

North county 4-H honored

Pins were awarded to 4-H members in North Morrow County during the 4-H Awards Banquet Thursday at A.C. Houghton Grade School, Irrigon.

Carolyn Richards, Irrigon 4-H'er, was master of ceremonies for the banquet.

Morrow County extension agents Mike Howell and Birdine Tullis presented county medals and awards to the following: Robert Richards, Irrigon, achievement; Wayne Huwe, Irrigon, beef; Marci Linnell, Boardman, beef; and Mary Ann Proctor, Irrigon, horse.

Two community awards were presented to Clarence Frederickson, Irrigon, and Gladys Hobbs, Irrigon, for their outstanding contributions to 4-H.

This group of musicians decided to play a few numbers for the audience Saturday night at the Old Time Fiddlers Contest while judges were picking the winners. They are from the left, Don Haynes, Pete Haynes, Lloyd Amos, Bill Yokey and Lloyd Wanser. Wanser was the National Fiddler Champion for many years. Pete Haynes makes musical instruments, such as the "later bug" that Yokey is playing.

Woodcutters need owner permission

Persons seeking relief from the energy crisis this winter by cutting their own firewood are reminded that they must have permission from forest landowners, according to the Oregon State Department of Forestry.

The department noted that there has been an increase in interest in cutting of firewood. Concern over possible fuel oil shortages and electricity cutbacks has caused many families to look to the forests for wood fuel.

Both commercial woodcutters and those cutting for their own personal use must know ownership of the lands on which they are cutting and must have expressed permission for the activity. Knowledge of land ownership may be different because the typical ownership pattern is often intermingled county, state, federal and private lands.

State-owned forest lands are widely scattered and offer only limited opportunities for cutting firewood. Information on woodcutting permits may be obtained from Department offices at Astoria, Tillamook, Forest Grove, Coos Bay, Mehama, and Philomath.

Extension News

The Morrow County Wheat Growers League will meet Nov. 14, reports Harold Kerr, Morrow County extension agent.

The Nov. 6 election is for a $1.6 million bond issue to complete the building of Blue Mountain Community College.

APPLICATION FOR ABSENTEE BALLOTS

Voters are reminded that Nov. 1 is the deadline for securing applications for absentee ballots to be cast in the Nov. 6 bond election.

The forms may be picked up at the office of Sadie Parrish at the court house.

HOOF AND HORN AWARDS PINS

At the first meeting of the new season, Oct. 10, the Hoof and Horn 4-H Livestock club members completing one through eight years in 4-H received year pins.

Achievement certificates were also presented.

The club decided to take its annual tour of Lehman Hot Springs on Oct. 20.

Elected officers for the coming year are: Rhonda Sargent, president; Sandra Palmer, vice-president; Pam Cantin, secretary-treasurer; Mark Sargent, reporter; Joe Mollahan, historian; and Syndi Samms, sergeant-at-arms.

New members are Pat and Matt Clark, beef; Stephanie Samms, sheep; and Scott McEwen, swine.

The officers of classes and organizations of Ione High school were photographed for the Ionian on Oct. 19.

Wheat program data due Jan. 1

Wheat producers have until Nov. 1, 1973 to furnish production data to be considered for the 1974 Wheat Program.

To be eligible for the program, a producer must have produced wheat on the farm in 1968, 1969, 1970, 1971 and 1972 and be able to provide reliable proof of production.

Acceptable production evidence is limited to bin measurements, sales or warehouse receipts, warehouse ledger or summary sheets, or a producer's share of the total production when such production is not known. This evidence must be identified by the farm and year of production.

Production data received in the Morrow County ASCS office by Nov. 1 will be considered before notifying farmers of the official 1974 farm wheat yield.

According to the ASCS, a change in the proven yield provisions will be effective for 1975 and future crop years. The new provision reads to prove a 1975 yield, production information for the 1973 crop must be submitted to the county office before Jan. 1, 1974.

In the future all production will have to be proven in the year produced if yields are to be based on actual bushels produced.

For further information concerning acceptable production evidence and time of filing contact Morrow County ASCS office, Gilliam & Bisbee Building, Heppner.

Walter Harold Mason dies in California

Walter Harold Mason, 80, son of a Heppner pioneer family, died Oct. 8, at Elk Grove, Ca.

He was born in Heppner, Sept. 25, 1894, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mason. The Masons ranched in the Rhea Creek area since the early 1870s.

After graduating from Oregon State University in 1916, Mr. Mason enlisted in the U. S. Navy. During World War I, he was stationed in England to assemble airplanes.

After the war he taught high school manual training in La Grande, Redmond and Hood River for a number of years.

Mr. Mason returned to the family ranch for a few years and became interested in horse training. He moved to California 30 years ago and devoted the rest of his life to that career.

He was employed at the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stardar in Elk Grove until a year ago, and resided there until his death.

Services were held Oct. 10 and burial was in Sacramento Veterans Cemetery.

Survivors include two sisters, Clara E. Kincaid, Pioneer Memorial Nursing Home, Heppner, and Mabel E. Colter, Good Samaritan Nursing Home, Hermiston; and a brother, Joseph Mason Sr., Calaroga Terrace, Portland.

Be Careful!

All our little Trick or Treaters should wear light colored costumes or some reflective tape on their clothing. Mr. Motorist, please be especially watchful for the little ghosts and goblins. In all their excitement, they are apt to be careless. So, be extra careful, please.
