Feeling a little different this Thursday? Maybe this is because fall officially arrived yesterday, Sept. 22 and summer 1976 has ended. Some of us are very uncertain that it ever began.

The Bob Shumans are working hard at putting a firm, cement foundation under their home on S. Gilmore St. Now even if the earth quakes, they will be OK.

Some Heppnerites will be off to the annual community auction in Arlington this Saturday, Sept. 25. Some unusual big items will be offered. The Arlington Methodist Church makes arrangements and serves a luncheon at noon.

From Tulsa, OK were Dick and Vickie Hynds, who stayed with Vicki's parents, George and Annabelle Steagall. Then it was on to Pendleton, where they stayed with Dick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hynds Jr. and viewed the famous Pendleton Round-Up. Dick is an economic analyst for the Williams Energy Co., Tulsa, OK.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Holt and two daughters, Oregon City, were recent Heppner visitors, staying with Mr. and Mrs. C.J.D. Bauman, Jack's parents.

Jim and Curtis Cutsforth and sister, Diana Partlow, drove to Denver, CO, to visit their brother and wife, Tom and Cathy Cutsforth. Diane flew home and Tom and Curtis drove home. Tom is stationed in Denver, CO.

Mrs. Norma Vawter, Boise, ID was visiting with her uncle Clarence Bauman and Mrs. Bauman recently.

Mrs. Olive Hughes is at her home in Heppner after spending most of her summer at the home of her son and family, William B. Hughes, Roseburg.

On June 1, she attended the 60th reunion (Class of 1916) at Oregon State University. Olive also went to Hawaii for a two week vacation with son, William and his daughter, Mrs. Ellen Marshall.

The Erwin Anderson home was kept active with granddaughters Lisa, Shelly and Alison Parent, Milwaukee; Suzanne Martin and a friend Ramona Reish, Lakeview, visiting for the months of July and August.

Dee Martin and Nancy Parent, mothers of the girls, came for them when school time came near. Dee and Nancy spent their vacation with their parents and attended the fair and rodeo while they were here.

Other guests at the Anderson home for the rodeo were Ben and Charlie Vaughn, Portland.

It was vacation time for the McCabe family. Ernie and Mary Jean spent the first half of the week in Seattle where Ernie attended a meat seminar. Then it was on to the coast for the rest of the week. Pam and Laurie drove to the coast and stayed with them.

Laurie will be able to come home to stay in three weeks. She will still have to return to the hospital for treatments, but she is now out of the wheel chair and in a brace.

It was smiling faces on all of us when Jerry Sweeney told us that son Mike had passed his state bar examination and will be admitted to practice law in Oregon. Proud daddy and proud friends you have Mike. Of course there will be an official announcement later in the paper, I just couldn't wait.
