

Oregonians enjoying guests from abroad

More than 100 Oregon families are enjoying a touch of international living this summer through exchange programs conducted by the Oregon State University Extension Service. Morrow County has several international guests this year, according to Birdine Tullis, extension program assistant.

The largest single program ended in August with the departure of 82 Japanese teenagers and 10 adults who had been in Oregon almost four weeks under the 4-H Labo International Exchange Foundation program.

Twelve of the Japanese delegation stayed with families in Morrow County. The first of a five-year program, Oregon families will again host Japanese visitors next year while families in Japan open their homes to Oregon teen-agers, she points out.

From all reports, the first visit was a "great success," Birdine Tullis said. "The Japanese youngsters got a real taste of how Americans and Morrow County people live. They enjoyed many new experiences while here."

At the same time, several Oregon families said good-bye to William J. Rowett, who had been in Oregon since late May under the International Four-H Youth Exchange (IFYE) program. The Aussie was guest at the Jim West home while in Morrow County.

Scheduled to arrive in mid-September is Albert

Ramjattan, agricultural assistant (extension agent) from Tacarigua, Trinidad. He is coming to Oregon under the Professional Rural Youth Leader Exchange Program (PRYLE). Ramjattan will arrive in Morrow County Oct. 1 and will be a guest of the Dick McElligott family.

Travels of an Oregon IFYE, Monica Circle of Roseburg, now in Greece, are of interest to many in Morrow County. Miss Circle is well known in the lone area.

The IFYE and YDP programs are privately financed, she explained, and administered nationally by the National 4-H Foundation on behalf of the Extension Service and U.S. Department of Agriculture. Major support for the IFYE program in Oregon comes from the Oregon Bankers Association and the Oregon 4-H Foundation.

Fall sewing fun ahead

Knits are in the fashion spotlight again this year, and sewing knits can be easy if one knows the correct techniques.

Debbie Barker, extension home economist, will teach techniques of constructing a variety of knit garments at workshops scheduled for Oct. 8, 15, 22, 29 and Nov. 5. Leader teachers are needed from Morrow County to attend the workshops to be held in Pendleton. After receiving training from Miss Barker, teachers will conduct classes in local communities.

4-H clothing project club leaders are invited to attend the October workshops to gain skills in handling knits from benefit of their members.

Any one interested in attending the October workshops in Pendleton, who will have the time to present workshops locally, should contact Birdine Tullis, Extension Program Assistant, 676-9642, by Sept. 28.

1974 Chevrolet A better-than-ever way.

When the wheel belongs to you, the road goes anywhere you say. And it's so much better with a '74 Chevrolet.

Caprice Classic. Introducing an elegant motor car, just asking to be enjoyed. Outside: an imposing new grille, and on the Coupe, a distinctive new roof line. Inside: peace, quiet and convenience. With standard power steering to do most of the turning, standard power front disc brakes to do most of the stopping, and a standard Turbo Hydra-matic transmission to do the shifting. If you want the luxury and comfort of a car that leaves little else for you to do but enjoy the ride, you don't have to look beyond the '74 Caprice Classic. However, the freedom of the open road begins with the freedom of choice:

Vega GT.

This year's version of last year's Motor Trend Economy Car of the Year. (And Car and Driver Readers' Choice as Best Economy Sedan for the last three years.) With a reshaped nose, bigger bumpers, nicer carpeting, new stripes and new colors. Plus more good things to make it better. See what it's like to drive a winner.

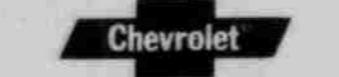

Malibu Classic.

A luxury Chevelle, new this year. With full foam seats. A fold-down front armrest. Wood-grained vinyl accents. Elegant inner door panels. Extremely tasteful upholstery and cut-pile nylon carpeting. That's just inside. The exterior is just as classic, in character and in detail, as the interior. Yet, it remains mid-size. And, it remains all Chevelle. With Chevelle handling and at a Chevelle price. Now that you've looked, come and see the new Malibu Classic—and all the 1974 Chevrolets. The ones shown here, plus Impala, Monte Carlo, Nova, Corvette, pickups, vans and all our new cars and trucks.

Camaro. The way it looks is the way it goes. Quick, sleek and nimble. With a low, wide stance, responsive steering. And comfort that's rare in a car that handles so well. Plus classic new styling, and plushness from the cut-pile carpeting up.

Building a better way to see the U.S.A.
