Heppner City Council holds special meeting

A special meeting of the Heppner Common Council was held Thursday night at City Hall to discuss franchise procedures with Heppner TV, Inc. The franchise committee decided to meet with the city attorney before making their recommendations to the city council.

Bob Jones acting as chairman of the council, in the absence of Mayor Sweeney, read a letter to the council from Steve Anderson, city engineer, regarding the reconstruction of the Morgan Street bridge. Anderson has applied for federal grant in the reconstruction of a new concrete structure to replace the existing bridge. The estimated cost of the new structure is $64,000, with the federal program paying 90 per cent of the cost. The city will have to pay the remaining 10 per cent, or $6,400, which has been budgeted for this fiscal year. The council approved the new structure with the stipulation that the plans be submitted and the federal grant money be available to the city.

In other business, the council approved building permits for Jack and Ruth Van Winkle, 660 Barratt Blvd., for the addition of a carport and a shop to their present residence.

The council also approved construction of a new home for Irene Wyman, 280 S. Chase Street.

The council approved the building of an addition to Pioneer Memorial Hospital. Under present law the hospital is required to enclose an existing porch which will be used for storage area.

The council approved a request by the swim club to allow Harve Haskell, swim pool manager to be absent from his duties for five to seven days while the swim team is engaged in competitive meets outside of Heppner. The approval was granted with the stipulation that all of the safety provisions of the state law be met, namely personnel in charge during his absence have the required certification to meet state requirements.

Chairman Jones read a letter of resignation from councilman Lerice Martin, effective July 1. Mrs. Martin will no longer be a resident of this area. Her husband has accepted a position as forest ranger and are moving to Idlewild Park, Or.

A notice of claim for $50,000 has been filed against the governing body of the city and all members of the council by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Collins.

Rites read for Mark Samples

Funeral services were held Thursday, June 19, at St. Patrick's Catholic Church for Mark Samples, 66, who died in Heppner on Monday, June 16.

Mr. Samples was born January 19, 1909, at Hamilton, Montana.

On March 25, 1934, he was united in marriage to Camilla Hebert at Hill City, South Dakota.

He was employed by Kinzua Corporation at Kinzua for many years. They came to Heppner about ten years ago where Mr. Samples was custodian at Heppner High School until his retirement in 1974.

He was a member of St. Patrick's Church. Recitation of the Rosary was held Wednesday evening at St. Patrick's Church.

Officiating at the services were the Rev. John O'Brien and the Rev. Francis A. Hebert. Fr. Hebert is Mrs. Sample's brother.

Sacred selections were played by Mrs. Claude Buschke. Concluding services and vault interment were at Heppner Masonic Cemetery with Sweeney Mortuary in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Raymond Reid, Jerry Holloman, Brian Adams, Gene Kopta, Tim Adams and John Kopta.

Survivors besides the widow Camilla, Heppner, are a daughter, Jean Ann Adams, Heppner; two sons, Ralph Samples, Hyattsville, Maryland, and Gerald Samples of Kinzua; two brothers, Hugh Samples and Forrest Samples, both of Central Point, Oregon; two sisters, Orpha Kopta, Milton Freewater, Or., and Bertha Metz, Keystone, South Dakota; five grandchildren and numerous nieces and nephews.

Couple visit new river port

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Dubuque and Mr. and Mrs. Harlan McCurdy attended a special open house and picnic Sunday, June 22, at the Pomeroy Grain Growers, Inc. port along the Snake River. Harlan McCurdy Jr. is the company manager.

Along with 300 patrons, the Heppner couples toured the new barge loading facility, the Central Ferry Elevator at the Port of Garfield, which was opened along with the expansion of slack water navigation on the Snake River.

They enjoyed watching the sternwheeler "City of Portland" dock at the new facility and going aboard the Shaver Transportation Company's new, large tug "Idaho" and barge which has a 100,000 bushel capacity and is the largest barge on the Columbia-Snake Rivers. The new port facility has a total storage capacity of 935,000 bushels and is appraised at $1,300,000.

Land sought for elk

An effort to acquire approximately 9,000 acres of land in Grant County is underway. Elks Foundation Association, a non-profit corporation, is behind the move to acquire the land for elk winter range.

At present time the area on the Middle Fork of the John Day River is supporting from 300 to 500 elk each winter. If the land were in public ownership, wildlife men estimate the carrying capacity could be raised to 1,800 or 2,400 for 4 1/2 to 5 months of the winter.

It is expected that livestock could still be run on this area.

Public ownership would guarantee access to over eight miles of excellent trout fishing. This area of the river is also prime steelhead spawning grounds, according to wildlife personnel.

The land in question is also being studied by a private group for subdivision. Warren Stewart of Pendleton, president of Elk Foundation Association, feels a subdivision would help to destroy the elk herd in that area.
