

MR. AND MRS. JAMES PARTLOW JR.

Johnston-Partlow vows exchanged

Pamela Ann Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Johnston, Heppner, became the bride of James Partlow Jr., son of Mrs. Roy Partlow and the late Roy Partlow, Boardman, on Dec. 29, 1973. The ceremony was performed by Father Raymond Beard at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Heppner.

Church decorations were poinsettias around the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length princess style gown accented with touches of lace on bell sleeves and a shoulder-length veil of illusion net, held in place by a tiara of pearls. She carried a bouquet of chartreuse carnations.

The maid of honor, Glenda Kay Van Winkle, wore a chartreuse gown with touches of white and a white headband. Her flowers were green carnations with white ribbon streamers.

Best man was Mike Partlow, Boardman, brother of the bridegroom. Greg Johnston, Heppner, brother of the bride, and Rick Partlow, Boardman, brother of the bridegroom, served as ushers.

Wedding music was provided by Marguerite Glavey.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Partlow chose a beige tapestry knit. Mrs. Johnston wore a pastel blue knit. Mothers' corsages were white carnations.

The wedding reception was held at the Wagon Wheel Banquet Room which was decorated with poinsettias and other Christmas greenery.

Mrs. Gary Ball poured punch and Mrs. Garry Tullis, aunt of the bride, poured coffee. Mrs. Howard Bryant, aunt of the bride served the cake. Mrs. Rick Johnston attended the gift table.

Guests attending from out of town were Mrs. LaVerne Partlow, Irrigon; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Partlow, Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. John Partlow, Walla Walla, Wn.; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davidson, Beaverton; and Mr. and Mrs. Rick Johnston and family, Portland.

The couple will reside in Bremerton, where the bridegroom is stationed with the U.S. Navy. In late spring, they plan to reside in San Francisco.

The bride graduated from Heppner High School, attended Blue Mountain Community College, and had been employed at First National Bank, Heppner.

The bridegroom is a Riverside High School graduate and is serving his second tour of duty with the Navy.

SNAPPY SNIPPERS GO TO WORK

The two January meetings of the Snappy Snippers were held at the home of Mrs. Paul Tews.

At the Jan. 8 meeting members learned how to match plaids and chose their own outfits to start sewing on at the next meeting.

On Jan. 22 members brought material and the leaders, Mrs. Tews and Mrs. Herb Peterson, helped lay out material and patterns for cutting. Some members were able to begin sewing on their garments.

BOOK "FUTURE SHOCK" TO BE DISCUSSED

The Heppner Branch of AAUW will hold its annual Husband and Wife Night Tuesday, Feb. 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the elementary school.

A film narrated by Orson Wells about the book, "Future Shock" by Alvin Toffler, will be shown.

Jane Rawlins, head of the high school Department of English, will lead a discussion of the film and the book. Patsy Tom and Marion Abrams will be hostesses for the evening.

CLUB FOOD SALES SCHEDULED

The Carnation Club met last week at the Degree of Honor Lodge in Heppner.

The club is associated with the Degree of Honor Lodge.

A food sale was planned for Feb. 13 and a food sale and bazaar for April 12. Both events will take place at the lodge beginning at 10 a.m.

The next meeting is Feb. 12, 8 p.m., at the lodge.

FRANK OSMINS HAVE A SON

Frank and Judy Osmin, Lakeview, former Heppner residents, are the parents of a son, Derik Allen, born Jan. 21 in Lakeview. He joins his 3-year-old sister, J.J.

Grandparents are Al Osmin, Heppner, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Taylor, Lakeview.

Joint installation for lodge officers

Joint installation of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs was held Jan. 12 at the IOOF Hall.

A ham dinner preceded the installation, prepared and served by Sans Souci Rebekahs.

Ralph Beamer and Mrs. Archie Munkers acted as district deputy grand master and district deputy president in the absence of Pete and Mary McMurtry, who hold these offices in the two lodges.

Cornett Green and Ruth Bergstrom installed marshals for the lodges.

Mrs. Carl Marquardt and her daughters entertained with songs and music. Noble Grand Mrs. Ruggles had requested a favorite, "How Great Thou Art." Both noble grands gave a brief talk to their members. One of the highlights of the evening for Noble Grand Mrs. Ruggles was a letter from U.S. Senator Bob Packwood congratulating her on being elected Noble Grand of Sans Souci Rebekah Lodge for 1974, and wishing her a successful year.

Ecumenical services Sunday

On Sunday evening, Feb. 3, the South Morrow County Ministerial Association will be sponsoring an ecumenical song service.

It will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the First Christian Church in Heppner. The service will consist mainly of singing and it will be led by Mr. and Mrs. John Maatta. The community is invited to this worship service.

