GIRL SCOUTS CELEBRATE
The Junior Girl Scout Troop 627, Kinzua, entertained their mothers at a tasting tea in observance of Girl Scout Thinking Day, Feb. 22. The girls prepared snacks from foreign countries and displayed foreign items brought from their homes.

Observation of this Girl Scout holiday completed a list of ten requirements for earning a special Thinking Day Patch.

The troop now has ten members with the addition of three new members. They are Diana Johnson, Paula Muzzy and Lisa Johnson.

Ralph and Joann Wilson are enjoying a long visit with their son E4 MK3 John Wilson and their daughter, Vonna Anderson. John is stationed at Portsmouth, Va., with the Coast Guard. John and Vonna arrived a week ago. Vonna will return home to Oxnard, Calif., Friday. John plans to spend the rest of his month's leave with his parents.

Gwen and Ann Sharp spent the weekend at their place in Dayville. Also going to Dayville to help the Sharps were Steve Carnes and Randy Sharp. The four Kinzua people were joined by Helen Williams and seven other friends from Pilot Rock for a weekend "rock" party. The party was a real success and the Sharps will be putting in a lawn, if the water situation permits, thanks to the good efforts of the young people.

Carole Norris went to Bend Tuesday for dental care. She was able to return home on Wednesday.

Bruce Parret and the Gwen Sharp family are enjoying a visit from Rick Parret, Unity.

Steve Ball and a friend, Dennis Lov, met Steve's parents, Jack and Marge Ball, at the District Basketball Tournament in The Dalles Friday. The two boys returned to Port Lewis, Wash., Sunday.

Quite a few former area residents attended the tournament, along with a good portion of Fossil and Kinzua. Fans were treated to many hours of entertainment this season, thanks to the hard work of the young people and their coaches. Hope to see you in Baker giving your support to the Districts' "B" Champion Girls' Team.

Hallie Spivey was accompanied by Brenda Johnson, LuAnn Pike and her daughter

Jeanette when she went to Lone Sunday to visit her son and daughter-in-law, Daryl and Nancy Spivey.

Bonnie Campbell, Vi Slinkard and Hallie Spivey went to Cascade Locks Friday afternoon to join the many Wheeler basketball fans at the games. They were joined by Naomi Rice for the trip home.

Randy Sharp went to Unity Friday to visit friends. He returned home Sunday with two friends, Bruce Parret and Brian Bradford. Bruce will be working for Kinzua Corporation and staying with the Sharp family.

Paul and Gladys Muzzy went to Portland on Saturday to pick up their grandchildren,

Paula and Kevin Muzzy. The children's parents are Lyle and Elva Muzzy of Thorne Bay, Alaska. Kevin and Paula will finish the school year in Fossil while their home is being repaired. The double-wide mobile home had the roof torn off one side in a 100 mile per hour wind at Thorne Bay. While in Kinzua, the children will divide their time between their other grandparents, Bob and Vera Dyer, and the Muzzys.

Jack and Marge Ball were surprised Saturday by their son Steve and two of his friends, One T Patterson and John Hough, all from Port Lewis, Wash. The boys returned to camp Monday.
