

Party Line

D. Zita & Justine Weatherford

This Friday night is the homecoming game for Heppner High School. LaVerne Van Marter stated that the word homecoming was meant for the alumni of the schools, and how far we are from the meaning. Maybe class reunions should be held around the schools homecoming games. Just a thought.

Mrs. Owen Leathers visited with her granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Flatt, Condon, over the weekend.

Alena Anderson has been visiting in Portland for the past two weeks with her daughters, Dee Martin and Nancy Parent. Nancy and her daughters, Lisa, Shelly and Alison brought Alena home on Friday, and spent the weekend here.

Tricia Gunderson and Fern Healy were up from Portland this weekend visiting with the Eddie Gundersons and friends.

On the front page of the Sunday's Oregonian woman's section is a picture of Laurie McCabe. Did you see it?

Barbara Cutsforth and Alta Cutsforth were in Portland last week. Alta visited with her daughter, Vesta Kilkenny, and Barbara was in Salem, where her aunt underwent heart surgery. Minerva Denslinger, The Dalles, was also with Barbara in Salem.

Visiting here from Lind, WA, was Kenneth and Carolyn Cutsforth. They moved to Lind from Hermiston last month.

Spending the weekend deer hunting at Cutsforth Park were Mike and Quantia Ignowki, their son and family, Pat and Paulie Ignowki and daughters, all from The Dalles. On Saturday, they went deer hunting with Bill Collins and Archie Mumkers. Mike managed to stir up a large thundering herd of elk.

Returning from a week in the south were Bud and Harriet Batty, where Bud attended his reunion of the 391st Bombardment Group, held at Hilton Head Island, SC. It has been 32 years since Bud has seen his old service buddies and he said even though his red hair has turned to blonde gray, they all knew him instantly. It was a fun reunion. They flew to Savannah, GA, from Portland, where they rented a car, driving to SC, sightseeing along the way.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Kelly, Portland, were weekend visitors in Long Creek, where they visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bud McGirr. They arrived in Heppner Monday, visiting with Bob's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Saling, returning to Portland with Lena Kelly, Bob's mother, who will be staying with them for a while.

Dr. W.W. Wolff and Bill Rawlins certainly know about bulbs. Dr. Wolff expounded on daffodils, narcissi and jonquils, and Bill Rawlins shared facts about tulips with appreciative gardeners last Monday evening. They fielded all the questions Garden Club members asked. Bill Rawlins is sort of launching a one-man campaign to get more crocus plantings in this area.

Bernice Nash is feeling very proud of her grandson, Jody Jensen, La Grande, who has been awarded a 10-day trip to Washington, D.C. and New York by La Grande High School where he is a sophomore.

Methodist ladies are hunting through attics and trunks to find interesting historic clothing to wear to the church centennial events this weekend.

Going home with a deer and a weekend of visiting with Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Ball were Roger and Eileen Steiger, Portland.

Hearing Marsha Lovgren talk about pageantry in London was exciting. She described the royal coach and liveried footmen that came to the American Embassy to take our new ambassador, Ann Armstrong, to the palace to be received by Queen Elizabeth. The coach was upholstered with royal blue velvet.

Don't forget the big Soroptimist fall rummage sale at the fairgrounds pavilion building this Friday and Saturday. They will have some dandy bargains!

Episcopal convention

Five local persons will be attending the annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Eastern Oregon, October 22-24 in Canyon City.

Elected representatives attending the meet from All Saints Church in Heppner are Ned Clark and Robert Lowe. Other delegates are Robert Abrams, Pauline Winter and Theta Lowe, along with Kenneth D. Miller, Rector of the parish.

The convention will, among other things, elect lay and clergy representatives to the Diocesan Council and Standing Committee during the three-day session.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lankford

Haugen-Lankford has evening wedding

Hope Lutheran Church of Heppner was the setting for the evening wedding on October 1, uniting Pamela Ann Haugen and Clifford Lee Lankford in a double ring ceremony.

The bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. George Luciani, Echo. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lankford, Heppner.

Pastor Mark Johnson officiated the ceremony. Sandy Matheny was soloist and Doris Pitzer accompanied at the organ.

Calendar deadline

Alpha Theta Sorority is again sponsoring the Community Calendar. This offers a unique opportunity for every organization in the community to publicize their regular scheduled meetings and special events; also, it offers individuals an opportunity to list birthdays and anniversaries.

The calendars are on sale for $1 each and 25 cents a listing.

All proceeds from the sale of the calendars will be used for local philanthropic projects.

The deadline for receiving the listings is this Friday, October 15. For more information, please call Rita Harris at 676-5086 or Rosemark Parks at 676-5558, or any Alpha Theta member.

The Women's Aglow Fellowship will meet at Riverside High School, Boardman, on Tuesday, October 19, at 7:30 p.m.

