4-H STATE FAIR EXHIBITS
All 4-H exhibitors whose articles were sent to Oregon State Fair may now pick them up at the extension office in Heppner. We see many blue and champion ribbons attached to articles, and congratulate all those whose exhibit helped make the state 4-H fair a success.

4-H NIGHT PLANNED FOR NORTH END

Thursday, September 21, 8 p.m. is the date, time, and the place is A.C. Houghton School, Irrigon, for all north Morrow residents to learn about 4-H opportunities, as well as participate in the recognition of members involved last year.

Special program will include a potluck dinner, program by 4-H members, recognition of achievements and presentation of 4-H pins, as well as opportunities to see some of the articles made by 4-H'ers in their projects, and learn about 4-H membership.

4-H is a family affair, so we encourage the attendance of families, neighbors, and friends. The event is for everyone interested.

COMMUNITY PRIDE CONFERENCE AT KAH-NEE-TA

Applications to attend the Oregon Pride Conference at Kah-Nee-Ta are now being taken at the Morrow Extension office. The conference, planned for October 22-24, is held every two years. 4-H members eligible to attend are 10th, 11th, and 12th graders. Morrow may send two delegates, and an adult or chaperone interested in community affairs. Older boys and girls should call John or Birdine for more information at 678-9642.

LOIS REDMAN TO LEAVE OSU EXTENSION

Lois Redman, OSU Extension 4-H and Youth Specialist, has resigned her position in Oregon as of September 22, and will leave for a similar position in Kansas. Lois is well known to most local leaders and members, for her dedication to the international program, as well as home economics and the camping program. Our best wishes go with Lois to her new job, which takes her closer to home and relatives in Missouri, but we feel a part of the "H" for heart in 4-H goes with her. Her dedication to Oregon 4-H knew no limits, and all 4-H will miss her.

TWO GUESTS FROM ENGLAND COMING

The Gary Grieb and Jerry Myers families are preparing for the arrival of guests from England on September 15. Each family will host a young man interested in learning about a wide variety of agricultural crops and practices, as well as livestock. Arrangements were made for the special exchange by Danita St. Peter, a former IFYE, who knew Morrow county, offered just what the two were looking for in both hospitality and experiences.

HOME EXTENSION EVENTS BEGIN IN SEPTEMBER

Things are already under way in the Homemaker program, with study group officers attending a training workshop the past week, along with those from Umatilla County.

Program Development Committee and Homemakers Advisory Group will also be meeting in September. Many events are planned for the immediate future, with the first being a very special program open to all— "Food From The Sea." We are fortunate to have a group from Astoria, "Fishermen's Wives," coming to eastern Oregon to present demonstrations on seafood cookery, varieties of seafoods, care and purchase of seafood, and many other items of interest regarding the fishing industry.

Mark September 27, 2 p.m., the Annex, fairgrounds, Heppner, as the event you won't want to miss this fall. Lots of free recipes and information, no charge to attend, and everyone is welcome.

CREATIVE ARTS DISPLAY AT STATE FAIR

A special thanks to 4-H members who provided items for an unjudged display at State Fair featuring many ideas for creative arts projects. The items were used in a impressive display in the state 4-H building, along with a slide-tape narration telling of the opportunities for youth in the creative arts projects.

Sharing their creative projects were: Jan Peterson, a wide variety of craft and creative ideas; Jeanine Elsass and Ann Evans, ceramics; Jyl Hobbs, string art; Ken Curtis, applehead dolls; Ann Evans, puppets and rubbings of Indian petroglyphs; Becky Hobbs, macrame, as well as origami by our Japanese visitors and their hosts families.

Creative arts is one of the fastest growing project areas offered through 4-H, with many new ideas being incorporated into the program to provide productive leisure time activities for both youth and families. Leathercraft and Tole painting were two of the original projects offered in creative arts, and now many others have been added!

Humane Society thrift shop opens doors in Heppner garage

Maybe you have noticed the Thrift Shop in the May Street-Alley corner of Heppner's old Ford Garage. It is patterned after similar shops in Pendleton and Hermiston and is an effort of the Morrow-Umatilla County Humane Society. Animal lovers have hoped for some time to have an active humane group working here. They are hoping to raise funds so that some sort of animal shelter for abandoned dogs and other small animals could be provided.

Jack Vaisden, Irrigon City Manager, is the president of the two-county humane Society. He has been here to help promote the growth of the society.

Like the thrift shops in Pendleton and Hermiston, the shop here will sell inexpensive, donated clothing. It needs clothing and other runnige articles, clothes hangers, and large grocery bags and especially more volunteer workers. So far, Hazel Carr and Sally Wilson have been the chief shopkeepers.
