OREGON WINTER WHEAT SEEDINGS UP 4 PER CENT

Oregon's 1975 winter wheat seeded for harvest in 1976 is estimated at 1,200,000 acres, 4 per cent above last year's seeded acreage, according to the Oregon Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This is a record acreage, surpassing the 1,150,000 acres seeded for the 1975 harvest.

Prospective winter wheat production based on Dec. 1 weather and soil moisture conditions is expected to total 52,800,000 bushels, 1 per cent more than the record 1975 crop.

Dry soil conditions hampered seeding during the fall season in parts of eastern Oregon. Heavy rainfall during October and November in the Willamette Valley left some intended acreage still unseeded on Dec. 1.

Seedings of winter wheat in the three state area of Oregon, Washington, and Idaho, is placed at 5,150,000 acres, 3 per cent more than last year. Expected production for the area is forecast at 215,670,000 bushels, 3 per cent below the 1975 crop. Washington's acreage at 2,940,000 is up 3 per cent while production at 123,480,000 bushels is down 8 per cent. Idaho's acreage, at 1,910,000 is up 2 per cent and production, at 39,390,000 bushels, is up 9 per cent from last year.

Nationally, winter wheat seeded acreage is placed at 57.2 million acres, 2 per cent above last year.

Summer employment picture bleak

Opportunities for summer employment in the National Forests of Oregon and Washington will be slim again in 1976, according to Regional Forester Theodore A. Schlaffer, U.S. Forest Service.

In 1975, there were 39,000 applicants, and 4585 persons were hired. The number of jobs available will be about the same in 1976, Schlaffer said, with priority consideration given to those previously employed by the Forest Service. Applicants must be 18 years of age at time of employment.

FARMER TAX GUIDES

1976 Farmer Tax Guides are available at the County Extension Office, Heppner, reports Harold E. Kerr, County Extension Agent. There are a number of changes in Federal laws affecting your 1975 taxes. Farmers should be familiar with these changes even if someone else prepares their tax records.

Items of interest because of tax changes for this year include:

Crop Disaster payments; Advance Payments for livestock feed; Hay grown by a cattle raiser solely for feeding a herd; the investment credit has been temporarily increased; Individual and self-employed retirement programs; the amount of net earnings subject to self-employment tax; standard deduction; low income allowance, political contributions; personal exemption credit;

New residence; earned income credit; if your return is audited; tax rebates; IRS toll free numbers; revenue sharing; privacy act information; presidential election campaign fund; choose your preparer carefully and reminders.

marked between Jan. 1 and Feb. 15 and must be submitted to the Regional Office in Portland, not to individual National Forests as in the past years. Jobs, however, will be in the field, not in the Regional Office. Application forms, available from Forest Service offices, have a space for applicants to choose the geographical location desired.

Applications should be addressed to Temporary Employment, U.S. Forest Service, P.O. Box 3623, Portland, OR 97208.

DAVE BONKOWSKI

David Bonkowski to visit

David Bonkowski, will share some of his personal experiences of Trinidad-Tobago, with the group of Morrow County, Jan. 11-14.

Bonkowski was a 1975 International Four-H Youth Exchange (IFYE) delegate to the Caribbean nation this summer and fall. He will be addressing school groups, 4-H clubs and other organizations while in the county according to Birdine Tullis, Extension program assistant.

The two-island nation (Trinidad and Tobago, just off the coast of Venezuela) received its independence from Great Britain in 1962. It contains a wide variety of ethnic groups who have retained much of their culture and tradition according to Bonkowski.

He is one of four IFYE delegates from Oregon who participated in the international people-to-people program last year. He lived and worked with several host families during his stay in Trinidad-Tobago. Assisting in financing his exchange were the Oregon Bankers Association, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs of the U.S. State Department and other friends of 4-H.

Bonkowski, son of Mrs. Mildred Bonkowski, earned a degree in earth science from OSU in 1974 and then did graduate work before leaving for his IFYE assignment. He was a 4-H member for nine years.

Groups wishing to schedule an appearance by Bonkowski while he is in Morrow County or persons wishing more information about the IFYE program should contact the Morrow County Extension Office.
