auditing Committee.

Beta Omega chapter met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Jerry Martin to finalize plans for the May banquet the last function for this sorority year.

also applies to former servicemen, if they have served less than three years and have been out of service for more than three months.

The bonus is payable upon successful completion of basic combat training, advanced individual training and the award of a military occupational specialty which certifies the soldier is qualified to perform in his military job. The bonus, of course, is subject to normal deductions.

The combat arms option may be combined with a number of other combat arms opportunities including airborne training and duty, Special Forces, Ranger, U. S. Army Europe, U. S. Army Korea, U. S. Army Alaska, U. S. Army Hawaii, or the 193rd Infantry brigade in the Canal Zone. The enlistee may also select duty with one of the infantry or armored divisions stationed in the United States such as the 1st, 4th or 9th Infantry or the 2nd Armored Division. Also available is the 3rd Infantry Division, now in Germany.

Requirements for enlistment under the Training and Cash Enlistment Option are identical to those for the other program. This option, however, seeks to meet Army needs for a variety of technical skills including many in communications, missiles, radar and electronics, and nuclear weapons.

Under the Training and Cash

Enlistment Option, enlistees complete basic combat training before going on to the advanced individual training leading to qualification in the field they have chosen. Most of the jobs require extensive training and provide the soldier with a solid background in electronics, communications or maintenance to use in his civilian career. The cash bonus is paid the enlistee when he is awarded the military occupational specialty certifying him qualified in his field.

For further information on these two $2,500 cash bonus enlistment plans, call Sergeant Jerry Schmadeka, 276-0079 or visit his office at 16 S E Court St. Pendleton.

1972. The busiest year in our history.

Our cards went through a lot last year. More people had them tucked into billfolds and purses than ever before (our membership rose 11% putting us over a half million). More people used them than ever before (we handled over 678,000 claims, a 20% increase over 1971). And in handling those claims, we paid out more money than ever before ($50.4 million, a 16% gain over 1971).

But significantly, even though our work load was up last year, our cost of handling that load was down. Our ratio of operating expenses to income dropped last year from 7.53% to 7.15%. That simply means last year our members received the greatest return on their membership dollar ever. For every dollar we received, 91.32 cents of it came back to our members as a paid medical bill with 1.53 cents going into a reserve for future benefits. The highest return of any similar plan in the Northwest.

But Blue Cross of Oregon is doing more than just paying bills promptly and efficiently. We're working hard to do something about improving the quality and accessibility of health care and stabilizing costs. We've increased our support, in both manpower and dollars, to Comprehensive Health Planning associations. We're working with several groups to investigate alternative health care delivery systems. We're working with hospitals throughout the state in Utilization Review Programs to assure quality care while helping them to contain costs.

We're doing all this (and a lot of other things you never hear about) because we want the people of Oregon and Southwest Washington to have more than just efficiently paid health bills.

We want them to have better health care. That's always been our business. Taking care of people.

We care for people.
