Heppner couple opens mini-mart

Cliff and Josephine Reed have started Reed's Mini-Mart for Heppner convenience.

The mini-market, featuring essentials, was opened briefly for Fourth of July shoppers and a tentative grand opening is set for about two weeks.

The store is in the Mobil Service Station on Court Street next to Farley Ford. The hours will be the same as the station which are 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. on weekdays and 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Sunday.

The Reeds also lease the service station and operate it.

Kinzua hires new electrician

Terry Carter

Kinzua Corporation has hired Terry Carter as a journeyman electrician, in charge of swing shift electrical maintenance.

Carter, an electrician for 20 years, comes to Heppner from Vancouver, WA, where he was an electrician at Carborandum Company, an electro mineral operation that produced silicon carbide.

Carter, who will make his home in Heppner at the Valley View Estates, is one of nine electricians that operate all phases of the electrical part of Kinzua.

He comes to Heppner with his wife Candice and a son Mike, age 11. He is an avid motorcycle rider.

OSU names area student honor roll

Oregon State University has named students who made the scholastic honor roll spring term.

A total of 614 students earned straight A's and another 1481 earned a B plus or better to make the honor listing. Students on the honor roll must have earned a 3.5 (B plus) or better on at least 12 graded hours of course work.

From Boardman, Charles W. Acock, a senior in agriculture, received a 4.0 (straight A's). Lewis D. Barnhart, a senior in business also made the OSU honor roll.

Jeanine K. Holm, Heppner, a senior in science, also had straight A's. Robert F. Worden, also of Heppner, received honor roll status as a senior in agriculture.

Book sale set Thursday, July 15

The Public Library Board approved Mrs. Weatherford's request for a special summer book sale. She stated that so many generous citizens have given the library many books in the last few months that a sale is really needed.

This first, summer book sale will begin during library hours, 7:30-9:30 next Thursday evening, July 15, and will continue until the end of the month. Remember that the library is open Monday and Wednesday from 12:30 until 5:00, Thursday evening, and Saturday afternoon from 2-4 p.m., but not on Sundays until after August 10.

Museum quilt

Because quilting is enjoying a big revival and because it is a bi-centennial art form, your museum is happy to have a built-in-the-making on display. It is the Sun Bonnet Girls pattern and was pieced by Irene Swanson who has demonstrated the art of quilting to many persons. Mrs. Swanson is a member of the Museum Board. She moved to Heppner recently from her long-time home in Ione.
