

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH MITCHAM

Portland's Old Church scene of wedding

The Old Church, Portland, Oregon historical landmark, was the setting for the recent wedding of Sara Lynn Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Miller, Heppner, OR to Joseph F. Mitcham, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold Mitcham, Beaverton, OR. The Reverend Melvin Dixon of Milton-Freewater, OR presided at the ceremony.

The church was decorated with three large baskets of multi-colored pastel flowers and candelabra set with white candles.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a white empire styled gown with re-embroidered organza bodice and short puffed sleeves. The full organza skirt was fashioned with two deep flounces which ended in a self train. She wore a picture hat of re-embroidered organza with picot edging. Her bouquet of stefanotis, baby pink carnations, pink tea roses and baby's breath was carried in a white organza parasol.

For "something old" she wore a silver brooch which had been worn by the great grandmother for whom she was named. Her diamond earrings, a gift from the groom, were especially designed to match a necklace which he had presented as an engagement gift.

Mrs. Larry Stewart, Portland, sorority sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. John Mitcham, Napa, CA, also a sorority sister, Mrs. Jim Lasky and Mrs. Jim Kimball, Portland, both master's degree candidates with the bride served as bridesmaids. Their pink dresses were styled with empire waists, puffed sleeves and ruffled necklines. They wore hand-made ribbon headpieces and carried white garden baskets. Both headpieces and baskets were accented with multi-colored pastel flowers.

John Mitcham, Napa, CA, the groom's twin, was best man for his brother. Groomsman were Kevin Sherwood, Corvallis, OR, Kerry Viestenz and Jim Hansen, Portland.

The bride's mother chose a rose pink jersey gown with draped bodice and long sleeves. The groom's mother wore pale green jersey with mandarin collar and long sleeves. Both mothers' flowers were white gardenias.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Aero Club of Oregon in Portland.

The parents of the groom hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Sheraton Portland the evening preceding the ceremony.

Showers honoring the bride were given by Mrs. Jim Lasky and Mrs. Jim Kimball, Portland, and by the United Methodist Women, Heppner, OR.

The bride is a graduate of Heppner High School and the University of Oregon. In August, 1975 she received a master's degree in Speech Pathology and Audiology from Portland State University. She is a member of Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Lambda Delta and Mortar Board.

The groom graduated from high school in Beaverton, OR and is a senior at Portland State University studying Administration of Justice.

Following a wedding trip to Victoria, BC, the couple is at home in Hillsboro, OR where the bride is employed by the Hillsboro Elementary School District as a speech correctionist and the groom is employed by the City of Portland.

Bicentennial king and queen

Roy Edwin Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Ball was born Nov. 22, 1896 in Ione, OR. He lived in the Ione area until 1931 (except for 3 years spent in Waitsburg, WA, as a young child), when he and his family moved to Boardman. He farmed all his active life, retiring in 1967. He was active in the Christian Church in Ione and is now in the Community Church at Boardman where he is also active in the Greenfield Grange and the golf club.

Flossie (Barlow) Ball was born Feb. 14, 1900 to Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Barlow in Colby, KS. She came to Eightmile with her parents in 1902 and has lived in Oregon since then.

She worked for the Pacific Telephone Company for many years, beginning her service in Heppner. In 1927 she moved to Boardman where she has since resided. There she began working for the U.S. Post Office Department as a substitute postal clerk in 1945, continuing until Jan. 1, 1954 when she became Postmaster. She retired from this position Jan. 9, 1969.

She has been active in the Boardman Community Church since coming to Boardman, being Sunday School Supt., teacher and choir leader. She has held many offices in the Greenfield Grange, was a charter member of the Boardman Garden Club, and is just retiring as its president.

Roy and Flossie have five children; Mrs. Glenn (Echo) Mallery, Seattle; Roy Ball Jr., Mesa, AZ; Albert Ball, Lincoln City; Franklin Ball, Pendleton; and Delbert Ball, Boardman.
