

Flower arranging workshop planned

Flower arranging "flower power" know-how is being offered in a special workshop to be presented by the Morrow County Extension Service, Monday, June 17.

Guest instructor for the two-hour workshop is Mrs. Connie Telefson, an Oregon Federation of Garden Clubs certified flower judge, from Milton-Freewater.

Hours for the workshop are from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. It is to be held in the dormitory building at the fairgrounds in Heppner. Adults and young people are invited to attend, according to Birdine Tullis, extension assistant for the county.

Mrs. Telefson is considered an expert in flower arranging. She has judged flowers and arrangements at the Morrow County Fair as well as clothing exhibits. She is well known to residents here.

Those attending are asked to bring some flowers to arrange. These flowers should be picked and put in water the night before. Some type of vase or container should be brought by each participant, a needlepoint holder or "frog" and floral clay. Those who wish, may bring driftwood or miscellaneous items to be incorporated into an arrangement.

4-H group goes to OSU

Eighteen older 4-H members accompanied by Agent Mike Howell and chaperone, Marge Shade, Irrigon, left Monday for a week of education and fun on the campus of Oregon State University.

Ruth Ann Keithley and Tom Wolff, Heppner, will serve as county representatives with responsibilities for the total 4-H delegation. Ruth Ann assumed the duties of county representative because Mary Healy could not attend.

Those attending from Irrigon are Scott Acock, Wayne Huwe, Robert Richards; Heppner, Linda Bier, Lynne Gochnauer, Janice Healy, Ruth Ann Keithley, Melody Mariatt, John Myers, Cathy Palmer, Shelley Thompson, Lori Turner, Joan Warren, Kathy and Tom Wolff; Ione, Clint Carlson, Joan Doherty and Jan Peterson.

Bus driver, Leonard Munkers, will participate in the summer school activities, driving groups of 4-H members to the OSU Marine Science Center at Newport. The delegation was joined at Arlington by part of the Gilliam County group attending summer school.

Annual Hardman Reunion Sunday

All Hardmanites, past and present, are invited to attend the 12th Annual Hardman Reunion to be held this year on Father's Day, June 16, at the IOOF Hall, Hardman.

All Hardman residents, former residents and their friends are welcome to the gathering, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. A potluck dinner will be served.

FRIENDS INVITED TO JUNE 22 WEDDING

Friends and relatives of Kerry Coppock and Larry Pettyjohn are invited to attend their wedding at Hope Lutheran Church, Heppner, June 22, and the reception that follows.

The couple will be married at 2 p.m.

DENNIS CAMPBELLS HAVE A SON

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Campbell, Heppner, are parents of a son, Robert Frederick, born May 30 at Pendleton Community Hospital. He joins a sister, Tarina Marie, 4 years old.

Grandparents are Ellen Campbell, Heppner, and R.M. Berry, Eagle Creek. Great-grandmother is Alma Morgan, Heppner.

CANDI MANSFIELD TO WED JUNE 22

A bridal shower, honoring Miss Candi Mansfield, was given recently in Ione by Mrs. Bill Nichols and Mrs. Robert Humphrey.

Miss Mansfield and her fiancée, Mike Rowell, plan a June 22 wedding.

Ionians attending the State Grange meeting this week in Oregon City are Mr. and Mrs. Burl Akers, Mary Lindsay and Helen McCabe.

A.M. Edwards is a patient in the nursing home in Condon.

Garden club wins honors

Mrs. Van Hubbard and Mrs. Fredrick Martin were delegates representing the Ione Garden Club at the state convention in Eugene, June 3-5.

Again this year the Ione club won several awards including 1st place, Class I division, for the club yearbook, and 3rd place, Class I division, for the club history book. Mrs. Martin's wildflower slides won awards, including 1st place for a close up of a prickly pear cactus and 3rd place for a long-leaved pink phlox, in its habitat.

Class I division denotes clubs with less than 24 members.

CARLA THORP WINS SPECIAL HONOR

Each year the Heppner Soroptimist Club honors an outstanding 8th grade girl graduate. She is recommended by her teachers and principal as a capable student and outstanding citizen.

Carla Thorp was chosen as this year's honor girl and was awarded a Series E Bond from the Soroptimists by her principal, Don Cole, at the school's awards assembly. Carla is the daughter of Carl Thorp. She lives with her grandmother, Rita Thorp, on Gilmore Street.

ELKS FLAG DAY SERVICE TONIGHT

The annual Elks Lodge Flag Day service will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the lodge building.

Flags depicting the history of the United States will be presented by members of Boy Scout Troop 661 during the service. The service will be conducted by the local Elks lodge officers and music will be provided by Juanita Carmicheal.

CAUTION PARADE AHEAD

There will be a parade down Main Street Friday morning. Students of the Joint Vacation Bible School, in progress at the Methodist Church, will close its week-long school by parading from the church to Murray's Drug Store and back. The parade will begin from the Methodist Church at 11 a.m. Friday.

Each class in the school has been making signs all week long to carry in the parade. The class with the best signs and noise makers will lead the parade.

Community supports Boy Scout program

Boy Scout Troop No. 661 is receiving response to its mail fund-raising campaign launched the first week in May, reporting $446 donated to date.

Letters were sent to past contributors, sustaining members and local businessmen. Most of the funds collected will go to the Blue Mountain Council which is the headquarters for Northeast Oregon and Washington scouts. However, some contributors have earmarked donations for the local treasury as well as a portion retained to cover fees for local activities.

