

Beverly Morinaga is a July bride

MR. AND MRS. HINKLEY

Beverly L. Morinaga became the bride of Ronald L. Hinkley at a 7 p.m. candlelight ceremony at the Boardman Community Church, July 28.

The double ring service was performed by Pastor Neil King before an altar decorated with large baskets of pink gladioli, orchid carnations and white daisies.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kaz Morinaga of Ontario, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Hinkley of Irrigon.

Mrs. Ed Skultety of Hermiston played the nuptial music on the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her mother's wedding gown of white satin with a long train, fashioned with long sleeves and long waist with small buttons down the back. The headpiece and collar were decorated with matching pearls. Her veil was fingertip length. She carried a nosegay of pink roses, white daisies and baby's breath.

Mrs. Jon Starke, twin sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a long lavender printed dress fashioned with empire waist, V-neckline, accented with lace. She wore a lavender floppy hat, and carried a nosegay of pink roses, lavender carnations with baby's breath. Marcy Morinaga, sister of the bride, and Peggy Hinkley, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids and wore gowns identical to the matron of honor except in pink, and pink hats. Their flowers were also identical.

Jon Starke, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man, and ushers were Donald Hinkley, brother of the groom, and Glen Morinaga of McMinnville, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Dodge City Inn with Mrs. Joe Tatone hostess. The three-tiered cake, decorated with pink and orchid roses and silver and white bells, and topped with a bridal couple, was cut and served by Colette Yamaguchi, cousin of the bride, and Cheryl Easterling, sister of the groom. Yvonne Larson and Susan Morinaga were at the punch bowls. Bonnie Morinaga and Marla Yamaguchi were in charge of the gift table, and in charge of the gift table were Carol Morgan, Carol Morishita and Grant Kitamura.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Morinaga wore a short dress of pink organdy with chiffon sleeves. The groom's mother wore a short dress of orchid knit. Their accessories were white.

The bride is a graduate of Ontario High School and the groom is a graduate of Riverside High School in Boardman. After a trip to the Oregon coast they are living in McKenzie's Trailer Court in Boardman. The groom is employed by Union Pacific Railroad and the bride in employed at Dodge City Inn.

For going away the bride wore a blue-green pants suit. Guests attended from Ontario, Vale, McMinnville, Hermiston, Irrigon and Tri-Cities, Wn.

Along Butter Creek

Mrs. George Currin's brother, A.W. Knotts, and Mrs. Knotts, Eugene, visited over the weekend. Each of the Knotts attended a 40th class reunion. He met with his class of 1933 at Pilot Rock High School and she met with her 1933 class at St. Joseph's Academy in Pendleton.

The Milton Miller family was enlarged for several weeks while daughter Bonnie and her husband, Ron Christopherson, and their small son Heath visited from the Mt. Home Air Force Base in Idaho. Mrs. Vern Richman, Mill's mother from Milton-Freewater, has also joined the Miller household for one week.

The Paul Hislers have been entertaining Mrs. Hisler's brother and sister-in-law the past week. Dr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Causey flew up from their Douglas, Az., home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Swanson and family from Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, spent Aug. 7-10 visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Swanson.

Mrs. Munkers to head campaign

Mrs. Rutey Munkers has been named chairman of the Breath of Life Campaign to fight children's lung diseases, according to Don Schollander, honorary chairman of the Oregon chapter, National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

Mrs. Munkers will lead local volunteers in raising funds to support research and care programs for children affected by lung-damaging diseases like cystic fibrosis, severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis, and a condition called "childhood emphysema." Children in Oregon and Southwest Washington are diagnosed and followed at the CF Center, University of Oregon Medical School. A house-to-house appeal in Heppner is scheduled for Sept. 10-16. Mrs. Munkers will be assisted in the campaign by American Legion Auxiliary # 40 Salon no. 552, of which she is a member.

Cystic fibrosis, an incurable genetic disease, is inherited when both parents carry the recessive gene for CF. It is believed that one in 20 persons or 10 million Americans may carry the CF gene, usually without knowing it. Current research funded by the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation is seeking a practical test to identify these carriers.

Two anniversaries are celebrated

A family gathering was held at the Harold and Inez Erwin home in Heppner to celebrate two silver wedding anniversaries, Aug. 11 and 12.

Guests of honor were her brother, George Clibon, the oldest in a family of eight children and an only son, his wife, Cora, a daughter, Unamaria and a sister, Una Clibon, from Chino, Ca.

From Hoquiam, Wn., were another sister Judith Martinson, and her husband, George, son, Larry and daughter, Patrice.

