Santa surprises Wranglers

The annual Wrangler Christmas party was held at the Annex Bldg, Dec. 7, 5 p.m.

A large crowd was present for the potluck supper, complete with holiday decorations and Christmas tree. The event was hosted by Gwen and Jack Healy, Jean and Norman Nelson and Marilyn and Cleo Childers.

The business meeting, held after dinner, concluded with election of officers for 1976.

Elected for the coming year are: Lee Palmer, president; Bob Mahoney, vice-president; Ann Schwarz, secretary; Gwen Healy, treasurer; Directors for 2 years, Archie Ball and Lee Padberg; for 1 year term, Ed Martin, Jerry Dougherty and Pat Dougherty. Bob Van Schoiack was appointed rodeo board representative from the Wranglers. The horse show superintendent, Dick Sherer will head the committee to revise the horse show.

A board of directors meeting in January will outline the schedule of events and calendar for 1976.

Following adjournment, Santa Claus arrived to provide treats for all and gifts for the 12 and under youngsters.

BMCC sets budget date

The Blue Mountain Community College Board of Education and Budget Committee set April 20, 1976 as the date for the college's annual budget election and elected Ben Holdman, Pendleton, as Chairman of the Budget Committee.

BMCC has no tax base, so must hold a budget election each year for funds to operate the college. The committee also elected Wally Wedin, Milton-Freewater, secretary.

Also on the ballot April 20 will be three positions on the Board of Education. The positions currently held by Bob Rietmann, Ione; Joe Green, Pendleton, and Ken Dauble, Weston will be up for vote.

Rietmann was appointed by the board last summer to fill the post vacated by Dorothy Krebs, Ione, who resigned on the advice of her doctor. State law requires the position, which has two years to run, be placed on the April ballot. Both Green and Dauble were elected to their positions and are nearing the end of their terms. Deadline for filing for the three board positions is March 16, 1976.

Members of the budget committee, in addition to Holdman and Wedin, are Bill Etter, Pilot Rock; Homer Hughes, Lexington; Fred Nishimura, Boardman; Bob Stangier and Bob Mautz, both of Pendleton.

Board members, in addition to Rietmann, Green and Dauble, are Chairman Harmon Springer, Malachi Campbell and John Hansell, all of Hermiston, and Jim Whitney, Pendleton.

The Irrigon Assembly of God Sunday School Christmas program will be held Sunday, Dec. 14, 7 p.m.

Bookworms Review 'Leaving Home'

An amusing, pleasing, lovable, Irish Catholic family is featured in Arthur Cavanaugh's warm, haunting novel, "Leaving Home." The author dedicates this book "To my father and to the memory of my mother, who was Catherine."

Lucy Peterson presented an enthusiastic review of the novel to the Bookworms at their November meeting in the home of Ruby Becket. She said that parts from the book had appeared in both McCall's and Redbook magazines.

The parents are the principal characters, but their five children add humor and interest to this great depression-time novel. The author begins with the funeral of the mother, and flashes back to incidents that took place during earlier years during the couple's romance and during the long period of raising their children in bustling Brooklyn.

Mrs. Peterson compared the novel to "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" and to various stories written about the Irish, Catholic Kennedys of Boston. She read several passages from the book and extolled the writer's ability to provide poignant descriptions.

For those who have known New York City and Brooklyn, the review of events and characters in the various parishes will be especially interesting. For any reader who likes a book that is hard to put aside, "Leaving Home" is highly recommended.

The New York Times rated it "tender and vivid." The Washington D.C. News said, "Folks who complain that there's nothing decent to read these days should rush right out and get a copy of 'Leaving Home.'"

Mrs. Peterson used the paperback copy, a Fawcett Crest publication, which came out in 1972. The Heppner Public Library has this book in its adult fiction collection.

Rent certificates not required

Rent certificates are no longer necessary for persons claiming renter property tax refunds. This message apparently bears repeating, says John J. Lobdell, director of the Oregon Department of Revenue, because so many landlords are calling the department requesting rent certificates.

Lobdell says the legislature dropped the rent certificate requirement more than six months ago and the change applies to persons filing claims on or after Jan. 1, 1976.

Lobdell asks that all persons aware of the law change pass the information along to other Oregon renters and landlords.

He also advises renters to keep their rent receipts and canceled checks to substantiate the amount of rent paid in case the revenue department audits their claims.

The Ione Trailriders held their first meeting of the new 4-H year, Nov. 17 in the Ione High School library.

One of the first items of interest was to elect officers for the coming year. Elected to office were: Debora Palmer, president; Anita Palmer, vice president; Donna Palmer, secretary-treasurer; Laurie Childers, reporter; Kim Pettyjohn, sergeant-at-arms. Other members include Kris and Kelly Pettyjohn, Scott, Todd and Brett Sherer, Dawn Peterson, Anne Murray and Roger Childers. Tammy Holtz was accepted as a new member. The club leader is Mrs. Del LaRue.

The main topic of discussion was the making of reigns and vests for future parades. Another meeting of the group was held Tuesday, Dec. 2 at the Ione High School library.

Because nuclear power is cheaper than electricity generated from coal, it will help hold down energy costs.
