Arizona kinfolk visit Albert Wright home

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Weybright (Louise Wright) from Sun City, Arizona, have been recent county visitors. Mrs. Weybright is related to the Morrow County pioneer, Albert Wright. The Weybrights were guests in the homes of Albert and Beverly Wright and of Beth and Barton Clark.

Mrs. Weybright located her relatives here through correspondence which reached Mrs. Rachel Harnett, the museum curator. Mrs. Harnett told Beverly Wright about the inquiry and Beverly wrote to Louise Weybright and invited the Weybrights to come to visit here.

Mrs. Weybright's great grandfather was a brother of Albert Wright's. Her father was Elbridge, and he, Albert and Anson were three of the 11 children of Jephtha and Betsy (Emerson) Wright of New York State. Albert and his younger brother Anson came to Oregon by 1853, first settling at Oregon City. Elbridge remained in the east.

Beverly Wright says that the pioneer Albert Wright's Bible and other articles that came across the plains are in the ranch home on upper Rhea Creek where she and Albert live now. Along with the old Bible, the Wrights have 22 letters written between 1852 and 1871 by Jephtha Wright to his son Albert after Albert started his westward journey.

Before Mr. and Mrs. Weybright started their journey back to their Arizona home, the various Wright kin still living in Morrow County honored them with a potluck dinner at the Rhea Creek Grange Hall.
