

Virgil Morgan, Debbie Rios united in Ione

More than 200 guests gathered at the United Church of Christ in Ione on Saturday, Sept. 3, to celebrate the wedding of Debbie Anne Rios, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heideman, to Virgil Lloyd Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Morgan, all of Ione. The Rev. William Graham officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride's gown was designed of candlelight ivory satin organza, featuring princess style bodice and long fitted sleeves enhanced with beaded cluny lace. The applied skirt flounced into a cathedral length train with small mantilla fingertip veil edged in cluny lace completing the bridal outfit.

The bride wore a family heirloom cameo brooch necklace belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Vera Woody of Connell, Wash., and carried a nosegay bouquet of burgundy and pink roses accented with ivory baby's breath and burgundy ribbon.

The bride's attendants included her sister Mrs. Loa Stevens, Tacoma, Wash. matron of honor; Mrs. Bonnie Ball, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Della Heideman of Garfield, Wash. and Mrs. Tonya Heideman of Ione, sisters-in-law of the bride, acted as bridesmaids. Each wore an evening gown of burgundy velvet and pink satin with a gold locket engraved with pink roses, a gift from the bride.

Best man was Joe Halverson, while Dana Heideman, brother of the bride, Ron Palmateer and Frank Halverson served as ushers. Brian Ball, nephew of the groom, acted as ring bearer, while Duane Davidson and Jennifer Paavola, nephew and niece of the groom, were candlelighters.

Kari Anne Rios, daughter of the bride, and Brandi Ball, niece of the groom, were flowergirls.

The mother of the bride wore an evening dress of mint green print silky satin, while the mother of the groom wore an evening gown of yellow print chiffon over satin for the occasion. Mrs. Roy Smith, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Paul Pettyjohn, aunt of the groom, served cake at the reception, with Mrs. Elizabeth Tucker, Spokane, aunt of the bride, serving punch and Mrs. Gladys Drake, Ione, aunt of the groom, serving coffee.

Mrs. Stanley Woody, Connell, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Jim Paavola, Portland, sister of the groom officiated at the gift table, while Mrs. Jerry Davidson, sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book.

Handing corsages and boutonnières was Mrs. John Eubanks, Ione, aunt of the groom. Passing out the grooms' cake and wheat bags at the reception were La-Dawna Davidson and Krista Paavola, nieces of the groom.

Mrs. Doug Drake, Heppner, played the organ and pianist was Mrs. Bill Rietmann of Ione. Soloist was matron of honor and sister of the bride Mrs. Loa Stevens.

Grandmothers of the bride attending were Mrs. A.H. Heideman, Spokane, and Mrs. Vera Woody, Connell. Earl Morgan, Ione, and Mrs. Mattie Morgan, Canyonville, grandparents of the groom were also present.

After a trip to the Oregon coast, the newly wed couple are making their home in Ione.

Grand Squares host annual dance

The American Legion Hall in Heppner was the festive scene for the annual Christmas Dance of the Grand Squares on Friday, Dec. 16, at 8 p.m.

The Rocket Squares of Pendleton joined the local square dancing club in promenading to the Grand Squares' callers Darrel Wilson, Ron Davis and Don Wood.

Homemade fudge, Christmas decorations and a tree provided a backdrop for the lively affair.

A gift exchange of "a pound of something" was accompanied by a grand march around the tree. Gifts ranged from pinto beans to Elmers glue.

In addition to other refreshments, homemade ice cream was provided by George and Lorene Griffith and Lloyd and Shirley McNary.

Club treasurer Daisy Collins presented a gift from the club to caller Darrel Wilson and his wife, Bev.
