

Scholarship winners thank Soroptimists

Heppner's Michelle Evans, Toni Toll and Peggy Schlichling gave enthusiastic reports of their experiences at Girls State and at 4-H Summer School to the Soroptimist Club Thursday noon.

Michelle and Toni were on Salem's Willamette University campus for the week of "growth in civic understanding" offered each year by the American Legion. Both girls took active parts in city, county and state government experiences, and both were nominated to attend Girls Nation.

Neither girl accepted the opportunity to run for this national experience because of previous commitments for next summer. Michelle will be busy with the state high school rodeo finals and Toni is looking forward to attending cheerleaders school.

"We really led organized lives—from breakfast prayer until after evening vespers. We heard outstanding speakers. One special event was a formal tea arranged by Mrs. Clay Myers in her home," Michelle said, (Secretary of State Myers was acting governor.)

Toni enjoyed "Visiting the capitol building and the state legislature's rooms. I loved meeting girls from all over, a few of whom I already know from cheerleading experiences. I found a college roommate. I am writing to several friends I made that week."

They found the majority of girls were from Western Oregon and knew very little about Eastern Oregon and were surprised by Michelle's rodeo experience and by the fact that Toni works part-time as a service station attendant.

Peggy enjoyed her second year's experience at 4-H Summer School on the Oregon State University campus in Corvallis. Peggy graduated from high school last spring. As county representative she attended special group sessions and ushered at the afternoon and evening assemblies. She praised the speakers presented. Two top assemblies were the Bankers' Night program, Thursday, and the Talent Show followed by a dance and movie on Friday.

Peggy said, "Our free-time after classes was full of fun. Lot's of us spent our 'gift money' at the campus book store. I had special fun target shooting one day. I'd like to go back next year as a counselor." All three girls thanked the Soroptimists for their scholarships.

Welcome Night Committee Chairman Lenna Smith reported an arrangements being made for this year's newcomers welcome party at the high school cafeteria on Tuesday, Oct. 2. The Chamber of Commerce and the South Morrow Ministerial Association are also cooperating in this annual affair.

Elaine George, club education leader, reviewed the concepts on which the Soroptimist Federations are based and outlined their objectives.

President Marlene Peterson gave last-minute instructions to the three members who will go with her to the Northwest Region's District III fall meeting at Sun Mountain near Omak, Wn. Marlene, Elaine George, Vi Lanham and Justine Weatherford leave Friday and expect to return Sunday evening.

Clyde Cox honored on 74th birthday

Clyde Cox was honored on his 74th birthday at a potluck dinner at Heppner Legion hall, Sunday, Sept. 23.

Of the 60 relatives attending, all of Clyde's brothers and sister were present with the exception of Fred Cox of White City.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cox and Alan, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Corley and family, all of Monument; Mrs. Lydia Wilson of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Tipton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Corley and family, all of Dale; Mr.

and Mrs. Henry Breeding and family of Gresham; Lolah Wilson and Wilma Dilworth of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Coleman, Bandon; Mr. and Mrs. Elven Corley, Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Weisenfluh and family, Long Creek; Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson and Jami, Pilot Rock; John Cox and Piney Martin, Butter Creek; and Mrs. Wilma Mabe and Archie Cox of Kinzua.

Heppner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Ayers, Mr. and Mrs. Tom R. Wilson and family, and Mrs. Grace Steers and Nola.

Rebekahs hear UN visitors

Cassandra Chapel, Ione, and Greg Davidson, Lexington, related their experiences as IOOF United Nations delegates at Holly Rebekah Lodge last Thursday night.

The 60 members and guests viewed slides of architecture, people and locales encountered on the bus trip across the United States. As part of their travelogue, the pair described in detail their Rebekah and Oddfellow hosts, their homes and occupations in order to give their audience an idea of what IOOF members in other states are like.

