

GREGG RIETSMANN, picks a lucky winner in the Who's Who Contest. Gregg picked one of the five correct answers in the box of about 100 replies. He chose the name of Betty Christman, Lexington as the winner of $20. This week the lucky winner has a chance to win $35 if they guess the correct person and the correct amount of clues.

Boardman girl honored at state AAUW meeting

Diane Black, Boardman, a senior at Eastern Oregon State College, LaGrande, received the first of the organization's special honors for graduating university women. It was a high point of this year's Oregon Division AAUW convention for the Heppner branch delegates.

Diane Black is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Black, Boardman. She had all of her early education in Morrow County schools. She has been very active in several fields at EOSC and has maintained an outstanding scholastic record. Faculty representative Dr. Mary Jane Liso, Head of the Humanities Division at EOSC, presented Diane Black to the convention. She read recommendations from other EOSC leaders which praised her as an outstanding senior woman. She plans to teach in Oregon and has already applied in several districts.

The Heppner delegates invited her to visit the AAUW branch here, and she said she would try to fit such a visit into her busy year.

Judy Hirni and Justine Weatherford represented their branch at the three-day meeting held in Medford's Holiday Inn. They had hoped their branch's support would help bring the 1977 state convention to Pendleton; however, the site selection committee announced that Bend was selected. The 1976 meet is set for Eugene.

Branch President Ann Doherty was kept away from the convention because of jury duty. Judy Hirni, a new member who is soon to be installed as branch treasurer, agreed to attend as a last minute substitute.

This convention was the Golden Anniversary celebration for the Oregon State Division. Many of the past state presidents were there and were honored.

The keynote address on Thursday evening was delivered by Beverly B. Everett from Iowa, national association topic chairman for global interdependence. Lily Monson, Oregon President, presided during the general sessions. Kappy Eaton was elected 1976-77 state president.

BARBARA SHERMAN TO WED GARY WATKINS

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Sherman announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Barbara to Mr. Gary Watkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Watkins. The wedding will take place Saturday, May 3, at 2 p.m. at the United Methodist Church in Heppner. All relatives and friends are cordially invited to attend.

Museum and library receive donations

A large collection of 1903 Heppner Gazettes and Heppner Times along with pages and clippings from other newspapers about the great flood were included in the historic materials Loa Briggs Taylor gave to the museum last week.

A long christening gown and large petticoat, both containing many yards of hand-crocheted lace were also donated. The gown was made for the christening of her husband Ray Taylor. Three elaborate old albums of pictures, most of which are carefully identified, a group of old family letters telling about how members of her family were drowned and suffered in the 1903 flood were also presented to Mrs. Harnett for the museum.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Taylor gave the public library a number of old books. Mrs. Weatherford has shelved several of them with other rare old books that have been gifts of Heppner families.

Loa Taylor, who has been active in Heppner for many years, has sold her home and is moving to Portland where she will live in the Assembly of God Retirement Home. She was honored by church friends here at a farewell party on Sat., April 19.

Rodeo court has luncheon

Chaperones, Hazel Mahoney and Clista Venard had a luncheon on April 19 for the Morrow County Fair and Rodeo Court and their Pennant Bearers at the home of Mrs. Mahoney.

It was an afternoon of getting acquainted and a dress rehearsal in their new outfits and picture taking.

Their first court appearance will be at the Arlington Jack-Pot Rodeo, May 3.

Present were Queen Mickey Hoskins, Princesses Donna Rea, Barbara Palmer, Mary Ann Proctor, June McLean, Pennant Bearers Donna Palmer, Debora Palmer, Theresa Proctor and Teresa Peck. Also present was Marj Gardner.

Sorority convention held in Pendleton

Epsilon Sigma Alpha held their annual convention in Pendleton on April 11, 12, and 13 at Indian Hills Motor Inn. Hostess chapters were from Condon, Arlington, Fossil, Lone, and Heppner. Chapter chairmen in charge of the convention were Mrs. Don McQuinn, Fossil; Mrs. Del LaRue, Lone; Mrs. Wayne Harris, Heppner; Mrs. Larry Snyder, Condon; and Mrs. Fred Erickson, Arlington.

