motor home, equipped with banking essentials, including a safe, lobby and desk. The project would be a joint program with Boardman, Arlington and Heppner. Right now, none of the three cities has a big enough population to feasibly put a five day a week bank in town.

The mobile bank would be in Heppner two days a week, in Boardman twice a week and in Arlington, one day a week.

officials said they would entertain metal structure possibilities to meet fire codes. Opening of the bank is set for Oct. 1.

Comprehensive plans should begin soon

Work on a four city comprehensive plan should get started within the next couple weeks, according to Dave Moon, Morrow County planning commissioner.

The plans were to begin July 1 but revisions in compliance schedules have stalled the project. The schedules have been updated, Moon said, and the county is waiting on a Land Conservation and Development Commission ruling.

The LCDC grants should be available, Moon said, after the commission has ruled on the compliance schedule revisions.

"We can't do anything till we get the money," Moon said, noting that a planner has not been hired yet. One full time planner and a part time secretary will be hired by the cities of Heppner, Lexington, Ione and Irrigon on the joint LCDC funded project.