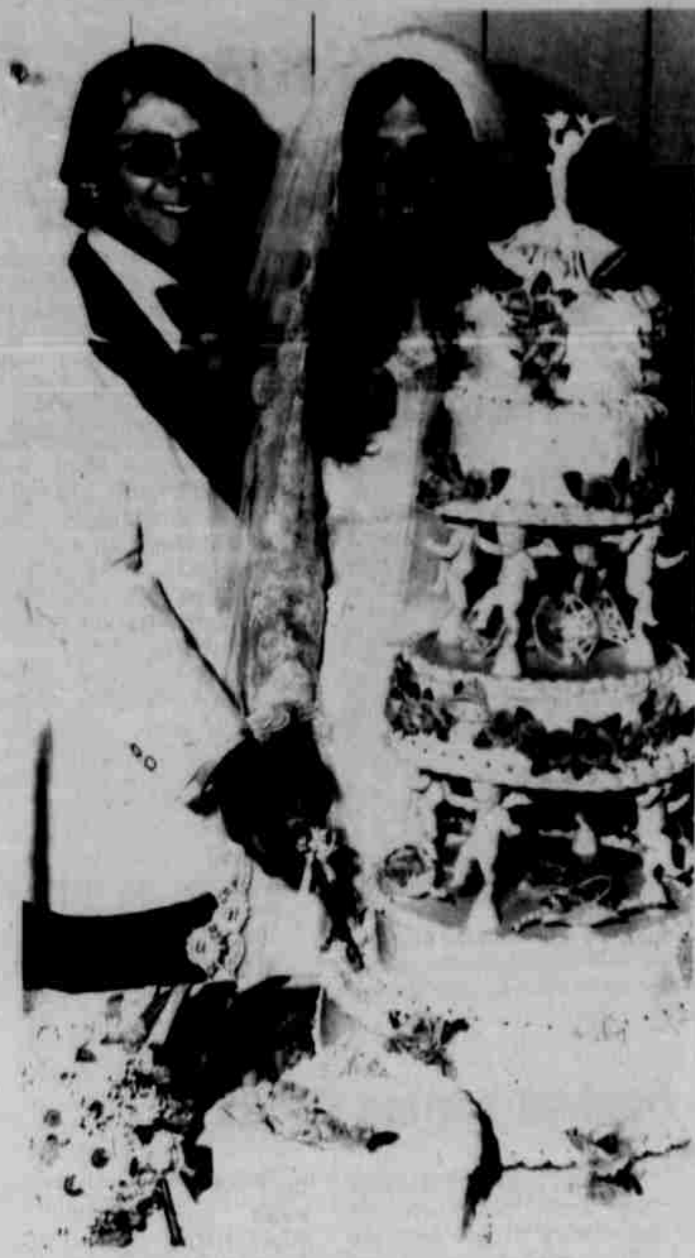

The New York City and Washington, D.C., tours were emphasized with slides of the United Nations and well-known monuments.

One of the highlights for Cassandra was being photographed with actress Debbie Reynolds after a play. Greg stressed architecture, especially the Lincoln Memorial in Washington and the statue of Christ in the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City, Utah.

A potluck dinner preceded the UN program. The Holly Rebekahs later meet jointly with Bunchgrass Lodge of Ione and three guests from San Souci Lodge, Heppner.

District Deputy President Mary McMurtry will make her official visit at Holly Rebekah Lodge in Lexington, Oct. 4.

MR. AND MRS. LEONARD J. HANNA

Jodi Ann Snow weds Leonard John Hanna

Jodi Ann Snow, daughter of William Snow, Ione, became the bride of Leonard John Hanna, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hanna Jr., Sept. 1.

The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Edwin Cutting at the United Methodist Church in Heppner.

Two candelabra decorated the church, accented by baskets of white standard mums, daisy mums and yellow statice.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white long-sleeved gown gathered at the waist. The bodice was nylon lace and pearls over satin attached to a floor-length skirt of nylon over satin with a ruffle at the hem. Her floor-length veil was held in place with a Juliet cap. The bridal bouquet was blue and white daisy mums, yellow statice and white baby's breath tied with blue ribbon.

Jeri Snow, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Patti Crawford, Portland; Teresa Turner, Eugene; and Bonni Ball, Bremerton, Wn.

Bride's attendants wore floor-length, long-sleeved gowns of blue lace embossed with hearts and flowers over white crepe. The maid of honor wore a blue crepe underling. They carried nosegays of white daisy mums and yellow statice tied in blue streamers. Their hair was tied back in blue ribbon and flowers.

Best man was David Hanna, brother of the bridegroom. Jeff Turner, Eugene; Jim Doherty, Portland; and Terry Corbin, Portland, served as ushers. Candelighters were Neil and Paul Snow, brothers of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Virginia Snow wore a blue and white print redin coat with white accessories. Mrs. Hanna, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dark blue, long-sleeved dress with gold accessories. Their corsages were white miniature carnations.

The reception was held in the church basement.

The three-tiered white wedding cake, decorated with pale blue roses and cupids, was accented by two small heart-shaped cakes and blue candles on each side.

