Should Morrow County pay for Portland's transit?

By REP. JACK SUMNER

An important issue facing the legislature again is financing mass transportation. We primarily think of buses when this subject is mentioned. Even though you may not have local bus transportation available, you may be asked to help finance the same. It is for this purpose that I bring this topic to your attention this week.

Many people in rural areas would prefer to see the funds spent to fill holes or eliminate dangerous curves on local roads. Many people in urban and close-in suburban areas would just as soon leave the driving to someone else.

No fewer than 29 mass transit measures have been introduced in both House and Senate. Many are concerned with finding new sources of funding, while others seek to either study or implement public transportation systems. Several address the question of whether to broaden or limit the authority of mass transit districts.

House Bill 2432, one of more than a dozen taxing authority measures, would allow mass transit districts to impose motor vehicle registration fees of as much as $15. Cities and counties located entirely outside mass transit districts would be authorized to levy a tax of not more than $5 on each registration.

Revenue generated by the new fees and taxes would be earmarked for public transportation facilities.

Before HB 2432 can become effective, voters must approve a change in the Oregon Constitution permitting proceeds from motor vehicle registration levies to be used for mass transportation. The enabling legislation is found in House Joint Resolution 21, which would put the amendment on the next regular general election ballot.

Senate Joint Resolution 16 would amend the Oregon Constitution, subject to voter approval at the next primary, to permit the use of state gasoline tax revenue, as well as a portion of vehicle registration fees, for mass transportation. Specifically, the measure adds the acquisition of mass transit facilities, including railroads, to the authorized purposes for which these taxes may be used.

SJR 26, which would be placed on the next general election ballot, would authorize mass transit districts to directly levy motor vehicle fuel taxes up to a maximum of two cents per gallon.

SJR 8, another measure requiring voter approval at the next general election, would amend the Constitution to authorize the issuance of bonds to finance common carrier transportation systems with the state.

Proceeds would be used for the construction, purchase, lease, improvement, operation and maintenance of such systems.

A measure that would extend mass transit district taxing authority to cover state, county and city governments, special districts and all other public or municipal corporations has run into considerable opposition in hearings before the House Transportation Committee.

Education groups especially object to school districts being among those made subject to payroll taxes, but representatives of cities and counties also have expressed their concern over inclusion under HB 2199.

Salem officials are seeking temporary authorization to levy a public transportation payroll tax on state employees working in their city.

A five-member Oregon Public Transit Commission, appointed by the Governor, would be created if SB 201 becomes law.

Purpose of the commission would be to establish an intercity public transportation system throughout the state. Cooperative agreements with cities, counties, districts, ports and state agencies would provide for joint use of rights of way available for public travel.

SB 288 directs the state's Mass Transit Division to set up and operate, either directly or by contract, an express bus system between Ashland and Portland.

This system would serve major cities along the I-5 corridor with transfer stations, shuttle buses and park-and-ride facilities.

Two measures seek to place limits on the taxing authority of mass transit districts.

"WHO'S WHO IN MORROW COUNTY" CONTEST

Copyright 1975 by GEM Enterprises and Associates. All rights reserved.

Where to look for clues:

Clues may be hidden in any ad in this section of 30 merchants whose ads are printed below. When an additional ad from one of these sponsoring merchants appears elsewhere in the paper, they too may have clues hidden in them.

Clues will be scattered. There may be from one to five in any ad—or none. This is a contest of skill, and we intend to do our best to outwit you! We invite you to do your best to outwit us.

Contest rules:

1. This is a family fun contest. One entry per person (a family of four could submit four entries). Anyone may enter unless a member of your family is employed by the merchant whose ad is heavily bordered this week (this applies ONLY during the week this ad is bordered). Employees of other sponsoring merchants are eligible.

2. Nothing to buy. Use any slip of paper for entry blank. It is not necessary to be present to win. It is not necessary to be a subscriber to the Gazette-Times to enter.

3. The Mystery Person may be anyone in Morrow County. Clues for his or her identity will be hidden only in ads for sponsoring merchants. If by coincidence the name of the Mystery Person (or other facts about him or her) happens to appear in news items, editorial matter or other places in this newspaper, these will not count as clues in this contest.

4. To enter, write down the name you think to be the Mystery Person. Add the total number of clues you can find in ALL the ads of sponsoring merchants in this issue. You do not have to list all these clues, just give the total number of them. Don't forget to add your name and address. Then drop your entry in the box located at the sponsoring merchant whose ad is bordered with a dark border in the ads listed below in this issue.

5. There is no other place where entries will be accepted. Any member of the family may bring in all the entries for that family. Children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult.

6. This week's contest starts when you receive this issue and closes at 5 p.m. Friday of this week.

7. At that time (5 p.m., Friday) a drawing will be held at the store where entries have been received for this week's contest. The first entry drawn that correctly identifies the Mystery Person will win $20 in cash. If that entry also lists the correct number of clues hidden in all ads of sponsoring merchants, a bonus of $7.50 will be paid. Whenever this bonus is not won, it will be added to the following week's bonus, which will continue to grow until it is won.

8. Every precaution will be taken to prevent typographical errors that might be mistaken for clues, but errorless typographic cannot be guaranteed—by anybody. The Publisher of the Gazette-Times will be the judge in all questions and his decision is final.

Family participation gives you a better chance to win the jackpot. Your wife, husband or some bright-eyed youngster may spot a clue that you miss!

Think you can outwit the contest? You can't win if you don't enter.
