

MR. and MRS. THOMAS GREEN

Claudson - Green

The sanctuary of the First Baptist Church was the scene of a lovely evening wedding Aug. 16 when Claudson Claudson became the bride of Thomas Green.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson, Prineville; and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Green, Heppner. The Rev. Owen Hollingsworth solemnized the double ring ceremony.

Forty-two lighted candles arranged in large, heart-shaped candelabras gave a soft glow of light in front of the altar. In the center of each was a floral arrangement of pink roses, mint green daisies and white mums with babies breath. Large pink gingham bows complemented the arrangement. Candle lamps were placed at the front of the center aisle, with mint green bows circling the stands filled with pink candles.

Mrs. Mel Lambert, organist provided nuptial music. Mrs. Orlie Austin sang "Treasures" and "A Wedding Prayer" to the accompaniment of Auto Harp played by Ann Austin.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a gown of polyester crepe. Charming in its simplicity with dainty crocheted lace accenting the square neckline and short sleeves, the softly gathered tiered skirt was held together with inserts of matching lace. A coronet of crocheted flowers, satin bows and seed pearls secured her veil of silk illusion styled with a chapel train. She carried a cascade arrangement using green daisies, pink roses, pink miniature carnations and babies breath. In keeping with tradition, the bride wore an heirloom ring belonging to the paternal grandmother of the groom and a heart-shaped locket, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Steven McKinley, La Mirada, CA, attended her sister as Matron of Honor. Her pink gingham, floor-length gown reflected the same styling as the bride's. Matching old-fashioned bonnet completed the ensemble; and she carried a woven wicker "sprinkler can" filled with green daisies, pink carnations and babies breath.

Bridesmaids were Linda Beatty and Donna Bishop; their full-length gowns were identically styled to that of the Matron of Honor. They carried identical baskets of pink and green flowers with green ribbon streamers.

Pretty flower girl, Kirsten Green, niece of the groom, was a miniature silhouette of the other attendants in her pink gingham bonnet and long dress. She carried a basket filled with miniature pink and white flowers with babies breath and green ribbon streamers. The Ringbearer, Troy Nichols wore a mint green tuxedo and carried the rings on a heart-shaped pillow.

Tony Doherty, Heppner, served as best man; Mike Sweek and Ron Jones, Heppner were groomsmen. Ushers were Cliff Green, Heppner and Lawrence Green, Payette, ID, brothers of the groom.

Candlelighters David and Roger Lyle wore vests of pink gingham matching the bows in the floral arrangement. Mrs. Wesley Baker, Cheyenne, WY, registered the guests.

Others assisting were Sandy Davis, Teresa Lyle and Angela Owens, each wearing white blouses and pink gingham skirts. Re'Nee Finley and Cathy Hollingsworth placed the gifts.

The mother of the bride chose a floor length pink floral gown. The bridegroom's mother wore a multi-colored green gown. Both wore corsages of pink rosebuds.

A wedding reception was held in the church fellowship hall after the ceremony. Wedding bells and pink gingham bows accentuating the bride's table. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with white daisies, pink roses, and topped with an arrangement of fresh roses and babies breath. Rose-colored flowers and babies breath were placed around the punch bowl. The punch was served by Miss Margaret Green, Portland, sister of the groom; Miss Carol Bigalow attended the coffee service and Mrs. Dwain Whitney cut and served the cake.

Mrs. Green is a 1969 graduate of Cody, WY, and Parks School of Business, Denver, CO. She is employed in the office of Les Sundet, CPA. The bridegroom graduated from Heppner High School and Eastern Oregon College in LaGrande. He served in the armed forces two years and is now employed in the Assessor's Office, Crook County Court House, as an appraiser. The couple will make their home at 1186 Ochoco Avenue, Prineville.

Women enjoy Portland tour

Sixty-six Morrow County women boarded chartered buses at 6:30 a.m., Oct. 8 for the long planned trip to Portland to visit the Pittock Mansion and Japanese Gardens.

The trip was sponsored by the women involved in extension programs in the county, and planned to serve as a beginning of the Bicentennial year. Interest in the tour was so great that two buses were necessary to accommodate the number of women who registered to attend. First stop was the Japanese Gardens, then to luncheon on the River Queen, with a tour of Pittock Mansion the highlight of the afternoon. On completion of the scheduled tours, the buses took the women to downtown Portland to shop and have dinner.

"Let's do it again soon!" "One of the nicest days ever" were typical comments on returning home. "Every one was so friendly, and did you notice the ages of the women varied from 20 to 80 years of age?"

All agreed it was a very educational, eventful and fun day, and many requests have been received for additional educational tours. Women attending were from Heppner, Lexington, Ione, Boardman, Irrigon, Pilot Rock and Hermiston.

NEW DISPLAY FOR LIBRARY

Replicas of small birds, from the collection of Adele LaTrace have been replaced with a collection of dogs owned by John Briedenbach. Some of the animals are hand carved and according to Briedenbach, the collection was started by his grandmother. The collection will be on display during October and November.

Justine Weatherford, librarian, is in hopes that people who collect angels will loan them to the library for a pre-Christmas display.

LIBRARIANS AT BAKER MEETING

Marion Abrams, Heppner High School Librarian, and Justine Weatherford of the public library attended the Eastern Oregon Library Association meeting, Baker, Oct. 18.

Ronald Walrod, associate president of the Baker County Library, had made arrangements for the meeting and presided at the discussion sessions.

Mary Bates, Blue Mountain Community College librarian, Diane Walster, librarian at Pendleton High School and John Switzer, Umatilla County librarian presented a panel discussion of inter-library cooperation. Eloise Ebert, Oregon State Librarian, talked with the group about changing state laws.

Sandra Blackaby, librarian at Treasure Valley Community College, Ontario, was elected incoming president of the association. She appointed Marion Abrams as one of the five members of a long range planning committee to provide input from eastern Oregon to the state long-range planning committee.

State needs appraisers

John Lobdell, director of the Oregon Department of Revenue, said recently that in spite of high unemployment reported in the state some county assessors are unable to hire experienced certified property appraisers to fill positions left vacant by retirements and resignations.

Lobdell said county assessor's offices have long been training ground for qualified appraisers. But these appraisers are later hired from counties by state and federal agencies, banks and mortgage companies, lured by higher salaries, or they resign to enter private appraisal practice.

The revenue director said the loss of even one experienced appraiser can often jeopardize an assessor's ability to maintain the required level of property assessments. When assessment levels fall below standard some property owners may pay more than their share of the cost of local government and schools.

Men and women who feel they are qualified property appraisers are urged to contact the county relations representative of the Department of Revenue, Salem, if they are interested in applying for positions as certified appraisers.
