Girls return from Japan

Excited parents drove to Portland to meet their daughters as they arrived from their recent visit to Japan. The girls, Alice Abrams, Janette Piper and Cathy Palmer, arrived from their five-week stay in Japan last Thursday morning. They have returned to their homes in Heppner, Lexington and the Eight Mile area. Each girl spent most of her time in a different location, in fact on a different island. The girls had different experiences living with the Japanese families. They will be submitting their experiences and stories to the Gazette-Times within a few weeks.

PRESENTATION called "rolling in the dough" was presented at the 1975 Oregon State Fair by Morrow County's Jan Peterson. The lone 4-H member received a blue award for her work. The 4-H presentation program gives 4-H members a chance to teach others what they have learned while gaining poise and practice in public speaking.

CORRECTION

In last week's issue, Sabre Farms was inadvertently omitted from the list of donors to the Wranglers Morrow County Horse Show.

Court house notes

The County Court didn't meet Aug. 20 as several members were on vacation. Aug. 27 the court moved ahead with various county business. The Baker Plat, a subdivision to the City of Boardman was approved. Judge Paul W. Jones and Harry O'Donnell of the budget committee were reappointed to the County Board of Equalization. A third member to this board was appointed Sept. 2.

The Oregon State Highway Division stated that 41 miles of county road will probably be center striped this fall. A State work force will do the work as Morrow County has no striping equipment. A federal program provides for this striping for citizen's safety.

The large safe in the Treasurer's and Tax Collector's office no longer has the gaping hole in its door. Mr. Smith of the Lexington Maching Shop repaired the safe. He replaced the pieces that had been cut out to open the door when it was inadvertently locked several months ago.

The assessor's office was quiet last week as Johanne Wood has flown east and the three appraisers were in Corvallis. Only Doris Flynn and Assessor Harshman were left to tend the office. Mr. Harshman released the new county value.

The Planning Office records show three county permits have recently been approved: one for Oliver D. Munger, Boardman area, a mobile home; the Swanson Ranch, Ione, grain bins and machine sheds; Lola R. Ballinger, Portland, to construct a recreational cabin at the Blake Ranch Resort.

County Health Nurse Pat Wright reviewed some of the facts about the recent Multiphasic Clinics. She praised the work done by the 7 State Health Department persons, the 4 area doctors and the 20 dedicated volunteers that helped at each clinic. 98 children were examined in Heppner and 85 in Irrigon. These students will be entering kindergarten, first grade or will be high school freshmen.

The examinations covered growth and development, nutritional counseling, checking of vision and hearing as well as lab work, which was done by Kathy Peterson, Ione.

Mrs. Wright, County Health Nurse states that families who have come into the county after these clinics will be checked by the Health Department. The department will bring children's immunization records up to date at the regular school immunization clinics this fall.
