

Sharon Brady marries Johnnie L. Williams, Jr.

Sharon Lynn Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Brady, 330 S.W. 173rd St., Beaverton, Oregon, became the bride of Johnnie L. Williams, Jr. (Rocky) Williams, Jr. Williams is the son of Mrs. Johnnie L. Williams and the late Johnnie L. Williams, 1265 S.W. 183rd St., Aloha, Oregon.

The ceremony was read by the Reverend A.J. Krall on May 10 at Holy Trinity Catholic Church, Beaverton, Oregon.

The church was decorated with baskets of spring flowers. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional white satin gown with a small train trimmed with lace and tiny pearls. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown covered with lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

Maid of honor was Debra Brady, Beaverton, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Susan Brady, Beaverton, sister of the bride, and Val Prickett, Beaverton, friend of the bride.

All three attendants wore blue gowns trimmed in white lace. These were fashioned like the bride's gown. All the gowns were made by Mrs. Joyce Berg, Aloha, Oregon.

Best man was Jon Erwin, Joseph, Oregon, friend of the groom. Ushers were Rick Williams, Aloha, brother of the groom and Rick Kerkman, Hillsboro, friend of the groom.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Brady, wore a long gown of seafoam green with yellow rose wrist corsage.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Williams, wore a long gown of spring green and white, with a pink rose wrist corsage.

Following the wedding, the reception was held in the church parish hall. For her going-away ensemble, the bride wore an aqua blue pant suit and a corsage of tiny red roses.

After a wedding trip to Disneyland the couple will reside in Beaverton.

Out of town guests attended from Hopewell, New Jersey; Spray, Heppner; Goldendale, Wa.; Springfield, Or.; Fairfield, Ca.; Echo; Fossil; Scottsdale, Arizona; Condon and Amsterdam, Holland.

Legion Auxiliary to sell poppies

On Friday and Saturday, May 16 and 17, the members of American Legion Auxiliary No. 87 will be asking people to wear the red memorial veterans poppies.

Disabled veterans make each poppy, for which they receive a small sum. This enables them to buy personal items not furnished by the hospital. Many save it for the day they can be discharged or send it to help their families. Making the poppies helps them to pass the long days, months or years they face.

The basic purpose of Poppy Day is to offer the American public an opportunity to honor the war dead and to assist the living.

Donations of any amount are accepted. All funds received are used to aid disabled veterans, their families and the families of deceased servicemen.

Methodist lawn sale Saturday

Many are involved in preparations for this Saturday's Methodist Lawn Sale. Last Tuesday, a group worked in the church basement creating more than 30 styrofoam, ribbon and flower cemetery arrangements. Baked goods and luncheon fare will be made in home kitchens.

Thursday and Friday goods to be sold should be taken to the Farra Shoe Shop for sorting and pricing.

Committees are set to arrange the church dining room for the 11:00 luncheon, and to serve it on Saturday. Others will handle the baked food sale during the luncheon hours. Many will set up and assist with the sale on the church and parsonage lawn which begins at 9:30 Saturday morning.

Rev. Cutting and others will again offer potted house plants. Ida Farra will have some of her cotton hats and caps out. Amanda Duvall promises a table of miscellaneous items. Antique specialist Lesley Patching will be on hand to advise buyers interested in old items.

At their May meeting last week the United Methodist Women decided to contract with Heppner's Sweek Brothers for the repair of all broken and cracked windows in the church. Many of these windows have colored panes. The Sweeks have already done stained glass work in at least one other Heppner church.

Louise Wood presented the evening's devotions. Sylvia McDaniel arranged the refreshment table and served the group after their meeting ended.
