

What's in handwriting?

By MARGARET McNAIR
Graphoanalyst

*I am a woman; I think—
We tell on ourselves by the friends we seek,
By the very manner in which we speak;
So there's really no particle of some
In an effort to keep up false pretense.
J.P.W.*

DEAR J.P.W.:

independent soul, you want to do your own thinking and do not quite trust others to think for you.

Diplomacy is an asset in your life and enables you to be gracious, charming and persuasive. Should you sometimes feel imposed upon because of your good nature, you are capable of defending yourself with some dry but mildly sharp comments.

There are many interests for you to investigate. Good judgement and clear thinking keep these interests in order and balance. You understand the value of priorities.

Self-confident, appreciative of culture and beauty, your handwriting indicates a strong literary aptitude. Have you ever considered writing travel articles dealing with cultural sights and sounds, locations and activities?

Your enthusiasm, high standards, organizational ability, and determination would go with you in that kind of project—adding up to a winning combination.

Yours,
MARGARET

Heppner AAUW installs slate of new officers

The Heppner Branch of the American Association of University Women closed out their year with the installation of new officers, Saturday, at the home of Leese Martin in Heppner.

Out-going president Pauline Bier installed Anne Doherty as the new president of the branch. Other officers installed were Jeanne Howell, first vice president in charge of programs, Pat Edmundson, second vice president in charge of membership, Nonda Sunday, as secretary and Judy Herni as treasurer.

Justine Weatherford gave a report to the group about the state convention which she and Judy Herni attended in Medford.

The Heppner Branch has several projects which it will undertake during the summer. The summer story hours will again be conducted at the Heppner library, chaired by Leese Martin. A similar story hour program will be initiated in Lone by Karen Beck. The branch voted to buy a rug to be used for the lone story hour which will be held in the Lone City Hall and View Masters for both libraries.

Three Saturday markets are planned for the summer. Sue Duncan and Martha Doherty are co-chair persons for this event. The Branch also decided to assist with the transportation costs of a bus load of students from Heppner and Lone High Schools who will be attending a Shakespearean play, May 14, at Eastern Oregon State College in La-Grande.

The Branch voted to contribute $50 to the named fellowship which is being established in memory of Ardis Hitchcock. She was past Oregon division president, and was killed in a car accident earlier in the year. Mrs. Hitchcock was a particular friend of the Heppner Branch. She visited the branch during the first year it was organized and aided and encouraged the Heppner Branch in many ways while she was Division President.

Outgoing officers include Pauline Bier assisting in the installation were Anne Doherty, first vice president, Dar-ye Franzen, second vice president, and Linda Johnson, treasurer.

Jeannie Howell, discussed what the Branch would like for programs for its new year.

Baccalureate scheduled for May 18

This year the Baccalureate Service for the 1975 graduating class of Heppner High School will be held as a separate function rather than being incorporated into the commencement exercises.

Baccalureate service will be held on Sunday evening, May 18, 8 p.m. at St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Heppner.

The worship service is being sponsored and planned by the South Morrow County Ministerial Association and will consist of singing, special music, and a message to the graduating seniors given by one of the local ministers.

A special invitation is extended to the 1975 graduates and their parents and to the faculty and the administration of Heppner High School.

Because this is an important aspect of "graduation week", the South Morrow County Ministerial Association wishes to extend an invitation to the Heppner community to participate in the worship service on May 18 at St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

summer, the club voted to give the $50 budgeted for 1975 Girls State scholarships to the public library to be used in the newly developing children's room.
