Two fires in the past two weeks. The Rod Murrays home, lone, has extensive damage to the basement, where the bedrooms are located. Also the upstairs has smoke damage. The possible cause of the fire was a defective electric blanket.

A smaller fire was caught in time at the Homer Hughes ranch house. Majo Hughes said that the fire was kept to the garage, only because she was home. When she saw the smoke, she called for assistance, which came immediately.

After attending meetings, visiting with the people who try to keep our community going, I'm always amazed with their thoughtfulness. The important decisions are made with every consideration given. Most of these people serve in our community without any remuneration. They are our neighbors and friends. I think they are all doing a great job and we should take time out once in a while and say "thanks" people!

We all know that Mike Sweeney is chairman of the Bicentennial for Morrow County, but Mike do you have to grow the beard?

Our town is big enough to have an occasional scandal and small enough that there might be a chance we will know someone involved.

Oregon CowBelles

The Oregon Beef Council and the Oregon CowBelles promoted the sale of baby beef in the 12 Fred Meyer's Stores in the Portland area, Jan. 15-16.

Over 1,300 head of the baby beef were purchased for this promotion and by Friday noon 1,000 head had been sold. Each beef weighs approximately 600 pounds, and between 10-12,000 consumers were reached during the promotion.

Mrs. Ray French, Heppner and Verina Schiller, of the Morrow County CowBelles helped in one of the Fred Meyer's Stores during the promotion.

The Oregon Beef Council entertained the CowBelles with a dinner Friday evening. Fred Meyer Company served the CowBelles breakfast at the Eve's Restaurant. They were given a conducted tour of the bakery that supplies all the freshly baked goods to the Eve's Restaurants. The morning ended with a tour of the fresh produce warehouse.

This is the fourth promotion the CowBelles have held in Oregon and all have been successful. Anyone from Morrow County interested in helping with the next promotion is asked to contact Mrs. Jean Bennett, Heppner.

According to Norma French after serving hundreds of consumers, she list the following suggestions for preparing and serving beef:

Beef should be cooked slowly over medium heat, and should be served well done. Pan fried (dredged in seasoned flour) and simmered in sauce or gravies. Roasts should be cooked in the oven with the temperature set at 350 degrees.

Baby beef is considered beef that is too old to be sold as veal, and too young to be labeled mature beef.

Friday, Jan. 30—we would like to have report cards (grades 3 to 8) signed and returned to school.

Dogs DO NOT belong at school! Please help by keeping them at home. Last week a student was bitten hard enough to break the skin. It was just a pup "playing", but when the "pup" is almost as tall as the child and outweighs him by 30 pounds serious injury can result.

One other reminder. Students are not to be on the school grounds until 8:15 a.m. They cannot enter the building until the first bus gets here or about 8:20. We cannot be responsible for supervision of students that show up here at 7:45.

The LAPP Volunteer Program is underway in our primary building. This is a pilot program of volunteers spending time with individual children in the area of reading. Additional volunteers, as well as donated easy chairs and floor lamps are still needed. If you can help, or know of a friend or grandparent who might, contact Rachel Dick or Pauline Miller here at the Grade School, 676-9128.
