

Ione Cardinals romp over Arlington, 38-12

Arlington's entire nine-man football team stood up to the Ione Cardinals, champions of the Big Sky Conference, but fell 38-12 Friday at Ione.

The Cardinals collected 38 points before the Honkers made their first tally late in the fourth quarter. Both of Honkers TDs came on pass plays from Rich Hultden to Jeff Wilkins, one for 6 yards and other for 11. The Cardinals defensive and offensive line lead the way for the 6 touchdowns. Freshman Bill Lindstrom sparked the defensive team and added a touchdown for the offense. The other Card touchdowns were made by Aaron Klinger and Phil Carlson.

The winning team racked up 347 yards in rushing while the losers had 137. The losing Honkers outthrew the Cards by gaining 141 yards in the air to Ione's 6.

A-Wilkins 11 yard run, PAT unsuccessful.

Ione entertains Echo Friday at Ione. Coach Gordon Meyers feels this will be one of Ione's toughest games.

"Echo has one of the strongest teams in the Big Sky Conference and they have seven of last year's starters back," Meyers said.

Scott Smythe, Arlington, catches a pass from Jeff Wilkins, but goes down as he is hit by LeRoy Rea, Ione.

Echo's record is 1-0 for the conference and 1-1-1 for the season. Echo has tied their alumni, lost to state champions Hunington 14-6, and beat Cascade Locks last Friday.

Ione will be going after its third straight conference win and fourth win for the season when they meet Echo at 2 p.m. at Ione.

Students relate UN experiences

Scholastic visitors to the United Nations, Greg Davidson, Heppner, and Cassandra Chapel, Ione, were guest speakers at Monday's Chamber of Commerce meeting.

The two students, who toured the United States and parts of Canada, told of their experiences at the United Nations.

Contrary to belief, "The United Nations is not a mystical body of people," said Davidson, "people have to work together, and they must be diplomatic. Diplomacy among the many members of the U.N. is not easy," he continued, "yet it must be practiced at all times, for repercussions from other countries may arise from any lack of diplomacy by any of the members."

Miss Chapel related to the meeting that one of the things that impressed her most was that all the flags of the various countries fly at the same height, the only one higher is the United Nations flag. "Stamps of the United States cannot be purchased at the UN, only stamps of the UN may be purchased there," she said.

United Nations International Childrens Emergency Fund (UNICEF) has always interested Miss Chapel, so while at the United Nations she inquired into the working of the organization and how the funds were spent. Most of the funds are donated, and through the workings of many people much of the leprosy and tuberculosis formerly rampant in many countries, is now curbed.

The students spent seven days in New York, five of these at the UN. Both agreed that although they are both from small communities, New York held a certain fascination for them and they would like to return to visit when they have more time.

Other places of interest visited by the students were Washington, D.C., where they sat in on a session of the Senate, Gettysburg, Mt. Rushmore, Montreal, Ottawa, and the Badlands of South Dakota.

Both Chapel and Davidson took pictures of their tour and will show them to any organization, with commentary. The films and the lecture last about one and one-half hours. Any interested group wishing to make arrangements to see the pictures should contact either Greg Davidson or Cassandra Chapel.

Saturday, Rev. and Mrs. Cutting, Pearl Wright, Sylvia McDaniel and Justine Weather will attend a Central Oregon district meeting of the WSCS at The Dalles.

Umatilla ban on open fires is modified

The restriction on use of open fire in the Umatilla National Forest was lifted in both Washington and Oregon portions of the forest effective Sept. 19.

The use of fire for debris burning within the Umatilla National Forest will still require a permit.

The two rule prevention closure will remain in force and requires that there be no smoking while traveling in grass or brush lands and that a shovel, axe and water bucket are required for camping.

Campers and debris burners are reminded that it is illegal to leave a fire unattended or to abandon it until it is dead out. Thanks to the fine cooperative effort of the public and timber industry, the 1973 fire season has a below average burned acreage loss.

Normally some dry weather can be expected during the deer season which will require continuing fire prevention activity.

CHILI FEED IS A PRE-GAME 'WARMER'

A "chili feed" will be held at Heppner High School cafeteria before the Heppner-McEwen football game, Friday, Sept. 28, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

The affair is sponsored by National Honor Society and proceeds will help finance this year's projects, according to President Greg Davidson.

