A FEW STROKES OF THE PEN SET AMERICAN HISTORY IN MOTION...

... in 1776, when a handful of leaders signed America's Constitution into being... and again in the early 1930's, when another handful of leaders signed the rural electrification program into being.

In the 200 years of our nation's history, America has become great. In our own short history, we of the country's nearly 1,000 rural electric systems have helped rural Americans contribute significantly to that greatness.

We'll keep working... because, as we look down the road ahead, we are newly aware that, after the pen is laid down, it takes hard work, good will and human resourcefulness to get history rolling... in the right direction.