The national scouting organization reports $15 a year per scout is required to cover the costs of such items as literature, merit badges and other organizational needs. The Blue Mountain Council provides a camp at Wallowa Lake staffed by full-time counselors, and offers 18 training programs in merit badge classes such as canoeing, life-saving and swimming. The Heppner troop attends one week each summer.

Funds to remain in Heppner help support outings, campouts, community service and other local troop activities. Scoutmaster Del Piper of Lexington, assisted by Herman Winter, Glen Ward and John Gochnauer, devote much time as leaders, counselors and chaperones to the 30 boys, aged 12-18. In the near future a few of these boys will earn the highest rank of Eagle Scout.

In addition to the mail campaign, Troop No. 661 earns money by selling Christmas trees. They are also supported by the Heppner Elks Lodge, BPOE No. 358, where they recently held a luncheon to start the letter drive.

"The success of the drive is due to the response and generosity of contributors this year as well as in the past, some of whom have boys well past scouting age or have never had scouts," said Harley Young, fund drive chairman.

Anyone wishing to contribute may still do so before the drive ends on June 30.

FRIENDS INVITED TO HEDMAN-JONES WEDDING

Friends and relatives are cordially invited to attend the wedding of Bobbette Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones, and Dale Hedman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnie Hedman, on Sunday, June 16, 2 p.m., at All Saints Episcopal Church, Heppner.

A reception will follow.

Story hours set

For children 4 through 8 years old there will be something to do on Mondays this summer. The Associated University Women's story hour at the library is being held again this year.

The first story hour is planned for June 24 and will continue for eight weeks. Hours are 10 to 10:30 a.m.

This summer each story hour will be held in the main entrance of the library, museum building. A member of AAUW as well as the story teller will be with the children at each session.

The schedule of story tellers has been tentatively scheduled as follows: June 24, story teller, Karen Dubuque; July 1, surprise; July 15, Marion Abrams; July 22, Ritta Wolff; July 29, Kathy Wolff; Aug. 5, Pastor Mark Johnson; Aug. 12, Carol Godin; and Aug. 19, Linda Johnson.

OFFICIALS DISCUSS LIBRARY DEVELOPMENT

Representatives of the county, city council, two Heppner school libraries and the city public library board met with State Librarian Eloise Ebert and Library Consultants Neil R. Riggs and William Gregory Tuesday evening to discuss library growth and development in Morrow County.

Miss Ebert asked County Planner Del Smith about the tremendous growth in the north county. She said that the State Library is receiving many inquiries about industrial and residential growth and its environmental impact. Planner Smith reviewed some of the developments taking place and said that future plans "stagger one's imagination."

The Salem librarians urged that county and committees from the library board and city plan ahead, and "Think big." They pointed out that thoughtful families want their communities to offer cultural advantages as well as to provide for basic needs.

During an afternoon visit with Justine Weatherford, a tentative plan to place the children's books in the room at the back of the existing library was considered. It is thought this room will become available for almost exclusive library use after the museum addition is completed.

Miss Ebert was enthusiastic about possibilities of developing an attractive children's library. She spoke about the need for the additional space that would then be released for the growth of the adult collection, and said she hoped that periodicals might be kept a little longer on the convenient shelving that would be released.

The state librarian was pleased with the community support the library here enjoys. She praised community involvement in the open-house and autograph party held early this spring, and was very pleased with the library aides class Blue Mountain College conducted here in April and May.

Valuable gift for library

State Librarian Eloise Ebert and Consultants Neil R. Riggs and William Gregory brought a complete catalog of the non-fiction holdings of the State Library to the Heppner Library last week.

The 36 gift volumes list all the State Library's non-fiction books by subject, author and title.

The master catalog and supplementary volumes, including 1973 acquisitions, make it possible for persons here to obtain books from the state's collection easily and quickly.

The Heppner Library will mail book requests to Salem, and the state will mail the books back at no cost to the borrower. The patron is asked only to pay the return postage on the book.

Persons planning to purchase non-fiction books might study these listings to find what the state has to offer.

The production of the master catalog and its supplements is an expensive undertaking. Only a limited number were produced. The set which has come to Heppner was recently returned to the State Library by Maryhurst College.

10 women are off to college

Ten Morrow County women will be among the more than 400 Oregon women attending the first "Mini College for Homemakers" on OSU Campus, June 18-21.

The new event is attracting widespread interest from women in the state, with more registered to attend than anticipated. The unique experience allows homemakers to attend a wide variety of classes in the college atmosphere, enjoying a break from homemaking chores, learning and having fun.

Attending from Morrow County will be Mrs. Merlin Hughes, Mrs. Len Ray Schwartz, Mrs. John Graves, Mrs. Ken Nelson, Mrs. Ken Wright, Mrs. George Currin, Mrs. Bill Weatherford, Mrs. Bob Kroll, Mrs. Roland Bergstrom and Mrs. Garry Tullis. Mrs. Graves will be assisting with one of the many classes, "Peticoats and Politics," as one of her duties as District VII Director for the Oregon Extension Homemakers Council.

HEARING CLINIC FOR ADULTS TODAY

A hearing clinic for adults only will be held at the Heppner Elementary School Thursday, June 13, starting at 6 p.m.

An appointment is necessary for the examination, which is free, and may be had by calling the Morrow County Health Department at 676-9911, sponsors of this service.
