

MR. AND MRS. TERRY HUGHES

First story hour Monday, June 16

It is time for the Heppner Branch AAUW sponsored Library Summer Story hour at the Library in Heppner, Monday, June 16 is the date for the first story hour.

Jeannie Howell of Heppner will be the story teller for that morning. The story hour is from 10 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. For the June 16 date, the story hour will be held in the foyer of the library-museum building. It is hoped that the children's room will be complete for future story hours.

The story hours are held for all children ages four through eight years. Following the story children will be able to check out books. Parents are asked, however, to pick up their children promptly at 10:30 a.m.

The story hour will be held every Monday morning following the 16th with the last story hour to be held July 18. This is the third year the Heppner Branch of AAUW has conducted the summer story hour program at the Heppner Library.

4-H youth to attend school

Eighteen Morrow County 4-H youth will be traveling to Corvallis for the 1975 4-H Summer School that will be held June 16-21.

Those attending will be: Melody Marlatt, Anita Davidson, Ruth Ann Keithley, Kathy Wolff, Lori Turner, Shelly Thompson, Lynn Gochauer, Wendy Myers, Rosanna Marlatt, Jackie Mollahan, Randy Worden, Julie Grieb, Goan Partlow, Donald Richards, Barbara Devine, Joan Doherty, Donna Palmer, and Debora Palmer. Monica Swanson and Margie Shade will chaperone the group, along with County Agent, Mike Howell. Leonard Munkers will drive the bus.

Anita Davidson was selected as county representative.

Brother, sister win awards at livestock show

Two Morrow County 4-H members took several top honors at the Eastern Oregon Livestock Show at Union. The show was held last week and was attended by participants from all parts of Eastern Oregon.

Rhonda Sargent exhibited the champion Hampshire market lamb. This same lamb earned Rhonda grand champion honors in the market lamb class.

The Oregon Wheat Growers League award went to Rhonda also. This award goes to the champion lamb that has 30 percent wheat in the feed ration.

Another honor, reserve champion senior sheep showman, was earned by Rhonda. To keep the honors in the family, Mark Sargent exhibited the champion crossbred market lamb and earned the title of champion senior sheep showman.

Mark also exhibited the champion Hampshire ewe and reserve champion crossbred ewe.

Mark and Rhonda are members of the Hoof & Horn 4-H Livestock Club. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dick Sargent of Heppner.

Episcopal Church scene of family wedding

In a small family wedding, Donna Louise Kelsay, daughter of Bobby Kelsay, John Day, Oregon, became the bride of Herbert, Terrel (Terry) Hughes, son of Joan M. Hughes and Matthew Hughes, Heppner, on May 31, at 2 p.m. The ceremony was read by the Rev. David W. Blackaller at All Saints Episcopal Church in Heppner.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and blue daisies.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Bobby Kelsay, wore a long gown of white organza over white satin, trimmed with lace daisy applique around the high neck, sunburst yoke, long ruffled sleeves and full skirt and train. Her short veil of illusion net fell from a Juliet cap trimmed with white daisies and seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of baby's breath and white daisies, with white satin streamers.

Matron of honor was Glenna Cameron, John Day, sister of the bride. She wore a long gown of blue and white daisy print and carried a nosegay of baby's breath and blue and white daisies.

Best man was Dan Sweeney, friend of the groom, of Heppner.

Wedding music was played by Mr. James Ackley.

The mother of the groom, Mrs. Hughes, chose a long dress of lilac chiffon with multi-colored skirt for her son's wedding. The bride's step-mother, Mrs. Kelsay, wore a two-piece black and white street-length dress.

The wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Rene Toll, in Heppner.

The rooms were decorated with bouquets of white glads and blue daisies. The table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with blue and white bells and blue roses.

Pouring were Mrs. Eva Griffith, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Mary Bengt, grandmother of the groom. Mrs. Carolyn Brill, Herminston, aunt of the bride, cut the cake.

Attending the gift table was Teresa Hughes, sister of the groom, Tami Toll, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

Out of town relatives attending were Mrs. Laurel Kelsay, grandmother of the bride, and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Don Griffith, all of Spray, Oregon.

For her going-away ensemble, the bride wore a checked pant suit.

After a wedding trip to the Oregon coast, the couple will reside in Heppner.

The groom is a graduate of Heppner High School and attended Southern Oregon College and the University of Oregon. He is employed by his father, Matt Hughes, at M & R Floorcovering and Heating in Heppner.

The bride is a graduate of Grant Union High School in John Day and the Pendleton College of Beauty. She is employed by Trish's Beauty Shop in Heppner.