The bride chose a street-length dress of beige knit and tie-belt. She wore a garland of blue starburst mum and baby's breath in her hair.

She carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations, baby's breath and blue streamers.

Sally Matheny, Heppner, was maid of honor. She also wore a street-length dress of knit, two piece blue and white variegated combination with a belt.

Steve Lankford, Heppner, was best man and ushers were John Luciani and Jim Lankford.

Irrigon

4-H night

4-H Promotion and Achievement Night for North Morrow County will be October 21 at 7:30 p.m. at the A.C. Houghton School in Irrigon.

Everyone is welcome to attend who may be interested in 4-H Clubs. 4-H members and their parents are urged to be there.

Birdine Tullis, County Extension Aide, will be present to explain the advantages of belonging to a 4-H Club and to tell about new clubs such as the 4-H Pet Club.

Rather than serving a dinner as in past years, ice cream sundaes will be served for refreshment.

The Rev. and Mrs. Russel Emerson, missionaries who have completed their first term of service in Korea, will minister at the Irrigon Assembly of God, Wednesday, October 13, at 7:00 p.m.

FFA auction

Heppner's Future Farmers of America will hold their annual Slave Auction tonight (Thursday) at Heppner High School.

All 55 members, 11 girls, 44 boys, and Hal Whitaker, advisor, will be sold to the highest bidder to perform eight hours of work.

The auction is slated for 7:30 p.m. at the HHS gym. Money will provide for FFA activities.

Engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. Don Bennett announce the engagement of their daughter, Judy, to Don Barber, of Ukiah, OR.

Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Barber, Ukiah, OR. He is employed by the Patterson Logging Co., Heppner.

Judy graduated from Heppner High School in 1974 and is employed by the U.S. Forest Service, stationed as an observer at Madison Lookout.

A November 20th wedding is planned at the Heppner United Methodist Church.

Judy Bennett

Deaths discounted

Six deaths Monday of elderly persons following Swine Flu vaccinations back east have been discounted as natural caused deaths by coroners, according to Pat Wright, county health nurse.

Wright said that deaths were not attributed to the vaccine. All had heart ailments.

Lexington News

Lee Wagonblast returned home last week from Odessa, WA, where she has been visiting her new grandson, Seth Andrew, who was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Wagonblast. The young man weighed 8 lbs. and six oz. and joins two brothers, Alex and Charlie. Grandmother is Lee Wagonblast, Lexington, and great grandmother is Carrie Wagonblast, The Dalles. Darton Brown, Pendleton, and Evelyn Brown, Hermiston, are the maternal grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Eng are the proud parents of Shad Dee, a son born at Pioneer Memorial Hospital, Heppner, last week. Shad weighed 7 lbs., 2 1/2 oz. and joins two brothers, Shawn and Shane. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Papineau and Agnes Nichols, Lexington.

Venice Hendrickson and Florence McMillan were weekend visitors of Mrs. Lee Francis, Baker. While they were there, they attended a family get together of the Harry Spence family, brother of Mrs. McMillan. They also attended the 67th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spence. The highlight of the anniversary was a congratulatory message from President and Mrs. Gerald Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nichols are settled in their new double wide mobile home located across from the Lexington airport. They moved to Lexington from Lone.

Mrs. Birdie Pappas returned Monday to her home in Fresno, CA, after a two week visit with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Klinger.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kruger, Portland, were weekend guests of Lee Wagonblast, Mrs. Pappas' sister.

Saturday, November 16, is the day to circle your calendar for the Rebekah pinochle party. This Thursday is the afternoon meeting for the Three Links Club. Also, Monday evening at 6:30 p.m. is the potluck dinner at the Lexington Grange. Let's not forget.

Re-Elect Paul W. Jones, Judge

Look at his Record in Morrow County

Roads:

Hard surface roads increased from 150-325 miles. Crushed rock roads from 400-600 miles. Morrow County has more miles than either Union or Baker Counties.

Development:

Negotiations with B.L.M. in 1965-67 resulted in sale of governmental land in Morrow County and made present agricultural development possible in Boardman and Irrigon areas.

He has cooperated with our 5 cities on streets and other municipal projects.

Under his leadership, the County Court has coordinated activities with the Port Commission and approved the current development in the Boardman-Irrigon area.

Roads under planned development include Wilson and Faler. A signal crossing at Patterson Ferry is in final stages of approval and the last link on the Bombing Range Road has been approved and the survey is underway. Morrow County built a clinic in Heppner and is negotiating a Federal Grant to erect a Health Center in Boardman.

Taxes:

Morrow County has never gone over the 6 per cent limitation for the General Fund support. The tax rate for all County services has declined from $3.92 per thousand in 1973 to $2.05 in 1976-77. With the growth of the Justice of Peace Court in Irrigon, new quarters must be found; Morrow County is right now accepting bids from contractors for a new office building in Irrigon.
