

Airstrip gets PC approval

The Morrow County Planning Commission approved an application for a conditional use permit by Tagarres & Simplot to build a runway for Willow Creek Farms, but conflict over Navy air space for the Boardman Bombing Range will force the issue to the Federal Aviation Agency.

Steve Sackmann, representing Willow Creek Farms, a 16,000-acre farming operation planted in potatoes and wheat, need the airstrip for crop spraying and flying in potato crews. The proposed runway is 5,000 feet long and 80 feet wide and would be in use for 50 days out of the year for crop spraying.

Conflict with the Navy stems from the fact that Willow Creek Farms is two miles from the Navy air corridor for the Boardman Bombing Range. Navy representative Commander Cobb said at the Monday night meeting that "the Navy is willing to accommodate the crop planes, but the FAA must first agree to allow the planes in the restricted area."

In a letter to the FAA, the Navy requested that an FAA safety specialist be sent out to study the problem, and although the Navy will argue to maintain priority use of the air corridor, a scheduling of spraying operations could be worked out that would not interfere with Navy flights.

In other action by the planning commission, applications for conditional use permits were approved for a 15-space addition to an existing trailer court in Irigon owned by Harold S. Hadley and a retail nursery to be located out of Boardman owned by Arthur Doubledee.

Over The Tee Cup

By R & L

It's been quiet at Willow Creek—fair week is a busy time for everyone. As our members prepare to get back into the swing of school and civic activities, we hope they keep in mind that we still have some good events scheduled through September.

A "golf and grill" is slated for Sept. 1. This should be a safe way to spend your Labor Day weekend—although your reporters have witnessed a few wild shots on the course! But, bring your family and take your chances with us. Tee-off time will be 4 p.m.; bring a salad if you're A to I, a desert if you're J to Z.

Our club has been invited to McNary on Sept. 15. The men will start play at 8:30; the girls will begin around noon. There will be a sign-up sheet at the clubhouse for this visitation; this is the last planned invitational of the year, so do attend if you can.

Approximately a dozen men played at Willow Run Sunday. Unfortunately, we were unable to obtain the results of their day in time for this week's column. We'll try to have that information for you next week.

Pat and Vicki Edmundson and Dorothy Glenn were the winners last ladies' day. In anticipation of cooler weather and busier mornings, we'll begin play at 9:30 for the rest of the season. Sept. 3 is our regular first-of-the-month sack lunch morning; bring a sandwich and celebrate the opening of school.

LaMAZE COURSE FOR EXPECTING PARENTS

The Expectant Parents Course begins Tuesday, Sept. 3, 7 p.m., at West Park Elementary School in Hermiston.

During the eight-lesson course students will learn the LaMaze method of childbirth and will practice exercises and relaxation to aid in labor and delivery. Interested couples in the last half of pregnancy are eligible to participate; doctor's approval should be obtained.

Flood warning system to be dedicated

Dedication ceremonies to mark the first installation of electronic flood warning devices in the Northwest will be held Wednesday, Sept. 4, 1 p.m., at the monitoring center at Pioneer Memorial Hospital.

Dave Bauman, flood control hydrologist for the National Weather Service, River Forecast, Portland; William Haze, regional director of NWS Region 8; Defense Preparedness Agency; and Jim Wakefield, meteorologist in charge of the NWS Portland office are among those expected to witness the event.

Also present will be city, county and water control system officials.

58,700 apply for deer permits

The drawing to select successful applicants for slightly more than 39,000 antlerless and other deer permits for the 1974 season was held at the Portland office of the Wildlife Commission on Aug. 16.

Some 58,700 applicants were received prior to the Aug. 6 deadline. Members of the public established the sequence of numbers to be used by randomly selecting numbers from a shaker. The cards were drawn by using the last digit of the serial number on the application card. Following is the sequence of numbers used: 5, 0, 1, 6, 2, 8, 9, 4, 3 and 7.

In all but seven of the areas in which permits were available there were more applicants than permits, making a drawing necessary. Nearly all the remaining permits were filled in a second drawing of hunters who were unsuccessful in the first go-around but who listed an area of second choice on their applications. The only areas in which there remain permits to be filled on a first-come, first-served basis are the High Cascades area with about 3,500 permits remaining and the Jackson Agricultural area and the Calapooya Creek No. 2, both of which have about 100 permits remaining at the time of writing.

All applicants who were unsuccessful in the drawing should receive notification by Sept. 1.
