

Carolyn Hughes, 2nd grader at Heppner Elementary School, tries to get into the spirit of Thanksgiving by making a silhouette of a Pilgrim girl. Carolyn is a pupil in Mrs. Sue Jones' class.

Dee Hare, Don Jorgensen wed

IRRIGON - The former Dee Hare and Don Jorgensen were married in a quiet ceremony at the Lutheran Church in Hermiston, Nov. 14.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Hare of Umatilla. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jorgensen of Irrigon.

A wedding reception was given for them at the Lions Club house in Irrigon Saturday night. Out-of-town guests here for the occasion included his brother, Bud, and son, Jason Jorgensen of Toronto, Canada; Mrs. Doris Gage-Cole and son, Murray, Mr. and Mrs. T. McGiverson, Gordon Monroe and Debbie Holler, Mrs. May Young, all of Vancouver B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Young of Cranbrook B.C.; Linda Higgins of Kennewick; Mr. and Mrs. William Monroe, Vancouver B.C.; and many other friends from the Umatilla-Hermiston-Irrigon area.

The newlyweds plan to make their home in Irrigon. He is a graduate of Riverside High School, and served in the Air Force as a helicopter mechanic in Vietnam. He is now engaged in the trucking business.

CREATIVE TEACHING WORKSHOP IS NOV. 27

A "Creative Teaching Workshop" will be held Tuesday, Nov. 27, 1:30 p.m., at the Methodist Church in Heppner. Mrs. Mike Howell, Mrs. Rick Curtis and Mrs. Weldon Witherrite will conduct the workshop to assist extension study group leader-teachers in presenting information to groups.

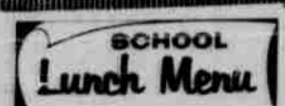

Mrs. Howell will demonstrate the use and making of visuals as a teaching tool. Mrs. Curtis will give ideas on making discussion lessons more interesting, and Mrs. Witherrite will present ideas on giving demonstration lessons.

All clubs and groups are invited to attend the informative session.

Artefactory here, Dec. 1

The second American Association of University Women arts and crafts fair and book sale will take place at the Degree of Honor Building on Heppner's Main Street, Saturday, Dec. 1.

Admission is free, and everyone is invited to see craft demonstrations and to inspect handwork on display.

Books for the sale are being collected at the Bank of Eastern Oregon. Contributions of children's books will be especially appreciated.

Persons wishing to enter crafts for sale should phone Mary Pat Lande at 676-9752, soon. Those with books to give that need to be picked up, phone Daryce Franzen at 676-5068 or Maxine Rietman at 422-7489.

The sale hours are from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Coffee, punch, pie and cookies will be served during those hours. Karen Beck and Pat Edmundson are arranging these refreshments.

The Degree of Honor Building is between the First National Bank and Miladies Apparel.

The Artefactory date was chosen to that it would offer timely Christmas gift purchasing possibilities. It also will offer inspiration to persons who want to move ahead with some handcraft.

All members of the Heppner Branch of A.A.U.W. are to meet at the Degree of Honor Building on Friday night, Nov. 30, to work at getting ready for the Artefactory.

Harvest theme for garden club dinner

In a setting of harvest colors and candlelight, 18 members and guests of the Heppner Garden Club shared a potluck dinner Nov. 12 at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Wallace Wolff.

Guests included Mrs. Royal Cambers, district director, Blue Mountain Garden Clubs No. 10; Mrs. Charles Dallas, state chairman, Junior Gardeners East; and Miss Karen Dallas, all of Pendleton.

Following the dinner and a short business meeting, Mrs. Cambers presented a special program illustrating the unity of national, state, district and individual garden clubs. Her graphic drawing of an old-fashioned windmill with each section representing the organizations, depicted the 12 garden clubs of District 10 as the paddles moving in the wind to keep "the action" flowing.

Mrs. Dallas gave a demonstration of corsage making, using pine cones, seed pods and dried native materials.

During the coffee hour, guests were presented thank-you gifts made by Heppner senior citizens.

The next meeting will be the annual Christmas workshop at the Methodist Church basement on Monday, Dec. 10. The potluck dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m., followed by the workshop at 8 p.m.

Reunion dance Saturday

A chance for folks visiting in Heppner and their stay-at-home friends to get together is offered at the annual Soroptimist Club's Saturday night Turkey Hop.

This Thanksgiving weekend event was organized especially for college students who return, but has become a "welcome home" event for people of all ages.

The music this year will be by a new group, the six-piece Country Revue. Charley Lavendar is the group leader.

Hours are set from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m., at the Fairgrounds Pavilion Building.

Any money realized from admissions beyond the cost of the dance will go to the Soroptimist Club scholarship fund. This year several local youths have received money from this fund to help with their college or vocational training.

The committee for this year's Turkey Hop includes Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Sweet and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Weatherford.

Effie Johnson moves away

About nine and one-half years ago Mrs. Effie Johnson came to Heppner from San Pedro, Ca. She came here because her son, Bill Johnson, was then an appraiser for Morrow County.

During these years Effie has been very active in Methodist Church groups. She has served as president of the Susannah Circle for several years and has held several offices in the W.S.C.

Nov. 17, Effie moved to The Dalles. She will live in a duplex right beside son Bill, daughter-in-law Joyce and grandsons, Chris and John. Her The Dalles address is 1817 East 12th St. She is hopeful that her Heppner friends will stop to visit her there.

