Public Works Bill

More than a half-billion dollars is included in the recently signed 1976 public works appropriations bill for energy production and flood control projects affecting Oregon. Sen. Mark Hatfield said recently. Hatfield is the ranking Republican member of the appropriations committee panel that approved the funds. He released a detailed listing of the individual projects.

Research and Development Administration.

Corps of Engineer projects within the State of Oregon include: Applegate Lake, Astoria Turning Basin; Bonneville Lock and Dam, 2nd powerhouse; Cascadia Lake; Catherine Creek Lake, Coos Bay; Days Creek Lake (phase 1); Elk Creek Lake, John Day Lake and Dam, Lake Umatilla, Sillies River and tributaries.

"This total of $514,918,000 represents responsible federal spending that will help create Oregon jobs, improve local economies and protect our region's natural resources," Hatfield explained. "Of this total, $441,184,000 will fund construction work on a wide variety of projects throughout the region at a time when the Northwest construction industry is in the economic doldrums and more jobs are needed."

Hatfield broke down the total funding into several different categories. He said construction work by the Corps of Engineers on Oregon-related projects will total $237,725,000; for the Bureau of Reclamation the total is $120,900,000, and self-financed Bonneville Power Administration construction work in Oregon will total $82,559,000.

In addition to these construction funds, the $514.9 million includes money for regular operation and maintenance work at existing projects, and for investigation and design work prior to construction of new public works projects. Including the construction funds detailed above, the Oregon-related grand totals for the agencies include: $277,421,000 for the Corps of Engineers; $126,178,000 for the Bureau of Reclamation; $105,789,000 for Bonneville Power Administration; and $5,530,000 for the Energy

Partly or wholly out of state Corps projects affecting Oregon are: Chief Joseph Dam, Generating units; Columbia River and tributaries; The Dalles lock and dam, generating units; Libby Dam, generating units; Lower Granite Dam, generating units; Little Goose Dam, generating units; Lower Monumental Dam, generating units; Hopper dredges.

Bureau of Reclamation projects in Oregon include Rouge River Basin, Grants Pass division and Tualatin project.

Operating figures for banking firm

1975 operating figures for the Pendleton Banking Co. were released today by Joe B. Green, Chairman of the Board of the locally owned bank. He indicated that total assets of the bank increased 58 per cent from $7 million to $11.7 million during the year. In 1974, the bank was the fastest growing in Oregon with a rate of 54 per cent.

Preliminary figures indicate that earnings for the year were about $54,000 or $1.54 per outstanding share of common stock, an increase of 189 per cent over 1974 figures. Green emphasized final figures could vary somewhat, but said that he felt any such adjustments would be minor.

"We're well satisfied with the year", said Green, "and we are looking forward optimistically to 1976 and beyond. Our earnings for the year represent what we think is the proper balance in view of our extraordinary growth in size, and we are now in an excellent position to move ahead with our plans for the bank."

COLLEGE EXPANDS GED TEST PROGRAM

The General Education Development testing program and Blue Mountain Community College will be expanded next week to include Tuesday evening testing.

The new schedule will add Tuesday evening testing on the campus from 5-9 p.m. the 1st and 3rd Tuesdays of each month, and on the Umatilla Indian Reservation from 6-9 p.m. the 2nd and 4th Tuesdays. Heretofore all testing was conducted in the college Counseling Center during a normal 8 to 5 weekday schedule.

The GED test is a high school equivalency test available to non-high school graduates who are 18 years old or over. It includes a series of five tests on English, Social Studies, Science, Literature and Mathematics.

Persons wishing more information on the tests should visit the college Counseling Center or phone 276-1260, Ext. 226. Those wishing to prepare for the test may register in the college's Adult Education program, Study Skill Center, Pioneer Hall.

2,4-D ANALYSIS

Earl Bates, agricultural meteorologist and Joseph Hennessey recently published the 2, 4-D transport report which summarized data and analysis of 2,4-D monitoring stations in Oregon, reports Harold Kerr, County Extension Agent.

The purpose of the analysis was to calculate if 2,4-D is transported from wheat fields in Oregon across the Horse Heaven Hills into vineyards of the lower Yakima Valley and whether it might cause injury to the crop.

It was determined that the critical level of 2,4-D concentration at grape vineyards was 1 part per billion. Using a complex formula, Bates and Hennessey calculated from data collected at Oregon points closest to the affected vineyards that the highest calculated amount of 2,4-D contributed by Oregon was 0.013 parts per billion or 1.3 per cent of the amount required to cause damage in the vineyards.

This report should largely ease the suspicion of Washington grape growers that Oregon wheatgrowers are causing their 2,4-D damage problem.