SUMMER RECEPTION

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Sumner are giving a reception at the Elks Club on June 14, 1975, from 2 until 4 p.m. in honor of their golden wedding anniversary. All friends and relatives are cordially invited to attend.

Check gauges on pressure cooker

Homemakers planning ahead for the food preservation season should consider having their pressure canner gauges tested for accuracy. It is imperative that this be done at least once a year to insure accurate processing time. Inaccuracies may result in food spoilage or food poisonings. You do not have to take in the entire lid for testing, just the gauge. If the canners have had heavy usage, examine the rubber sealing gasket to determine if it is usable for another year.

Homemakers may call the Extension office, Heppner, 676-9642 for the address of the store which provides this service.

Food preservation workshop set

Drying of foods and pressure canning will be the topic of a free public demonstration to be conducted by Molly Saul and Pat Phillips, Extension Home Economists. Identical programs will be offered in a three county area, with the Morrow County program scheduled for June 19, starting at 9:30 a.m. at Greenfield Grange, Boardman.

With the shortage of jar lids, it is anticipated that more people than ever will be drying fruits, vegetables, and other products this summer. Drying methods as well as some food dryers will be shown at this program and take home information and bulletins will be available. Instructions on building a home food dryer will be available. All phases of using a pressure canner for food preservation will be demonstrated.

Grant County Walk-A-Thon nets $9,000 for ambulance

A Walk-A-Thon was conducted Saturday, May 31, over the 21 miles between Long Creek and Monument. With other fund-raising events, over $9,000 was raised for the North Grant County Ambulance Fund.

According to a spokesman for the group, volunteer walkers totaled 3,141 1/2 miles which amounted to $3,141.25 for the fund.

A community ham dinner, which was served free to the marchers, raised $325. A benefit dance at Hardman that night, sponsored by the Old Time Fiddlers Association, earned another $340 toward the fund.

Other donations toward the fund raised the total for the day to nearly $4000.

174 marchers made the walk and 109 completed the 21 miles. Nine of the marchers went 20 miles, nine walked 19 miles, and eight walked 18 miles.

Donald Girdner, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Girdner of Long Creek, was thought to be the youngest person to finish the 21 mile course. Chad Engle, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Engles, Monument, went 19 miles, and Chris Meadows, 5, of Eugene, covered 14 miles. Ricky Tubbs, 8, from Monument, was another young marcher who covered quite a bit of the route.

Observers noted that the youngsters in the procession did a lot of wandering from one side of the road to the other and probably covered more miles than their total indicates.

Warren Wolfgram, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wolfgram, Long Creek, was the first to finish the walk. His time was 3:55. Second was Terry Johns, 17, from Long Creek, and Bob Cockrell, 32, of Monument was third. Peggy Murphy, 15, Monument, was fourth and the first girl to finish.

Jean Cunningham, 69, and Mildred McGirr, 59, both of Fox, finished the walk in 10 hours, leaving Long Creek at 6:10 a.m. and arriving at Monument about 4 p.m. They were thought to be the oldest ladies entering and finishing the Walk-A-Thon.

The hot sun troubled some of the walkers. Grant County Assessor James K. Allen walked 18 miles, but finally had to bow out because of the heat. His wife, Mildred, finished the march, and was judged the best dressed participant in her sunbonnet and long white gloves.

The idea of the Walk-A-Thon was conceived by Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Derrick of Long Creek. Derrick, who is recuperating from surgery, had been told by his doctor to walk daily.

After the Walk-A-Thon and the ham dinner, a beef raffle was held in Monument. Cecil Swaggart of Ritter and Carol Kautz of Dale were the lucky winners of a half beef each.

Arlene Segraves, Dale, was the lucky ticket holder to win a quilt. The quilt top was donated by Eva Calhoun, Long Creek, and the quilt was sewn by Louise Hunt, Mildred McGirr, and Mattie Osborne.

The original goal of the fund drive sponsors was to obtain a four-wheel-drive ambulance. Now that they have their local matching funds, they find that there may be a delay on its delivery. The delay could be as long as 14 months, in which case the present Northside Ambulance should be upgraded.

The present ambulance, a four cylinder surplus Army rig, has proved the value of ambulance service in North Grant County, but its slowness is a severe disadvantage when every second can count in speeding someone to medical aid, volunteers report.

Remember Dad on Sunday, June 15

You might as well remember him with something he will appreciate. In our business, we know what that is!

May we suggest

- A New Pipe and accessories
- A Camera, with attachments
- Travel Kits
- Shave Lotion and Cologne sets
- Electric Razor
- A Travel Bar
- Lighters for smokers
- ... Or how about a heated shave cream dispenser?
- ... Or one of his favorite beverages from our liquor department?
