

Jerry Gentry picked for Shrine classic

Jerry Gentry, Heppner High School, has been selected to participate in the 23rd annual East-West All-Star Football Game.

The 23rd annual classic will be held in Baker, Or., Saturday, Aug. 23. Gentry will play on the East Team.

Players for the outstanding event that helps support the Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children, Portland, will arrive in LaGrande Aug. 10 to start their training. The teams will be housed on the campus of Eastern Oregon State College. The college field will be used for practice by the East Team. The West Team will conduct workouts at the LaGrande High School athletic field.

All members of the team will travel to Portland Aug. 13 for the annual North-South game in Civic Stadium and to visit the Children's Hospital.

The East-West games started in 1952, with no game being played in 1969. The West leads the East in the series, 13-8; there has been one tie. The East Team won the 1974 hard fought classic by a score of 29-27.

JERRY GENTRY

A pre-game pageant with color, bands, thrills and marching units will begin at 7 p.m. Kickoff time will follow at 8:15 p.m.

This game recognizes the fine athletes for AA, A-11 and A-8 Oregon schools. Fifty-two 1975 graduating seniors were selected for the two teams with 71 alternates.

All-Stars win one, lose two

The Willow Creek Little League All-stars won their opening game at The Dalles last Thursday defeating Mountain Home, Idaho, 9-1.

This was the first victory at The Dalles for the All-Stars in 14 years.

Scott Martin pitched a fine game and key hits by Martin, Cliff Dougherty and Rick Cole gave the home team the victory.

Feeling confident after their previous win, the Heppner team played Jefferson and lost the ball game, 6-2.

In the second game Rick Cole hit a home run, one of five hits in the entire tournament.

Following their loss the Willow Creek All-Stars played Deschutes for the third place spot.

They managed to hold Deschutes to a 4-0 score for the first three innings, then a combination of errors and solid hits allowed the Deschutes team to roll over Willow Creek, 14-4.

Swimathon on July 28

The Heppner Swim Team is having its annual Swimathon July 28.

This event is open for all ages and anyone who would like to participate is welcome, whether a swim team member or not. Entrants should get some sponsors and come to the pool and see how many laps you can swim.

There will also be a drawing for the Crissie Doll and doll clothes the evening of July 28.

KEEP OREGON GREEN OFFICIAL HERE

Albert Wiesendanger, executive secretary of the Keep Oregon Green Assn., was in Heppner last week to confer with Gene Pierce, Morrow County chairman for the organization.

Wiesendanger said there have been 277 man-caused fires so far this year on state and private land, many of them caused by careless smokers.

Court house notes

Antique lovers can now bid on a genuine Morrow antique at the court house. It could be a bit large and heavy for small homes or apartments, but will provide fine, fireproof storage for valuables in a larger home or business. It is the 75-year-old black safe that may be seen behind the court house. Bids will be accepted at the clerk's office at 11 a.m., Wednesday, Aug. 6.

July 16, the county court was holding discussions with negotiators representing various unions. A delegation from the Irrigon Lions Club came requesting tax relief for club property taxes. No decision was reached. The court is applying to the State Highway Department for funds to do work on the road near Patterson Ferry where it plans to install railroad warning devices.

On Thursday, July 17, the Morrow County Court hosted an all-day meeting of District 12, East-Central Oregon Association of Counties, at the Dodge City Inn at Boardman.

The County Health Department is working toward the Multi-phasic Clinics which will take place during the week following the county fair. These are particularly for children entering kindergarten or the first grade and for high school freshman or students new to the county school system.

Another pleasant face is noted in the appraiser's office. It belongs to Dan Richardson who has come from Jacksonville, Or., where he worked for the city. He has also taught school and worked as a carpenter. Dan is an appraiser-trainee working under Charles Patching. Dan's wife is the former Sandy Carlson of lone. The Richardsons are living in the house on Baltimore that belonged to the Earl Gilliams for years and was most recently occupied by the Nix family.

Also noted in the appraiser's office is a new, framed certificate that states on June 26, 1975 Tom Stewart successfully passed the exam that has moved him from an appraiser-trainee to a certified appraiser.

The planning office has granted an out-of-city building permit to O.L. Adams for construction of a small barn at the Blake Ranch subdivision.

More OSU on honor roll

A revised list of students who were on the spring term honor roll has been released by Oregon State University.

The original list sent to the Heppner Gazette Times by Oregon State was inaccurate. The following list includes names of students who were omitted from the first list or who were incorrectly listed.

Boardman, Charles W. Acock, junior, agriculture; Heppner, Robert F. Worden, senior, science; and Irrigon, Debra L. McCoy, sophomore, education.

New fair book lists new events, contests

County fair premium books have been sent to all 4-H families, according to Birdine Tullis, extension program assistant, and now is the time for members to browse through the book noting new events and contests, as well as a number of new awards for 4-H work.

The premium book is a guide to county fair, and all information is related in a concise and clear manner. The book is a new shape, and a new look this year, much easier to read and understand. Information relating to all phases of 4-H work start on page 60 with general information. Special awards for both home economics and livestock are listed. Home economics members are urged to look over the awards section, as many new awards are listed for home economics.

Among the new awards offered are special awards by Krebs Bros. for garments or articles exhibited which are made of 100 per cent wool. Those wishing to be considered for the special wool award must attach information providing wool content.

After fair last year, awards were reviewed and it was found these contests had no special awards to encourage members to participate, and to recognize achievement.

Those wishing to participate in other food preparation contests will find a long list of sponsors for special awards.

Oregon Wheathearts are again sponsoring a special 4-H baking contest. To enter this special contest members may prepare a baked product at home using wheat products, enter the product at fair, including recipe. A special display will be made of products entered in Wheathearts contest. This contest is open to all 4-H members, not limited to those enrolled in foods projects.

Jim Harper, Boardman, recently made a hole-in-one on the 129 yard 8th hole at the Willow Run Golf Course. This was Harper's first ace in 35 years of golfing.