School bus drivers to attend four workshops

Morrow County School District bus drivers face mandatory workshop sessions in November, Ron Daniels, the superintendent, said yesterday.

There will be four bus driver workshops in November, the dates to be announced later. The first two-hour session will deal with laws, rules and regulations as pertain to school bus operators. The second will deal with pupil management; the third with the care, inspection, maintenance and operation of buses and the fourth, with emergency procedures.

The workshops were authorized at the regular meeting of the school board Monday night at Lexington.

In other action, Daniels reported to the board that the district had received a $1,607 refund on insurance as a result of the low accident rate enjoyed by the district.

Fred Witherell, auditor, reported that accounting procedures are being properly followed and that the inventory system is among the best. The board set Oct. 15, 6 p.m., Beecher's Restaurant, Ione, as the time and place for the organizational meeting with classified and certificated personnel to negotiate on salary schedules.

Students who desire to be dismissed from classes to attend the Responsible Adulthood Conference, Oct. 25 in Heppner and Oct. 26 in Boardman, may do so provided the request is made in writing by the students' parents.

The Willow Creek school bus route was extended to the city reservoir, end of the pavement, to serve the Servi family living on the Blake property. The Servi will be compensated for bringing the children to meet the bus at this point.

Kathy Wahl, who has resigned as secretary at Heppner Elementary School, has been replaced by Lily Wilson, who has been a substitute replacement in that position. Lynda Slusher was approved for $200 a year to work with the Heppner Girls Drill Team.

The board approved the use of a school bus to transport members of the Morrow County Chamber of Commerce to Boardman on Sept. 29, with all bus expense to be borne by the chamber.

Because of a new law, the election of directors for the school district will be held March 26. At the same time the budget amounts outside the 6 per cent limitation will be set. Until the new law was passed, the meeting was held in April with elections in May.

The Long Range Planning Committee will meet Sept. 28. Budget committee members appointed were: Bob Rietmann, Ione, Al Akesor, Boardman, and Ken Belcher, Heppner.

Power use cut during Friday football game

Columbia Basin reviewed power demand of the Condon Area during the Condon football game last Friday night.

The charts showed that usage as to peak at 7 p.m. was 1079 KW on Sept. 7 and again on Sept. 14. However, at 10 p.m. the peak was 756 KW on the 7th and 687 on the 14th for a decrease in load.

On Thursday night the peak loads were 1676 KW and 706 KW, so the Friday peak was much less.

The cooperation of members in the Condon area demonstrated that when they cut down in loads at home as requested they were more than able to offset the 120 KW of football field lighting load.

Planners to meet Thursday

The Heppner City Planning Commission will meet Thursday, Sept. 27, 7:30 p.m., at the City Hall.

The special meeting is to formally reject the Corps of Engineers' road relocation plan submitted Sept. 17, which would bring the road into South Court Street, and recommend the commission's plan.

The commission plan is to start the road at the proposed Willow Creek Dam, route it behind the Warren property behind the cemetery and join the Heppner-Spray highway near the Van Winkle Motel.

This recommendation was made by the commission on Sept. 19 and submitted to the Corps. It was, however, only a recommendation. The Corps wants a definite action on the part of the commission. Hence the special meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Garry Tullis, Ione, Sunday. The Johnsons, formerly of Los Angeles, have purchased part of the Blake Creek property and are remodeling the Chuck Phegley apartments on Court Street.

Stockgrowers to hold meeting at Fossil

The Wheeler County Stockgrowers Association annual meeting will be held Oct. 1 at the Circuit Courthouse in Fossil.

The one-day meeting will start at 10 a.m. Featured speakers will include Phil Farrell, president of the Oregon Sheep Growers; Mrs. Bill Loening, president, Oregon Cowbellies Association; Mrs. Linda Baker, Oregon Beef Council; Captain Walter Hershey, Oregon State Police; Gene Kunkle, Oregon State Department of Brands Inspection; and Gene Ward, Oregon State Game Commission.

Morrow County Livestock Growers are invited to attend the October meeting.

Ronald Reid and family of La Grande visited his mother, Mrs. Ruth Reid, Heppner, last weekend.
