Fewer animals, more money paid

Ron Currin a member of the sponsoring Morrow County Livestock Association and a veteran committee member for the 4-H and FFA livestock auction, says "this year's auction was the smoothest and best yet."

Clista Vennard, sale clerk with the 1st National Bank crew, offers these figures: this year 88 animals were auctioned for a gross of $31,780.32. In 1972 there were more than 100 animals sold, but the gross was $6,000 less at $24,305.60. Mrs. Vennard points that this year prices were up and that all animals sold brought ceiling price or better. In 1972 a few animals were sold for less than ceiling price.

Top sales this year included: $2.05 per lb. paid by Morrow County Grain Growers to David Richards, Irrigon for his FFA grand champion hog; 90 cents to Kelwayne Haguewood, Heppner for his F.F.A. reserve champion hog by Mrs. Paul Pettyjohn, Ione. The 4-H grand champion hog raised by Karen Richards, Irrigon, went to MCGG for $1.90. The 4-H reserve champion was sold by Joe Mollahan, Heppner, to Shirley Rugg, Boardman, for 90 cents.

In sheep sales, the F.F.A. champion of Robert Richards, was purchased by Jack Sumner, Heppner, for $1.10 per pound. David Richards, Irrigon, sold his reserve champion sheep to Winters and Doherty, Heppner attorneys, for 80 cents. The 4-H grand champion sheep was bought by MCGG for $1.35 from Mark Sargeant, Heppner. Mark's

$100 worth of beef, free

The Morrow County Cow-Belles, ranchers' wives who help promote local beef, gave away 10 certificates assuring each winner of $100 worth of beef of his choice.

The names selected were chosen from patrons of the CowBelle booth at the County Fair. Anyone who made a purchase at the booth had a chance in these drawings. The winners were announced at the RCA rodeo-five on Saturday and five on Sunday.

The 10 winners: Mary Bletell, Heppner; Mrs. Clarence Warren, Heppner; Mrs. Stan Magill, Cecil; Mrs. Hilda Peterson, Pendleton; Mrs. Gail McCarty, Boardman; Mrs. Mel Allyn, Lexington; Ruth Bergstrom, Heppner; Delsie Chapel, Ione; Helen Pettyjohn, Ione; and Mrs. Bob Jepsen, Ione.

Mrs. John Eubanks, president of the local CowBelle organization, was in charge of the fair booth and the drawings. She was assisted by Mrs. Jerry Brosnan, Butter Creek; Mrs. Merlyn Hughes, Butter Creek; and Mrs. Clyde Nutting, Heppner.
