Kinzua news

Barbara Pike 768-2861

Mid the haze of heat and dust, the dog days of August have come too soon.

This August is different from all the past Augusts here in Kinzua. The sounds of children's voices are almost never heard and the heat-induced pall found in most small towns on late summer days has been replaced by the sound of hammers and wrecking bars, as house after house is reduced to piles of boards and heaps of rubble.

The sightseers lured to town by the news stories have come and gone, now the traffic is moving vans and pickups loaded with household goods on their way to new homes.

Those still living here and in Camp Five have been busy with much coming and going as usual. Don and Rose Hardwick are one of the busiest couples in the area. Wednesday, they left for Sitka, Alaska, stopping enroute in Portland and Seattle. In Sitka they attended the meeting of the directors of the Pacific Logging Congress. Don and Rose were back in Portland on Saturday where they were met by their son, Donny, and Linda Vorres. Donny and Linda had been visiting in Sheridan for the weekend.

Sharon Hetzel, niece of Marty Wallis, is visiting here with Marty and her family for several weeks. Sharon made the trip from her home in Seattle to The Dalles on Amtrack. Bruce Pike met her at the station and brought her to Kinzua.

Sue Mattison and daughters, Jodi and Robin, returned home Friday from Baker where they spent a week visiting Sue's parents, Harvey and Kitty Spivey. Harvey, who has been gone most of the summer visiting a daughter in Alaska arrived home on Thursday.

Betty Lewis and Rita Bowman were in The Dalles Wednesday for medical attention. They stopped in Prineville at the Dave Riney home to pick up Cindy Bowman on their way home.

Arden and Marian Tripp and son Bill went to the Maryhill Park at Maryhill, Wash. to attend a reunion of the Brons family. Marian and her family enjoyed the picnic and visiting with members of her family.

Chuck and Patti Constantin, Portland, arrived in Kinzua Wednesday to visit with her parents Don and Barbara Pike. Saturday morning Patti and Barbara went to Arlington to pick up LuAnn Pike who is spending the summer working in Baker. That evening was spent watching the midget car races at the Umatilla Speedway. Sunday LuAnn left by bus for basketball camp at Cheney, Wash.

Jiggs and Rita Bowman had another busy weekend with out-of-town family Ron and Ginger Bowman, Heppner, who arrived Friday evening. They went to Bend Saturday for eye care and returned to stay with his parents for the rest of the weekend. Friday evening Jiggs and Rita met Dave and Sara Riney and Richard Kludt at the junction. Richard returned to Kinzua with the Bownmans while the Rineys went on to Condon to stay a while with his family. Sunday morning Jiggs, Rita, Cindy and Richard picked up Suzy Brooks in Fossil and went to The Dalles where they met Joe and Robin Bowman and Erika, Portland. Joe and Robin returned to Portland with Cindy and Suzy. The two girls will attend cheerleader school this week. Young Erika came back to Kinzua with her grandparents to visit for a week. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bowman, Echo, also joined the family group in Kinzua on Sunday.

Rob and Scott Conlee, sons of Steve and Roberta Conlee, are both on the injury list. Last Monday Rob broke his foot. It was Thursday before the swelling went down enough to put the cast on it. Saturday, Scott fell and struck his chin on the edge of a step. The resulting cut took four stitches to close. Roberta's sister and family, Loraine and Floyd Wilson and children from Umatilla were here this weekend to visit and pick up their son Lloyd who had been visiting the Conlees this last week.