This service will be the first in a series of ecumenical worship services which will be held various churches in the Heppner area. Each will have a different format so than many different interests can be met. They are presented to help churches in the area become better acquainted with each other.

50 DANCE, DRILL TEAMS INVITED

The Heppner High School dance team will host a small schools drill-dance team competition in Heppner, March 30.

Fifty class A schools have been invited and so far 12 have accepted.

A first, second and third place rating is each category will be awarded for the best drills and dances.

The judges will also give an award for the best uniforms.

Changes made at public library

At a meeting of the library board Jan. 23 two new members were appointed to the book selection committee to replace Lucy Peterson and Dick Schlichting, who have resigned.

New hours were adopted for the library to begin on Feb. 1. John Pfeiffer and Pauline Bier were selected to compete the six-member book committee. Hold-over members are Marion Abrams, Florence Green, Helen Curran and Bob Jones.

Beginning Feb. 2, the 15 hours of library service will be: Monday and Wednesday from 12:30 until 5 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday, 2 to 4 p.m.; Thursday, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The new hours will offer library service on five different days instead of three days, as has been the practice. Also, the new hours will make it possible for readers to visit the library during noon hours on Monday and Wednesday.

Instead of being open for one and one-half hours on two evenings, the facility will now be open two hours on one evening, Thursday. The Sunday afternoon opening was tried out on Dec. 23 and Dec. 30 and will now be a regular feature each week. Saturday hours are being reduced from four to two hours.

Members of the book selection committee met with the librarian, Mrs. Justine Weatherford, Sunday afternoon to consider the purchase of new books. If citizens are eager to have certain books considered, they are asked to call one of the committee members very soon and to state their wishes.

The library board and the librarian wish to thank the volunteers who have come to help catalog books. They also wish to especially thank the following persons who have given books and magazines to the library recently: Lesley Patching, Judy Rickert, W.W. Weatherford III, Pauline Hughes and Curtis Lynch.

Sunday evening groups planned

Two Sunday evening groups are arranged to meet each Sunday evening from Feb. 3 until the close of the school year.

A junior and senior high school group has begun meetings in the basement of the Christian Church at Heppner each Sunday evening at 6 p.m. A varied program is offered under the leadership of Ruth and John Maatta. This group has scheduled a field trip to

Pendleton on Wednesday, Feb. 6, to view the new Billy Graham film, "Time To Run."

The South Morrow Ministerial Association is cooperatively offering Sunday evening services for adults each Sunday at 7:30 p.m. These services will feature different programs and will be held in different churches. The first program will be a songfest next Sunday, Feb. 3, at the Heppner Christian Church. Ruth and John Maatta will lead the singing.

Junior high and senior high students from any or no church are cordially invited to attend the youth group at 6 o'clock. Any adults are welcome to come to the 7 o'clock programs.

Oregonian writes of Indian lore

A BOOK REVIEW

On Jan. 15, Fay Ferguson, Hermiston, was the reviewer at the Bookworms Club meeting in the Robert Abram's home. Mrs. Ferguson chose Chief Joseph's Alps by Dallas William Green for her review.

Dallas Green is a first cousin of Heppner's Ola Mae Groshens and has visited in Heppner several times. He has written three books since his retirement from business. His first, Freedom Rings on Three Brothers, tells a story of earlier members of his family and of their lives during homestead days in the Horse Heaven Country of Eastern Washington.

The writer went to school in La Grande and spent his youth in the Snake and Salmon River country. While living there he became fascinated with Chief Joseph's Nez Perce ancestral heritage where Northeastern Oregon joins Southeastern Washington and Northwestern Idaho. Green's 1972 historical novel reflects his great love of Wallowa and shows his careful study of the history and customs and the feelings of its original citizens.

Dallas Green's third book, a collection of his poetry entitled Echoes on the Wind, was published near the end of 1973.

Chief Joseph Alps begins with the marriage of Tender Willow, a 16-year-old Indian maiden, and Running Deer, a 17-year-old Nez Perce warrior, which took place at the time of Chief Joseph's final surrender. The young couple traveled from Bear Paw Mountain, where their great nation died near the Canadian border, back to the Wallowa Mountains where they made their home and lived through many tribulations.

The time span is from 1877 into the second decade of the 20th century. The great social changes they lived through carry them from tribal practices into relationships with the white man's institutions. Their children grow, are educated, marry and have children. Their three palouse ponies multiply and become the basis of a herd of Appaloosa.

Tender Willow and Running Deer always cherished their memories of their ancestors and teach their children and grandchildren to be proud of their Nez Perce heritage.
