Give a cheer with the ladies here

In addition to their usual duties of spurring the Mustangs on to victory each Friday, the Heppner High School cheerleaders have found themselves extra busy this week.

Acting as hostesses for Homecoming the five girls have been generating added spirit all week at pep assemblies and other activities. Led by Marie Yocom, the squad includes Tammy Lucas, Joycelyn Thorpe, Rosanna Marlatt and Laurie Harrison, all juniors.

Each week these girls put as much enthusiasm and energy into their sideline activities as the team on the field. Routines are planned, choreographed and practiced to perfection by the girls, whose contagious spirit would spur any team to give their all.

Three of the cheerleaders,

Marie, Laurie, and Tammy, are athletes in their own right as teammates on the Fillies varsity volleyball team.

Their blue and gold uniforms, which add much to the aesthetic appeal of the squad, were earned by working this summer at the fair and rodeo as ticket takers.

The idea that Heppner has one of the best cheerleading squads in the state is not merely an illusion of local pride. At the International Cheerleading Foundation camp this summer in Eugene, the Heppner girls competed against 50 other schools from six different states. Cheering their way into the Grand Championship finals, the squad placed third.

A boost to any team's morale, Heppner's cheerleaders will put victory several steps closer this Friday night.
