

Vacation Bible School registration June 13

After weeks of careful planning, a large staff is ready to give the youngsters of this community a great week of Vacation Bible School.

Any child between four years of age and the freshman year of high school is welcome to attend, say the volunteer workers from the Episcopal, Lutheran and Methodist churches that are cooperating in this year's school.

Sandy Bennett and Robinai Riddle will teach the four and five-year group; Cathy Borgen and Carley Drake will have the kindergarteners; Shirley Connor and Valerie Cooley the first graders and Dianne Dollarhide and Jean Bennett the second graders.

Third and fourth graders will be under Lillie Mae Nistad and Mary Pat Lande; Joyce Van Buren will lead the fifth and sixth graders and Chris Borgen and Chuck Lutsch will take charge of the seventh and eighth graders.

Special support for the teachers will come from Liz Curtis with music; Elaine Miller in arts and crafts and the refreshment assistants Irene Plocharsky, Mary McLeod and Gail Hughes.

Registration will be handled by Vicki Tollefson, Anne Doherty and Gail Hughes; advertising is being supervised by Pauline Matheny and Shirley George; special baby-sitting and recreational assistance will be given by senior high students.

Registration is set for 8:30 a.m. Monday, June 13, at the Episcopal Church. Tuition will be $2.50 per child, with a maximum of $5.00 per family. No child will be turned away—registrars say they have plenty of scholarships.

Child Development Center readies for new location move

The Heppner Child Development Center will soon be moving into the building near the Willow Creek Country Club that was planned to be the Latter Day Saints Church. The building is owned by Paul Warren, who, along with several volunteers, have been painting and finishing the inside in preparation for its new occupants.

The Center has an on-going arts and crafts program for all ages including school age children. With parents' permission, children will be taken to and from the swimming pool for lessons this summer and will be offered an enjoyable morning, afternoon or all-day break from summer routines. Breakfast, a hot balanced lunch and two snacks are provided each day at a scheduled time.

The Board of Directors has been busy recently helping at the Lone Auction to raise money for carpeting the nursery.

College Place to host 9-day camp meeting

The members of the Heppner Seventh-day Adventist Church will be holding worship services the next two Saturdays, June 11 and 18, at the annual camp meeting of Adventists at College Place, Wash., along with more than 5,000 other church members and friends.

"This nine-day camp meeting will be a time of spiritual refreshment for our members," said Lloyd Perrin, pastor, before leaving Tuesday to help prepare for the event. "Each day we will have inspirational talks on marriage and the home, plus family workshops, youth activities and musical concerts. There will be classes in cooking with vegetarian food and recreational activities in addition to worship services," he said.

An interesting roster of speakers includes George Suhrie, who will present the history of our English Bible—complete with an unusual display of old Bibles and rare manuscripts. Each day there will be a pastors' panel discussion on last day delusions, which should tie in with Franklin Fowler's series on last day events. Walla Walla General Hospital will feature a Health Education Hour, presented by medical specialists. Plans for the week include much more, such as W.A. Fagal, speaker for the Faith for Today television program, which is seen here, and HMS Richards, speaker of the Voice of Prophecy radio broadcast which is heard here—sometimes.

While the term "camp meeting" survives from the 19th century, not all visitors to the Upper Columbia camp meeting will stay in tents (though some are planning to do just that).

"Some people will stay in dormitory rooms," said Perrin, "while others will bring trailers. Many families will spend their summer vacation in this wholesome rural atmosphere."

"Our community friends are cordially invited to attend all or part of the week's meetings," he added. "There will be no scheduled church service the Sabbaths of June 11 and 18 in Heppner."