Una Clibon was the only one who had been a member of both wedding parties 25 years ago, so she was chosen to propose the first toast. Anniversary cakes were baked by Inez for Judith and George Martinson, who were married July 4, 1948, and for George and Cora Clibon, who were married Dec. 19, 1948.

They received gifts from the family.

Guests attending and other family members were Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cameron and daughter, Mariann, and friends of Walla Walla; a second cousin, Bruce Duncan of Walla Walla; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Duckworth and daughters, Susan and Keri, Pomeroy, Wn.; and Mrs. Wyoma Duckworth from Clarkston, Wn.

Charles Lindberg of St. Helens visited his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Reo J. Russell Sr., Aug. 4-5.

Lindberg, a police officer in St. Helens, said he likes this area so well he would like to move here if he could find employment in police work.

Becket garden

A place of beauty, a source of food

Harold and Rutey Becket are among Heppner's super gardeners. Their flowers are lovely and their fruit and vegetables are very practical—and cutting food cost is news these days.

Surrounding their "new" home their gardening efforts stand out. The yard is unusual. Its focal point is the stone fireplace which is the only monument to their old burned-down home.

The back yard and south garden produce much of the Becket's winter food, besides generous good gifts to neighbors and friends.

Both Becket's really work during the late spring growing months—planting, thinning, watering. They don't buy seed—they save it from year to year.

Summer time means weeding, weeding, weeding, preserving and freezing. They have a water right that permits them to irrigate from Willow Creek. In June 1971 their complete establishment was inundated by the Shobe Canyon flooding. A tremendous amount of debris was deposited on their land.

An unusual feature of their vegetable garden is the gigantic sunflowers of several varieties—some have achieved over 17 feet in height. These giants shade the lower plants. (Clarence Baker's garden at Heppner's northern boundary also shows tall sunflowers used as shade from the afternoon sun.)

A "tree-type" spinach is a favorite of Rutey. Harold dotes on raspberry pies all winter long from frozen berries off their bushes. Their trees yield many apples, peaches and apricots—most years.

"I used to win many prizes at the fair with flowers and vegetables, but I haven't entered much lately—especially since the last big flood," Ruby says.

So in spite of a devastating fire and several very discouraging floods—and their involvement in many activities—these two pioneer descendants continue to raise their own beauty and food, and their yard and garden always attract envious glances from persons who pass by on South Court St.

New plan for oldsters to become involved

Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) is being organized to serve Umatilla and Morrow Counties.

RSVP is designed to return senior citizens age 60 or over (there is no upper age limit) to community life through volunteer work at non-profit agencies or organizations.

The assignments are as numerous and diverse as are the senior volunteers. The activities will be assigned to coincide with the person's special interest and talents, such as a handyman, teacher's aide, delivering hot meals, working as 4-H leaders and visiting shut-ins. The community needs the volunteer's experience and wisdom, regardless of background and interests. Number of hours and days work are determined by the participants to fit individual need, according to Marilyn Thomson, representative for ACTION.

RSVP is seeking a senior citizen coordinator to recruit volunteers in Morrow County. In Heppner there is a special need for sewing volunteers at the Neighborhood Center. Also, the Neighborhood Center needs help in preparation of hot meals which will be expanded to two days a week, one day in Heppner and one day in Irrigon.

Volunteers are paid 10 cents a mile from home to worksite for their own transportation, or transportation will be provided. Meals will either be provided or the volunteers will be reimbursed $1 per meal.

This RSVP program is the first in Eastern Oregon. Blue Mountain College is grantee for the program which is part of ACTION, the federal volunteer agency which also includes VISTA, SCORE, the Peace Corps, Foster Grandparents and several others.

The main office is in Pendleton; however, Morrow County residents may contact the Heppner Neighborhood Center at 676-5873 for information and applications.

Ms. Thomson has been in Morrow County to contact all non-profit agencies in order that they may utilize RSVP volunteers. Church related organizations do not qualify for this program. Ms. Thomson will speak and show films to any group interested in RSVP. She may be contacted through the Neighborhood Center.

WOMAN TO SPEAK ON TRIP TO MEXICO

Dorcas Stewart, back from a trip to Mexico, will speak at the Lexington Church of Christ Sunday, Aug. 19, at 8 p.m.

She and a group of 15 others from over the U.S. left from El Paso, Tex., June 16 to spend six weeks in the Mexican culture, helping missionaries with their work there.

In her speech she will relate her experiences in Mexico City, how she went to church in a pig pen, and of her opportunity to eat chocolate covered chicken.

The public is invited to attend.
