

Becky Evans retires horse show trophy

Style and poise set the tone for the day as the 1977 Morrow County Fair and Rodeo was launched with the county Open Class Horse Show Sunday.

For the third consecutive year, Becky Evans, riding Ricki Tee 7 Critique, took home the Champion All Around Performance Horse trophy—and this time she gets to keep it. Becky and her mount retired the trophy donated by Floyd and Lorena Jones after achieving the rare triple winner feat.

The team racked up the highest point total by placing first in the Western Pleasure Class, Reining Class and Cloverleaf Barrels Class while taking second in the Working

Cow Horse Class.

Krynn Robinson was named Reserve Champion of the show as she rode Son Uva Dun to a first place in the Working Cow Horse Class, second in Cloverleaf Barrels and third in both the Western Pleasure and Reining Classes.

A total of 65 contestants and 80 horses performed throughout the day before the practiced eye of Judge Nancy Mitchell from Walla Walla. Ringmaster Howard Bryant, Announcer Charlie Daly and Superintendents Annie Schwarz, Jeanne Grant and Mary Kilkenny kept the action moving as a large Sunday crowd enjoyed the variety of events.

Becky Evans shows championship form going over the fence and the smiling face of Debora Palmer is characteristic of all contestants.
