

Pot Belly Steve

By Julie Nelson

Robin Baker is going to assist me this summer with the news. She is married to Robert Baker and they have a six-month-old son, Bridger. Beginning now you may call your news in to either Robin or I. Robin's phone number is 422-7572.

The Dealing Dozen had their last card party for the season at the home of Julie Nelson. Winning high was Mary Ann Palmer, second high Ione Martin, low Bev Steagall and traveling was Margo Sherer.

Fifty people attended an open house at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Rea following the graduation of their son LeRoy. A few out-of-towners were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Howton, Hermiston; Doreen and Walt Jacobs, Moses Lake, WA and John Campbell, Connel, WA.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Crabtree, Tacoma, WA, were here from Thursday to Monday helping his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Crabtree with the house they are remodeling. Archie Munkers, Heppner, is also working on the house. Another visitor from Salem was Leo's nephew Raymond Hoffman who spent a week here.

Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Ernst and family are entertaining visitors for two weeks. Coming from North Dakota are her nephew Jimmy and his dad, Dick Carkner and a friend.

There will be a public hearing of the Ione City Budget on June 1 at the City Hall, 8 p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend.

On May 15, Carl Smouse entered the UCARC Walkathon (walk for the retarded) in Pendleton and walked thirteen of the twenty miles.

A party was held the following Saturday when the entrants brought their pledges in. It was announced that Carl had placed third.

Carl wishes to thank all his sponsors.

Some members of the Rick Harris, Candy and Mr. D. group were here visiting friends and relatives. This professional group consists of eight fellows; three of whom are known in the area. They are Gene Heliker, son of Mrs. Orville Cutsforth; Steve Gorgor (sound engineer), cousin to Bob Baker and Steve Tate.

Convention

Seven members of the Oregon Tops, No. 484, Lexington and one member of the Ione Chapter traveled to Portland, May 20, to attend the State Convention. The convention was held May 21-22 at the Hilton Hotel.

Members representing the Lexington Club include: Mary Doherty, Erda Pieper, Irene Papineau, Elsie Fox, Charlene Papineau, Linda Briedenbach and Barbara Paulus. Charlotte Milliman represented the Ione Club.

The theme this year is "Hang in There Baby" and each of the members was presented with a small wire hanger.

Two of the local ladies were in the parade of alumni TOPS, Erda Pieper and Irene Padberg formed the circle of light with their candles for the graduating TOPS Saturday afternoon.

Erda Pieper was presented a gold necklace with a ruby setting for her five years as an alumni.

Doctor Harold Durden gave an educational talk on obesity, his topic, "What Price Freedom."

The Society gave a presentation of all the flags of the United States, from the beginning to the present time.

Each person gave a short history of the flag, circled the area and when all were present they performed an impressive flag drill.

MR. AND MRS. RANDY HUGHES

First Christian Church Scene of Marquardt-Hughes Wedding

The First Christian Church, Heppner, was the setting Saturday, April 17 for the wedding of Joyce Marquardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Marquardt of Lexington, to Randy William Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horner Hughes. The Rev. Bill Collier officiated at the afternoon ceremony.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a sheer organza and lace, long traditional gown of white. The full sheer skirt was ringed with a wide lace flounce ending with a cathedral train. The cathedral-length mantilla head piece was edged with matching lace. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, pink roses and sweet peas. Sheree Marquardt was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Carlita and Lolita Marquardt, sisters of the bride; Mary Kay Bellamy, sister of the groom and Kathy Messenger, cousin of the bride. Each bridal attendant wore full-skirted pink and green dotted swiss dresses trimmed in white lace and daisies. They carried bouquets of pink roses and yellow daisies.

Flower girl was Jana Marquardt, sister of the bride. Ring bearer was Jay Messenger, cousin of the bride. Debbie and Pam Marquardt, sisters of the bride were the candlelighters.

Matt Hughes, Boardman, acted as best man for his brother. Groomsmen were James Marquardt, brother of the bride, Mark Piper, cousin of the groom, John Collins, Lexington, brother-in-law of the groom, and Sam Bellamy, Condon, brother-in-law of the groom.

A reception followed in the basement of the church with Betty Pettyjohn, Melba Quackenbush, Rena Marquardt and Sue Messenger pouring coffee.

Attending the gift table were Billee Owen and Carol Collins. Charma Marquardt was in charge of the gift table.

The bride's going-away ensemble was a lilac polyester dress trimmed in white. Following their wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will make their home in Lexington.

Recreational trip for Senior Citizens

A one-day recreational bus trip to John Day Dam, to Cello Park for a pack yourself picnic and to Maryhill Museum is being planned by the Morrow County Senior Citizens Advisory Council, Saturday, June 12, 1976.

The cost of the trip will depend upon the number of people going, but is expected to be less than $2 per person. The bus will leave from the Neighborhood Center in Heppner at 8 a.m., Lexington City Hall at 8:30 a.m., and from the Wagon Wheel Cafe, Irrigon between 9:30 and 9:45 a.m. Arrangements are being made for seniors in Ione.

All Senior Citizens in Morrow County are welcome and urged to take advantage of this trip. For reservations or additional information, please call the following people by Tuesday, June 1, 1976:

Molly Becket, Heppner, 676-5131; John Canaday, Heppner, 676-9647; Helen Martin, Ione, 422-7142; Truman Messenger, Lexington, 989-8518; Earl or Alva Sanders, Irrigon, 922-3341.

Survey response good

The response of the area residents to the recently distributed health needs survey by the Tri-County Health Services Commission has been most gratifying.

To those residents who have not yet sent in their questionnaire, will you not take a moment and do so.

If you have lost or misplaced your copy and desire another, please call the Tri-County Health Services Commission office, Heppner, 676-5131, and one will be sent to you.

The results of this survey will be utilized by local and regional health care personnel and facilities in planning to provide the most adequate care for you and your families.

Invited To Cutting Supper

Everyone in the south county area is invited to a farewell potluck supper for Edwin and Doris Cutting next Tuesday evening, June 2, 6:30 in the basement of the Heppner United Methodist Church. This popular and active couple will leave Heppner before the middle of June for a pastorate at Coquille, OR.

During the seven years they have been in Heppner they have both participated in many community affairs. They have been superintendents of the fruits and vegetable sector of the Morrow County Fair and have been active in the Rhea Creek Grange. The Rev. Cutting has served the Heppner Neighborhood Center, and Doris has helped with Senior Citizen activities and weekly meals. They were leaders in the Ione Garden Club until the Heppner Garden Club was chartered. Each has been the president of the Heppner Club. Edwin has contributed many hours of skilled pruning to municipal trees at Ione and in Heppner.

The Rev. Cutting has conducted monthly, religious services at the Pioneer Memorial Hospital where he and Mrs. Cutting have been among the most regular of visitors. He has been a weekly volunteer in the Elementary School Reading Program (L.A.P.) this year.

Edwin Cutting has been pastor of two churches, the United Methodist Church here and the church at Echo. He has conducted classes, supervised activities, made reports and preached at each church every week. After June 15 each church will be having a new pastor.

Mr. Cutting has written religious articles for this paper and the East-Oregonian. The Cuttings have four sons and two daughters and ten grandchildren. Only the two younger children, Vanessa and Craig, are especially known here although others of the family have been frequent visitors in the Heppner pastorage.

The Methodist congregation is arranging the supper for next Tuesday evening but is cordially inviting all of the community to join them in bidding the Cuttings a fond adieu.
