Pendleton Queen is engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Royal Raymond, Helix, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rebecca Ann, to Monte Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Evans, Heppner. The bride-elect, 1973 Pendleton Round-Up Queen, graduated from Griswold High School, Helix, and attended Oregon State University. She is now employed at Hamleys, Pendleton. Evans is a Heppner High School graduate and attended Blue Mountain Community College for two years. He is employed by Evans Ranches, Heppner. No wedding date has been set.

Cake baker 'man of the year' to be selected

The convention of the Oregon Wheat Growers League, which will be held at the Sheraton in Portland, Dec. 3-5, will feature the state cake baking contest with representatives from 10 county winners competing for the state honor. The state winner will receive a $100 check and a cake plate. All other county winners will receive a silver cake plate if they are present. Pacific Power & Light is aiding the league in the contest which will be held at John Adams High School. County winners include Peggy Kinzer, Gilliam County, and Beverly Doherty, Morrow County. The convention will also honor the county and state winners in the Soil Conservation Man of the year contest. The contest is co-sponsored by John Deere, who furnishes the county plaques and the plaque to the state winner. The tour to select the state winner under the chairmanship of Mel Moyer, last year's winner from Morrow County, has been completed but the state winner will not be announced until the convention. County winners competing for the state crown are: Roger Palmer, Morrow County; Gilbert Weatherspoon, Union County; Art Van Gilder, Sherman County; Jim Nelson, Gilliam County; Jack and Bill Etter, Umatilla County; and Bob Nixon, representing the Valley Counties.

Turkey Hop is Nov. 24

The annual Soroptimist Club Turkey Hop will be held the Saturday night after Thanksgiving. This holiday dance was started long ago by the Soroptimist Club especially for returning college students and any others who like to get together with Morrow County friends during the fall holiday weekend. The Country Revue musical group of six will furnish the music this year. These musicians played at the Heppner Elk's Club a few weeks ago. The Turkey Hop will begin at 9 p.m. and end at 1 a.m. at the Fairground Pavilion. The Soroptimist Club puts any money realized above expenses into its scholarship fund for college students. Mrs. Allan Hughes is in charge of dance arrangements this year.

Harris-Harrod vows exchanged in Vale

Sherri Sue Harrod, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harrod, Vale, became the bride of John Thomas Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrei Harris, Heppner, on Sept. 1. The ceremony was read by Rev. Richard Scott, at Vale Christian Church. The church was decorated with two baskets of pink gladioli and yellow daisies accented with candelabras holding pink and yellow candles in the background. Small wicker baskets filled with yellow snapdragons and pink daisies were in each window and on the guest table.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Robert L. Harrod, wore a floor-length gown of white chiffon over taffeta, featuring an empire waist and three tiers of gathered chiffon in the skirt. The bodice featured a square-neck trimmed with white lace and satin ribbon and long see-through sleeves. The bride's fingertip veil was gathered to a band of embroidered lace. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and yellow daisies with white satin ribbons.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Leon Steele, Anchorage, Alaska, sister of the bride, and bridesmaid was Sheila Sullivan. They wore long pink and yellow gowns fashioned in the same style as the bride's, with puffed sleeves. Their nosegays were pink and yellow daisies accented with streamers. Flower girl Lisa Steele and candlelighters Lynn and Christine Harrod wore floor-length aqua blue dresses in the same style as the bride's attendants, with only one ruffle at the hem.

Best man was Mike Hedman, Heppner. Ushers were Tom Harrod, Vale, and Larry Harrod, Nyssa, brothers of the bride. Wedding music was played by Mrs. James Buchman, Vale, with a solo by David Humphreys, Boise, Idaho. Mrs. Ed Harrod, Boise, gave two readings from The Prophet.

At the reception held at the Vale Parish Hall, the bride's table featured a three-tiered wedding cake. Goblets filled with pink and yellow daisies decorated the table and baskets of gladioli and daisies stood at each side. Serving were Mrs. Lowell Harrod, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Tom Harrod and Mrs. Larry Harrod, sisters-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Curtis Harrod and Mrs. Howard Harrod were in charge of gifts. LeAnn Barton was at the guest book.

For her going-away ensemble, the bride wore a bright yellow knit dress trimmed in white. After a wedding trip to the Oregon coast, the couple is at home in Corvallis.

The bride graduated from Vale Union High in 1971 and attended Eastern Oregon College and Oregon College of Education, majoring in education and music.

The bridegroom graduated from Heppner High School in 1970 and attended EOC for two years and Oregon State University for one year, majoring in agriculture. Both are attending OSU this year.

Lost billfold, and other complications!

Mr. and Mrs. Gar Swanson visited with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Swanson of Auburn, Wn., for five days last week. It was the first meeting of Gar and Irene with their month-old granddaughter, Erin Jo. Irene lost her billfold while enroute home. She stopped to make a phone call and left the billfold in the booth. She gave it up for lost and telephoned all concerned companies to tell them of the lost of her credit cards.

Thursday, she received a call from a man in Portland to her in the mail. He said he called because he knew she would be concerned about it. Irene's next problem was to get the cancelled credit cards restored to use.