Last week she was honored with three dinner parties. Mary Bailey had some of her friends at her home on Monday evening, the Bill Weatherfords honored her on Thursday evening, and Mrs. Amanda Duvall gave a dinner party on Friday.

A few facts about the public library

Are you interested in the state and county? The Heppner Public Library has a good collection of books about Oregon and several helpful ones about Morrow County, quite a few by Oregon authors.

Like to stay awake tonight with a good mystery story? You can choose from a large stock of mystery books which fill a good-sized group of shelves.

Except for the Oregon Collection the local library does not pretend to offer a large selection of research books. It can be helpful with much general and interesting information. Its principal function, however, is to provide recreational reading for persons of any age level.

The library does not charge a user's fee. Anyone can come in and sign a borrower's card (young children need to get a parent's signature on their cards.) Children's books are grouped by age or school levels.

Presently the library is open Monday, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 1 until 5 o'clock. It is also open for one and one-half hours Monday and Wednesday evenings--from 7:30 until 9 o'clock.

If you feel that you would be interested in different days and different hours, stop at the librarian's desk and make your preference known. The present hours will be continued for some time, but the library board members and the librarian want to please the community and would be happy to provide service at the hours people prefer.

Christmas mailing deadline tightened

Postmaster Hubert Wilson today joined Postmaster General E.T. Klassen in urging the residents of Heppner to post their domestic and foreign Christmas mail one to two weeks earlier than the Postal Service originally recommended, so that the energy shortage will not interfere with the on-time deliveries.

"The urgency of the fuel energy crisis compels us to request a one-week advancement to suggested dates we gave for domestic mail and a two-week advancement for foreign mail," Postmaster Wilson said.

The new deadline for posting domestic first-class Christmas mail is Dec. 8 rather than Dec. 15, as previously announced. Domestic surface parcels, except those for Alaska and Hawaii, should be mailed by Dec. 3, instead of Dec. 10. To Alaska and Hawaii, mail by Nov. 23 instead of Nov. 30.

Air mail parcels and letters within the United States (except Alaska and Hawaii) should be posted no later than Dec. 15, rather than Dec. 21. To Alaska and Hawaii, mail by Dec. 13, rather than Dec. 20.

"The seriousness of the fuel shortage to the Postal Service is underlined," Wilson said, "by the fact that in addition to the fuel consumed by commercial air carriers, we require approximately 350 million gallons of fuel to travel 2.25 billion miles delivering the 90 billion pieces of mail that flow through the system each year. Our requirements for the month of December alone is 45 million gallons."

Wilson said that "public cooperation on meeting these new, advance mail early dates is needed to help us complete all Christmas deliveries."

Slide lecture on art

Dr. Margaret McDevitt, Pendleton, gave a slide-illustrated lecture on modern art to A.A.U.W. members and guests at the Hope Lutheran Church, Nov. 13.

Dr. McDevitt was supervisor of art for the Salem, Oregon, school system before she joined the Blue Mountain College staff in Pendleton. She is well known here and has conducted extension painting classes at Lexington for the last several years.

Before the lecture, A.A.U.W. members held their November business meeting. The branch determined to invite non-degree women who are interested in its program to come to branch meetings and study groups as local associate members. Ruth Maata gave a discussion-provoking report from the county schools' Long Range Planning Committee which she attends as the A.A.U.W. representative.

Among the guests present were six members of the Bookworm Club who made the lecture a substitute for their club's first November meeting.

AUSTRALIA IS STUDY GROUPS' TOPIC

"Australia--the Exciting Land Under," will be December's topic for extension study groups in Morrow County, according to Birdine Tullis, program extension aide.

The lesson will feature the customs, history and life style of the Australian people.

Women in the county are invited to attend one of the following study groups: Rhea Creek Study Group, Dec. 5, at the Rhea Creek Grange Hall; Pine City Study Group, Dec. 12, at Carl Rhea home; Boardman-Irrigon Study Group, Dec. 13, at Francis McCoy home.

Rhea Creek Grange CWA elects

Ladies of Rhea Creek Grange CWA met at the home of the Walter Wright for a Thanksgiving luncheon, Nov. 15.

Attending were Dorris Graves, Mary Wright, Frieda Slocum, Martha VanSchoiack, Olla Ruggles, Evalyn Farnes, Emma Drake, Ann Bergstrom, Pearl Wright, Muriel Palmer, Oma Cox, Judy Stevens, Walter and Mildred Wright.

A short business meeting followed with officers elected for the coming year. Mildred Wright was elected chairman; Judy Stevens, vice-chairman; and Mary Wright, secretary. The club will send a Christmas remembrance of $10 to the state hospital at Pendleton. Due to the need for conserving of fuel and electricity, it was decided to have the Christmas party and program at the regular Grange night on Dec. 14 instead of on a separate night, as it has always been on previous years.

The CWA will meet at the home of Mary Wright on Dec. 20.

Kristin Sue Nelson, who is attending Oregon State University's School of Home Economics, is among those seniors who have been initiated into Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honor society which accepts only those students who rank in the upper 5 per cent of their class, scholastically.

The Heppner Soroptimist Club is sponsoring "Pictures with Santa," Dec. 1, at 2 p.m. at the Heppner Fire Hall.

Members of the club will be taking Polaroid pictures of children with Santa Claus. A small fee will be charged for the pictures.
