

Training session for home extension group

Newly elected home extension study group officers in Umatilla and Morrow Counties will receive leadership training Wednesday, May 28, at the Vert Little Theater, Pendleton. The program starts at 9:30 a.m. and concludes at 12 noon.

According to Extension Home Economist Molly Saul, the training will include responsibilities designated for each officer and committee chairman. Information will be given on the many activities of the Associated Country Women of the World, Health, safety and family living committee work will be explained. Time will be allowed for questions and answers concerning all phases of Home Economics Extension study group activity.

Mrs. John Graves, Heppner, District VII representative for Oregon Extension Homemakers Council, will present the ACWW training. She will also install the new county advisory committee members. Mrs. Saul will install study group officers in the two-county area.

JOHNNY CASH AT STATE FAIR

STATE FAIRGROUNDS, Salem, OR.—Johnny Cash, the best-known star in country music history, will perform at this year's Oregon State Fair, revealed fair officials, Friday.

Cash will appear with June Carter, Carl Perkins, Gordon Terry and The Tennessee Three, Anita Carter, and the Cash daughters. The troupe will present two shows, Sunday, August 24 at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. at the Fair's Grandstand.

The son of an Arkansas cotton farmer, Cash has during his 18-year career sold millions upon millions of records, performed in arenas, theatres, nightclubs and prison yards, and made numerous movie and TV appearances.

Bookworms hold last meeting

The year's final meeting of the Bookworm Club was held at the home of President Lucy Peterson, May 13.

The hostess gave the evening's review. She reviewed an old book that is a family treasure, Mrs. Isabella Beeton's "Book of Household Management." The guide book was copyrighted in 1861. The Peterson copy is the 1906 revised edition.

The reviewer reads hints for effective housewifery, suggestions to household managers and notes on personal care.

The book she used was published in London by Ward, Lock & Co. Ltd. at Warwick House in Salisbury Square, E.C. It is not available at the public library.

The Bookworms will recess until September.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Swanson spent the weekend in Roseburg visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Circle. Her parents returned to home with them for a few days visit.

Memorial services held for Carl King Sr.

Memorial services for Carl Franklin King Sr., 66, were held Tuesday, May 20, at Sweeney Mortuary Chapel.

Mr. King died Saturday, May 17, at the Veterans Hospital in Walla Walla. Private cremation services were Monday, May 19.

He was born September 8, 1908 at Mountain View, Missouri.

Mr. King had been a resident of Heppner since 1950 and was a mechanic for many years at Fulleton Chevrolet. He was a veteran of World War II and a member of American Legion Post No. 87. He was married to Martha Kennedy in Heppner on February 14, 1951.

The Rev. Edwin Cutting, United Methodist Church, officiated at the services. Prelude and postlude sacred selections were played by Betty Marquardt.

Survivors include the widow Martha; three sons, Carl Jr., Pendleton; Donald, Topeka, Kansas; Richard, Pueblo, Colorado; two daughters, Elaine Wheeler, Pueblo, Colorado and Mary Foster, Alameda, California; a sister, Sylvia Connor, Mountain View, Missouri, and several grandchildren.

Contributions may be made to the Oregon Lung Association or the charity of choice.

RECEIVES DEGREE

MOSCOW, ID.—A total of 1,024 students are candidates to receive degrees during the University of Idaho's 80th commencement exercises on Sunday morning, May 18.

Included are 785 receiving bachelor's degrees, 168 receiving master's and doctoral degrees and 71 receiving juris doctor degrees. Some additional 500 students received degrees in August and December, 1974.

Kyle B. Kennison, Heppner, is to receive his bachelor's degree from the College of Letters and Science.

Entrants stumped by Who's Who

For the first time since the start of the contest there was no winner in the Who's Who contest. All 51 entrants had the correct number of clues, however, no one correctly identified the mystery person, Jerry Sweeney.

The six clues were as follows: big wheel; (Sweeney is the Mayor of Heppner); veteran, (he served with the U.S. Army in World War II); not a rancher, (he is a mortician); not retired, (he still has to work for a living); gardner, (one of his hobbies is growing flowers); Pisces, (he is an ardent fisherman).

This week's winner will receive $35, if he correctly identifies the mystery person and has the correct number of clues.

Herd of wildebeest are so vast in Tanzania that some experts believe they could be selectively slaughtered to provide 24 million pounds of meat each year for hungry Tanzanians, National Geographic says.

CAMPGROUNDS TO CHARGE FEE

Fees will be charged this summer for use of some campsites in the National Forests of Oregon and Washington.

The fee system is being used at 215 of the more than 1200 campgrounds in the Pacific Northwest, according to Regional Forester Theodore A. Schlapfer.

Fees will range from $1 to $3 per day, with most charge sites requiring a $2 fee. Payment will be made at the campground, either at the entrance station or by means of an envelope system in the campground.

Persons 62 years or older are entitled to use campground facilities at one-half the regular fee, either by showing a Golden Age Passport or proof of age. The passports are available at most Forest Service offices.

MANY ATTEND BACCALAUREATE

The sanctuary of St. Patrick's Church was filled last Sunday evening by graduates, their families and friends who attended this year's Baccalaureate Service.

The Rev. Mark Johnson, President of the South Morrow Ministerial Association, was the first speaker as he offered the invocation. The Rev. Sikes and Rev. Green also assisted with the service.

The evening's sermon was given by Father John O'Brien of St. Patrick's. His talk stressed four admirable qualities: fidelity, honesty, application and determination.

The evening's music was contributed by Kathryn Hoskins at the organ and Bill Buckendorf of the high school faculty. Mr. Buckendorf sang "Were You There?"

Father O'Brien estimates more than 300 persons attended the ceremony.

HOUSE GUESTS

Guests at the home of Mrs. Ruth Reid over the weekend were her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Reid and Robbie of LaGrande.
