The Kinzua TOPS Club is still holding weekly meetings at Jeffmore Hall every Monday evening. The weigh-in period is from 6:30 to 7:00 and is followed by the club's business meeting.

An invitation is extended to any area resident who is interested in Taking Off Pounds Sensibly to come to the club meeting or call Marian Tripp at 768-2282, Sandy Williamson 768-2945 or Barb Pike 768-2861.

The ladies whose husbands are with Hardwick Logging were very busy June 13. The ladies prepared and served lunch for the 26 banking and industrial leaders from all over the state who took part in the Wheeler County Resources Tour.

After lunch at the Camp Five Hall the group toured the operations at Hardwick Logging and visited Kinzua Corporation's tree thinning project.

Rita and Cindy Bowman went to Arlington a week ago on Thursday to meet Mr. and Mrs. Rademacher and sons. The two boys, Joey and Brooks, returned to Kinzua with the Bowmans where they are visiting while their parents are in Hawaii. Friday evening Rita, Jiggs, Cindy and the two Rademacher boys weekend with Dave and Sara Riney. Cindy stayed in Prineville to visit with her sister and brother-in-law. This last Sunday Brian Say, Prineville, drove Cindy and his sister Norma to Kinzua where Norma will be a guest at the Bowman home. While here Norma will join Cindy in attending the basketball clinic being held this week in Condon.

Ray and Joyce Cody enjoyed a visit Sunday from Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Byers, Camas, Wash.

Linda Vorres, Sheridan, is spending the summer with Don and Rose Hardwick. Miss Vorres, a student at Oregon State, will be working in the Hardwick Logging company office while staying at Camp Five.

Dick and Doris Hull have moved to The Dalles where Mr. Hull is employed as a truck driver.

Jack and Margie Ball have also moved from Kinzua. They are now living in Lexington. The move should cut down on the time Jack will spend commuting to his job at the Kinzua Mill in Heppner.

Arden and Marian Tripp and son Bill were in The Dalles Wednesday for Arden's medical checkup. Arden is recovering well from his recent surgery.

Sharon Kendall and daughters Patti and Brenda went to Pendleton Tuesday evening. Sharon and Brenda returned home Thursday. Patti stayed in the Roundup City to visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Melburn Harris.

Don and Rose Hardwick went to Bend last Sunday to attend the piano recital presented at Central Oregon Community College. The recital was given by the 13 students of Theresa Hardwick. Mrs. Hardwick is Don's mother.

You may have noticed that this column didn't appear last week. My husband, Don, and I were in Casper, Wyo. to attend the funeral of Don's father, Orvis Pike, who passed away

Ackley directs summer business ventures

Youthful capitalism hopes to find a summer home in Heppner, as HHS Band Director Jim Ackley will temporarily put down his baton to take the helm of four small business ventures.

The first enterprise, already underway, is Ackley Upholstery. Two high school students are currently in Ack-ley's employ, refurbishing furniture and repairing vehicle upholstery. "We do the work at my house," said Ackley, who has 8 years experience in the field. "We have sample swatches and books to choose materials from."

Ackley's second endeavor will be James Ackley Associates, a part-time mail order business. A variety of items will be marketed through ads to be placed in area newspapers and magazines. Eastern Oregon will be the enterprise's focal point.

The third summer business of the band director will be the vacation continuation of the Jim Ackley Band. "We're trying to increase the size and quality of the band, by holding auditions for new members this fall. We are looking for singers, preferably ones who can also play an instrument."

In the meantime, the band will continue to perform on a part-time basis through the summer.

The high school teacher will also continue his Jim Ackley Entertainment Co., to promote dances and book bands for the coming school year.

Persons wishing to make use of Ackley's various enterprises are urged to contact him at 676-5591.