SON BORN TO THE ELMER SAMES

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer G. Sames, Heppner, are the parents of a son born Nov. 6 in Prosser, Wn. He has been named Grant Kevin, and joins three sisters, Syndi, 12, Stephanie, 9, and Sandra, 4. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Root, Dash Point, Wn. and Mrs. Mabel Sams, Prosser, Wn. Sams is employed by Columbia Basin Electric co-op.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Crabtree went to Tacoma over the weekend to visit their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Crabtree. Ron is a fireman for the Seattle Fire Department. Leo and Irene reported they found a lot of snow and ice on the roads, especially at Cascade Locks.

GREAT-GRANDSON VISITS FAMILY

Leonard Bryant Gilman, five months old, was here visiting his two great-grandmothers and his great-grandfather and other family members recently. He flew from Long Beach, California with his grandmother, Mrs. Leonard Gilman (Maxine "Mickey" McCurdy), to visit her parents, Della and Harlan McCurdy, and his grandfather's mother, Mrs. Viola Gilman. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lance Gilman.

The Womens Activity Committee of Willows Grange will meet Friday, Nov. 16, at 2 p.m. in the grange hall. Mrs. Bryce Keene and Mrs. Perry Morter will be hostesses.

Fire chief asks donation of toys

Heppner Fire Chief Forey Burkenbine told the Soroptimist Club Thursday about the volunteer fire crew's toy-fixing project started eight years ago as a cooperative project with the recently disbanded Junior Chamber of Commerce, and now carried on by the firemen alone. Each Soroptimist brought a toy to the meeting with her.

The first year 60 needy children were given Christmas toys at an overall cost of $60, but by last year the number of needy children had decreased and the cost too had gone down to $26 as the firemen have built up a reserve of spare parts to be used in repairs.

Firemen give regular work time after their drills on the 2nd and 4th Monday evenings of each month—some of them often stay until midnight working on toys. The welfare office takes over the distribution of the toys. As the gifts range from things for tiny babies through teen-agers, a wide variety of articles can be used. There is a real need for help with fresh doll clothes. The fire chief asks also for children's books and for odd bits of paint. He says Christmas wrapping papers and ribbons would be especially appreciated.

Merry Mixers elect

The Merry Mixers Cooking Club of the lone 4-H met Nov. 1, at the home of their leader, Mrs. Pat Pettyjohn. The club elected their officers for the 1973-74 year: president, Laurie Childers; vice-president, Grace McElligott; secretary-treasurer, Carol McElligott; sergeant-at-arms, Elizabeth McElligott; and junior leaders, Joan McElligott and Terry McElligott.

The other members are Natalie Tews, Jan Peterson, Diane Mortor, Martha McElligott, Jeanie Piening and Michelle McElligott. Next meeting is Nov. 8 at which time members will make a chicken dinner.

Persons who wish to donate can leave toys and materials at the fire station. "Just don't set the things in front of the fire trucks," the chief warns. If anyone would like to have toys picked up, they can telephone any volunteer fireman and he will see that someone comes to get them.

Another feature of the luncheon meeting was the addition of a new club member, Avon Melby, an independent news correspondent. Plans for the club's Christmas giving were announced.

Diana Cutsforth to wed Nov. 24

Friends and relatives are invited to the wedding of Diana Cutsforth, daughter of Mrs. Gene Cutsforth, Lexington, and Steve Partlow, son of John Partlow, Portland, and Mrs. LaVerne Partlow, Boardman, on Saturday, Nov. 24, at 4 p.m. at Hope Lutheran Church. A reception will follow.

LEXINGTON GRANGE MEETS MONDAY

Lexington Grange will meet Monday, Nov. 19. The turkey dinner provided by the grange will begin at 6:30 p.m., with potluck desserts and salads by members. The charter will be draped for Adolph Majeske, followed by a short program and business meeting at 7:30 p.m.

ESA sorority seeks chapter in Heppner

Rita Harris and Ellen Kennedy, Heppner, have announced plans for forming a new chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha International in Heppner.

Mrs. Harris, a 15-year active ESA member in other chapters, said invitations will be mailed next week to 50 persons recommended for charter membership. Ten members are required for a charter.

There will be a series of three organizational parties, the first to be Nov. 26. A slide program will be presented as an explanation of ESA. District President Katie Low, Pilot Rock, will attend.

ESA International, founded in 1929, is one of the world's most distinctive leadership-service organizations with 33,000 members working together to aid the handicapped and meet community needs, according to ESA officials.

In addition to stressing benevolent projects and furthering personal education, ESA encourages social events for members and their guests to complete the triad of education, service and association.

"ESA strives to unite congenial women throughout the world for the purpose of friendship, development of each member's leadership abilities and active participation in philanthropic projects.

"ESA is one of the few women's service groups which gives awards for philanthropy, leadership and community service in a well-planned program which stresses individual achievement."

The Gospolites here Sunday

The Gospolites, nationally known recording artists, will appear at the Heppner Christian Church at 9:30 a.m. and at the Lexington Church of Christ at 11 a.m., Sunday, Nov. 18.

The three singers will be presenting the Gospel in song, word and testimony. The public is invited to attend either performance.

NEEDLE THREADERS PLAN BAKE SALE

The Needle Threaders met Oct. 24 to work on their projects, and to plan a bake sale after the holidays to raise money for a trip to Pendleton.

Robert Worden, Heppner, a junior science student at Oregon State University, and David Warren, lone, freshman engineering student, are members of OSU's 150-piece marching band this fall.
