Don and Rose Hardwick left last Monday on a week long trip that included a visit with his parents Mr. and Mrs. John Hardwick at their home in Bend before going on to Portland where the Camp Five couple were to take care of some business. Eugene was the next stop for the busy pair. They attended the Oregon Logging Conference while in Eugene. Don is a director of the Logging Conference.

Jack and Margie Ball went to Pendleton Saturday for a weekend with their son Dennis and his wife Kris. They also visited with Bob and Lucille Reavis in the Roundup City. The Reavises will be remembered by many Kinzua and Fossil people. They are former residents, living in this area while Bob was employed at Kinzua as an electrician. Jack and Margie stopped in Heppner on their trip home to see Leon and Jean Ball and Randy. Jackie Nickelsen, Cindi and John Weaser, Sharon and Smokey Smiley went to Bend Thursday to observe the operation of the emergency room

County Court mulls joint juvenile project

A public hearing was held by the Morrow County Court at its Irrigon office on Wednesday, Feb. 22, on the proposed increase of certain fees for solid waste franchise operators providing service to areas outside the incorporated city limits of the county. No one appeared for or against the increase and it was approved by the Court.

Another public hearing was held on the same day to amend the comprehensive plan of Boardman to include an urban growth area for the city. The amendment was adopted with no one appearing for or against.

Don Burns, East Central Oregon Association of Counties (ECOAC) representative, and Carolyn Holt, Morrow County juvenile officer, discussed with the Court a proposal for a grant for a joint juvenile project between Morrow and Umatilla Counties. The grant application would be for $20,000, two-thirds of which would go for Umatilla County and one-third to Morrow County to provide a juvenile counselor for the Boardman and Irrigon areas for two days a week. The Court signed the application for the project.

The court attended an informational luncheon meeting on Feb. 22 pertaining to operation of the Boardman Medical Clinic. Boardman Mayor Jerry Peck, architect Gary Gunderson and attorney Jim Remsen, representing Cal-Fuhrman Development Co., answered questions posed by the approximately 35 persons who attended the meeting. Raising additional funds to purchase an X-ray unit was also discussed.

Irrigon Mayor Vernon Stewart met with the Court to discuss the county-wide need for dog control. The possibility of obtaining funds for building a dog shelter on land donated in the Irrigon area was considered. It was decided the matter would be referred to the next Inter-governmental council meeting which has not yet been scheduled.

and several other sections at St. Charles Hospital as part of their EMT I training. Ed Struwe, FNP, instructor of the course accompanied students. Another group of prospective EMT's plan to visit the hospital in March.

Arden and Marian Tripp and son Bill were in The Dalles Saturday on business.

Burl and Dorothy Murdock ended their long visit to the lower 48 states Friday when they started back to their Willow, Alaska home.

Hershel and Betty Murdock and their houseguests, Ron and Kathrine Williams, went to The Dalles for some sightseeing Friday. Sunday they went to Bend to attend the District Flint Tournament. Also present from the Wheeler Archery Club were the members of the Handicap Team; Virginia Sitton, John Weaser, Mickey Sharp and Verlin Conner; Youth team members Rob Conlee and Pat Bell; individual shooters Lavina Conner and DeWayne McClain. The shoot, which was to be held at the Bend Bowman's Indoor Range, was cancelled when the power went off and stayed off. It has been reset for Sunday, March 5, in Bend. A potluck dinner will also be held.

Jiggs and Rita Bowman and Cindy and their guest Troy Jones were in Prineville visiting with the Dave Rineys. Saturday was spent in Bend where the Bownmans had eye care appointments. Sunday found the group at Mt. Bachelor where Dave, Sara, Cindy and Troy enjoyed the fine skiing conditions.