Registered at the convention were 375 E.S.A. members and 63 husbands.

Decorations were in keeping with the theme, Mountain Dew's. Friday night entertainment was a Hillbilly Hoedown, for members and husbands. Installation of new state officers was Saturday night. Installed were Betsy Patee, E.S.A. state president; Charlotte Field, first vice-president; Julie Byers, second vice-president; Sandi Maneval, recording secretary; Ardyce Moore, treasurer; Vicki Alderman, parliamentarian; Shirley Fox, grapevine editor; and Lee Cavalier, junior past president.

A special guest at the convention was Judy Lester, Indiana, International Council President.

Following installation the annual banquet was held. Recognized at that time were outstanding members in the state. Contest awards were made for the best yearbook, scrapbook, the best programs, philanthropic projects, rushing, and to the outstanding chapter. Outstanding chapter award went to Epsilon, Epsilon, Portland. Following the banquet, dancing to the Jim Ackley band from Heppner was enjoyed by all.

E.S.A. has 1,120 members, and 78 chapters in the state of Oregon.

International Convention will be held in Corvallis, with the Linn County Council serving as hostesses.

Despite late night activities, early rising for General Assembly, workshops, and numerous meetings, everyone had a good time, and is planning on going again next year.

Mystery winner misses clue

Betty Christman, Lexington, was the winner in the Who's Who Contest for the second time.

She correctly identified Larry Mills as the Mystery person.

The clues are as follows: Member of the Board, (Mills is a member of the Board of Directors for the Chamber of Commerce); Officer, (He is an officer of the Morrow County Grain Growers, holding the position of treasurer); Not retired, (He still has to work for a living); Jan. 1936 (month and year of his birth); Youth Activities (he is active in youth activities throughout the county).

lone girls selected to girls state

The lone American Legion Auxiliary is sending Terry McElligott and Lori Bergstrom to Girls State in Salem, June 15-21.

The two girls were chosen for letters they sent to the committee stating their reasons for wanting to attend Girls State.

The lone High School juniors are active in both school and community activities.

Terry McElligott is a member of the National Honor Society. She has been active in 4-H for the past five years and is a member of the GAA. She participates in school sports, volleyball, basketball and track. She also sings in the church choir.

Lori Bergstrom has been active in 4-H for the past nine years, and is a member of the GAA. She is a member of the volleyball team and is also interested in church activities.

Senior girls, mothers are guests at lunch

Last Thursday noon 19 senior girls and 14 of their mothers were guests of the Heppner Soroptimists at a spring luncheon in St. Patrick's Recreational Hall.

Dean Gene Ann McLean, of Blue Mountain Community College, addressed her talk to the girl graduates. She gave them timely suggestions and a little advice about preparing for their post-high school lives. Mrs. McLean was introduced by Soroptimist President Marlene Peterson.

Ola Mae Groshens, Soroptimist pianist, entertained during the gathering. Colorful spring decorations on the tables and about the room were arranged by Soroptimists Daisy Collins, Hazel Mahoney and Rita Wolff. The luncheon was prepared and served by members of St.

Patrick's Altar Society. Eleanor Gonty was in charge of all arrangements for this annual spring event.

Six Soroptimists were off to The Dalles early Saturday morning to attend an all-day area meeting there. Marlene Peterson, Etta Parker, Clara Gertson, Elaine George, Evelyn Sweek and Eleanor Gonty enjoyed joining Soroptimists from other clubs in the Columbia River area for workshops and luncheon.

The main emphasis of the workshop groups was directed toward preparations for the Northwest regional meeting which will take place in Seattle the first weekend in May. Several officers and delegates from the Heppner Club plan to attend that Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Alaska meet.
