

Patients tour county museum

Twenty-seven persons from the Eastern Oregon State Hospital and Training School at Pendleton came to Heppner last Friday to view the Morrow County Museum and to look around town.

Staff members Dr. Metivier, Hazel Murphy, Warren Scherick, Darlene Abney and Rick Hoisington, who accompanied the patients, all said that the tour was promoted by a patient, a former Heppner resident, Rheinart Sandvig. They said that "Sandy" kept telling them how fine the museum is, about the city park and about Heppner generally.

The large state bus parked across from the museum and the entire group toured the facility. Each of the patients enjoyed different exhibits although the animal room probably received the most attention. Some of the men were interested in the coin collection while others enjoyed the gun display. The women most admired the room exhibits and the manikins in old costumes. Everyone liked the Bicentennial quilt.

After leaving the museum, the group walked up Main Street to West of Willow for lunch. One patient who had hauled freight from The Dalles to the Thomson Brothers store here quite a few years back renewed acquaintances with storeowner Jim Thomson.

The entire group seemed pleased with their visit which took place on a beautiful, sunny day. The Morrow County Mental Health Office made arrangements for the tour several weeks in advance and Sate Hospital Staff people said they would plan to bring patients here again.

Tour guide Justine Weatherford, second from left, showed patients from the Eastern Oregon Hospital and Training Center in Pendleton around the Morrow County Museum on Oct. 21. Rheinart Sandvig, a former Heppner resident, instigated the visit.

Hospital Notes

BIRTHS

The Morrow County stork, in his busiest week in a long time, delivered three bundles of joy to Pioneer Memorial Pioneer Hospital.

A son was born to proud parents Mr. and Mrs. George Ross Schmittle, Lexington, on Thursday, Oct. 20 at 10:36 a.m. They named their first-born Jarrad Regis Donald. The new Schmittle weighed in at 7 pounds 7 1/2 ounces.

Grandparents are Dorene Hager, Downey, Cal.; Joseph Hager, Santa Fe Springs, Cal.; Margie Hager, Santa Fe Springs, Cal.; and Ada Schmittle, Cudahy, Cal.

Great-grandparents of the new baby include Winona Humphreys, Santa Fe Springs, Cal.; Ann Hager, Downey, Cal.; and Soddy Lorand, Whittier, Cal. Great-grandmother is Anna Schmidt of Whittier, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bernard Greiner of Mayville are the happy parents of a daughter, Kristie Lynn, born Friday, Oct. 21 at 6:15 p.m. She weighed 8 pounds 13 ounces at birth.

Kristie's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Verlin Mathews of Heppner; and Mr. and Mrs. George Eaton, Condon. Her great grandmothers are Jessie Furlong, Heppner, and Florence Greiner, Mt. Angel.

Andrea Joy was the name chosen by proud Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Miles, Heppner, for a daughter born at 2:50 a.m. on Sunday, Oct. 23. She weighed in at 7 pounds 11 ounces.

Grandparents of the new Miles family addition are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Figgelkow, Scobey, Montana; and Ethel Dunbar, Lexington.

Youths seek canned goods

Heppner Seventh-day Adventist youngsters won't be soaping windows this Halloween.

They will turn their trick-and-treating to others and not themselves by soliciting canned goods to be put into Thanksgiving baskets later.

Carolyn Holt, director of youth activities, said the youth want to devote their time to the interest of others this year.

"We encourage our youngsters in this project because it centers their thoughts on persons who need help. We want them to be able to respond to the needs of others in practical ways," said Holt, who is also Juvenile Director for Morrow County.

Any community youth who would like to join in the can-collecting fun are invited to meet at 5:30 p.m. October 31, in the Seventh-Day Adventist gymnasium. Hot drinks and games will follow the evening excursion.

Adventists begin annual Week of Prayer meetings

October 29 to November 5 has been set aside by the World Seventh-day Adventist church as their annual week of prayer. Heppner members will be meeting every evening at 7:30 p.m. at the church to hear devotional talks on the Second Advent.

"Be ready" is the theme of the week," says Lloyd Perrin, pastor. "Each program focuses on what we believe to be the soon-coming Advent of our Saviour, Jesus Christ. That's the reason for the second part of our church name, Seventh-day Adventist."

The evening topics are: Advent: Sunday, the Certainty of the Advent; Monday, The Nearness of the Advent; Tuesday, The Purpose of the Advent; Wednesday, Preparation for the Advent; Thursday, Proclaiming the Advent; Friday, Prepared for the Advent; and Saturday at 11 a.m., Beyond the Advent.

Community friends are invited to come and share.

Lutheran youth in lone for Halloween

Valby and Heppner Lutheran youth will be trick-or-treating in lone on the night of the spooks and hobgoblins.

They're not asking for candy, though, they're asking for donations to help victims of disaster around the world. The money they raise will go to Lutheran World Relief.

The kids decided on this charity because L.W.R. directly distributes aid to people hit by disaster and because the organization spends very little money on itself—only six per cent of all funds are used for administration or publicity.

The kids will have a letter embossed with the Lutheran church's seal to identify themselves.

Ritual of Divorce to be explained

"The Ritual of Divorce," an experimental United Methodist liturgy, will be explained by Rev. Steve Tollefson at the Nov. 2 meeting of the United Methodist women in the Heppner church basement. All persons interested are invited to come and learn of this new church thinking concerning a contemporary phenomenon.

Rev. Tollefson states that the creation of this liturgy by the church "Does not imply encouragement of divorce, but does recognize the realities of divorce. It is a very traumatic experience for both principals and for children. Until now the church has offered counseling prior to divorce but has not been ministering to persons during and after a divorce situation. The United Methodist Church offers this experimental ritual in response to Christ's charge to his followers to aid all who suffer."

A very brief business meeting will consider the report of the group's nominating committee concerning the election of next year's officers.

Ella Smith will be hostess for the meeting and Justine Weatherford, U.M.W. president, will conduct the business session.

Youth fellowship to canvas area

Members of the Heppner United Methodist Senior Youth Fellowship along with their advisors will be canvassing the homes of the community for Trick or Treat contributions to UNICEF (the United Nations Children's Fund) on Sunday afternoon, October 30.

After completing their solicitation, the youth and advisors will gather at the Arnie Hedman home on Church Street for dinner and an evening of fun.