Wedding hostess was Francis Carlson. Sandy and Judy Bennett poured coffee and punch. The cake was served by Debbie Johnston and Sandy Hanna. Kathy Hinkle served the groom's cake and rice. Janet Palmateer was at the guest book.

The bride chose a maroon and white checked pantsuit featuring a maroon sweater-vest and cuffed pants and white accessories for her going-away ensemble.

The bride is a 1968 graduate of Ione High School. She attended Blue Mountain Community College and graduated from the University of Oregon in 1973.

Her husband graduated from Heppner High School in 1967, attended BMCC, and is presently employed by Frank Anderson.

The couple reside in Heppner.

Cast sought for November production

The Heppner Community Drama Club will present Thorton Wilder's "Our Town" in late November.

Applications for any part of the production should be submitted to Linda Slusher, Heppner High School drama teacher, by Oct. 2.

BRIEFS

Willow Creek Country Club members are invited to play golf as guests at the Echo Country Club, Sunday, Sept. 30. Tee-off time is 9 a.m. Luncheon will follow play.

Mrs. Galliher visits briefly

Coleen Galliher, who was a partner in the operation of the Harris Drive-In here until late summer 1972, visited at the C.C. Carmichael home Thursday and Friday of last week. Coleen was accompanied by her youngest child, first-grader Valerie, and by her brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Norval E. Hall.

Mrs. Galliher and her four children are now residents of Bountiful, Utah. Coleen is in her junior year of studies at Weber State College at Ogden where she is majoring in social work, especially protective services and probation and parole. She has just won an academic scholarship grant for fall tuition and all supplies plus $100 a month because of her 3.89 grade point average.

Her brother, Norval E. Hall, is a corporate tax attorney and a partner in the Favian and Clendelin law firm in Salt Lake City. He is also a writing consultant for all senior law students at Brigham Young University.

MARSHALLS TO OBSERVE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Friends and relatives are invited to an open house reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Marshall, Lexington, on their 50th wedding anniversary.

The reception will be held Saturday, Sept. 29, at the Lexington IOOF hall between 1:30 and 4:30 p.m.

Rhea Creek Grange ladies plan work

Rhea Creek Grange ladies met at the home of Mrs. Frieda Slocum for their first fall meeting to tell of summer pleasures and plan fall activities.

First was sewing for the hospital at the home of Emma Drake on Sept. 26. Members came early and brought a sack lunch.

During the month of October members will furnish refreshments for Thursday afternoon meetings at the Neighborhood Center.

On Oct. 3, Rhea Creek Extension will hold its first meeting of the season at the Grange Hall with the lesson, "Vegetables with a Flair."

WSGS STUDIES SOCIAL CODE

The October meeting of the Womens Society of Christian Service of the Heppner Methodist Church Wednesday evening, Oct. 3, was educational. Rev. Ed Cutting helped the women understand the denomination's official stand on contemporary social problems.

Rev. Cutting and the society members discussed the position that the church has adopted concerning such matters as housing, marriage, homosexuality, racism, working women and involvement in governmental situations.

Extension study group meet Oct. 2

Morrow County Extension study group officers will review contents of notebooks and programs for the coming year at a special training session to be held Tuesday, Oct. 2, 10 a.m. until noon at the Lexington School.

This brief session will be held to assist leaders in preparation for the wide variety of monthly programs, workshops and special interest activities planned this year. Extension Home Economist Molly Saul will conduct the workshop, assisted by Program Assistant Birdine Tullis and Joy George.

Homemaker's Extension Advisory Committee members are asked to attend the meeting at the October Advisory meeting will be held following the officer training. Information given the study group officers will also be of interest to advisory members.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Oct. 12 is the regular Grange meeting. Frieda Slocum will be hostess for the Grange and Mrs. Martha Van Schoick will be hostess for the club on Oct. 18 at her home.

ENJOY COUNTRY LIVING in Heppner's newest duplexes. Two ranch style duplexes overlook Heppner. Both have central air conditioning, high city water pressure, w-w carpeting and low equities. One duplex has three bedroom and two baths and the other has two bedrooms with one bath.

Good investment in Heppner's city center apartment house. The complex includes an owner's or manager's apartment and features studio, one and two bedroom apartments. All units including new formica counter tops, stainless steel sinks, and flooring. Apartment house would be simple and economical to maintain for person with a full time job or as a retirement investment. Will consider 3 bedroom house on trade.
