

Students rate in Career Skills Contest

Two of the three high schools in Morrow County have received results from the Career Skills contest held in Pendleton on April 19, with students from the county making a good showing.

Out of 32 Ione High School students competing in the various skills categories, eight earned white ribbons, given to only 10 per cent of the participants; 10 won red ribbons (20 per cent); four earned white ribbons (30 per cent); while the remaining students were given certificates of participation.

In the record keeping contest, Natalie Tews, Grace McElligott and Arletta Aldrich won blue ribbons, while Robin Leavitt earned a white. Jan Peterson rated a blue ribbon in the job interview contest, and Vernon Kennedy brought home a white in the math merchandising division.

Tool identification blue ribbon winners were Carol McElligott, and Dan McElligott. Gregg Rietmann, Matt McElligott, John Lindstrom, and Bruce Millman brought home red ribbons; and Mike Leavitt won a white in that contest. Stuart Keene and Marvin Johnson both rated red ribbons for their showing in the auto tune-up contest, while Rick Doherty won a red in beginning mechanical drawing and Bruce Millman a white in the hand tools competition.

Tana Hams earned a blue ribbon and Kim Pettyjohn a red in the table setting contest.

Approximately 25 Riverside High School students participated in the Career Skills Contest, several in more than one competition.

In the math merchandising division, Pat Sharkey earned a blue ribbon; Anne Alston, Kris Baker, Kellie Broadbent, Joe Daltoso, Lori Witt, Dana Prag and Scott Witt brought home red; and white went to Buddy Mills and Dan Bozarth.

Kellie Broadbent rated a blue ribbon in the job interview contest; Debbie Pettigrew, red; and Linda Mills, Sabrina Murray and Karen Hester, white. Anne Alston won a red ribbon in the story telling competition.

Certificates of participation in the shorthand contest went to Erin Evans, Vicki Daniels, Sabrina Murray, Joan Hartlow and Debbie Pettigrew. Andrea Hadley and Judy Danies were given certificates in the accounting division, as were Carol Ann Donovan, Tracy Johnson, Buddy Mills, Wes Haws, Pat Sharkey, Lori Witt and Lori Russell in the beginning typing contest. Karen Hester and Linda Mills were also given certificates for participation in advanced typing competition.

Results from the contest for Heppner High School were not available at press time but will be printed next week.

Final HHS track workday is Saturday

More than a year of community effort spearheaded by the Heppner Lions will culminate Saturday with the final work day scheduled for improvements at the Heppner High School track.

Volunteers are needed to help unload and place sod around the recently installed curbing at the track. The Earth Carpet turf is being donated by Eric Anderson and both Morrow County Grain Growers and Pat Cutsforth will be donating time and equipment for hauling the sod.

Kinzua Corp. will supply a loader for the day and all interested persons are encouraged to lend a hand. Work will begin about 8:30 a.m. Saturday.

Local BMCC classes rate good response

More than 160 students have enrolled in BMCC spring term classes now underway in the area. Nancy Brownfield, south Morrow County coordinator for the evening division, called the enrollment a "very good response."

Starting with the next fall term, schedules for BMCC classes to be offered will not be printed in the Gazette-Times as has been the case in the past but will be mailed to every household in Umatilla and Morrow Counties two to three weeks prior to the start of the term. Pre-registration forms will be included in the schedule and will also be available from Mrs. Brownfield.

The fall 1978 schedule is now in the planning stage and Mrs. Brownfield asks area residents to call her for information of particular class requests at 676-5039.

According to Mrs. Brownfield, 15 of the 31 different classes currently offered, were initiated by requests from interested community members.

She said 33 students out of approximately 360 attending classes during the three terms were enrolled in the transfer credit courses, which included geography, literature, painting and history. Requests for transfer classes of general community interest would especially be appreciated, the coordinator said.

Slave auction nets FFA $1638

The sale of 'slaves' at the FFA Slave Auction held on April 6 netted the Heppner chapter $1,638, all going to finance club trips and activities. The average price paid for eight-hours of labor from each FFAer at the auction was $36.40.

Judy Gochnaer, substituting for advisor Hal Whitaker, was the highest price slave, selling to Orville Cutsforth for $150. Cutsforth also bought four other slaves, and plans to take his all-girl FFA crew to the mountains to plant trees.

Others bringing top dollar were Jackie Mollahan, who went to Kinzua Corporation for $60; Geri Grieb, bought by Columbia Basin for $60; and Ken Grieb, sold to Virginia Grieb for $50.

Studs off by Monday

The Oregon Department of Transportation reminds motorists that the use of studded tires on highways within the state is forbidden by statute after April 30. Motorists are asked to remove their studded tires as soon as possible to avoid damage to the road surface. The department also said the road condition telephone service, operated in cooperation with the State Police in Portland, Medford, Klamath Falls, and Eugene, would be discontinued for the summer on April 30.
